APOLOGY

For the Liberties of the Churches in

New England:

To which is prefix'd,

A Discourse concerning Congregational Churches. &

By SAMUEL MATHER, M.A.

Paftor of a Church in Boston, New England.

Sed tamen meorum Periculorum Rationes Utilitas Respublica vincat, CICER. Orne. IV. in Catalin.

Delicatus Amator est CHRISTUS: Non potest amare Synagogam priseis Ceremoniis ac vetusta Legis studio rugosam.— Quod aberrat a sacris Voluminibus non est CHRISTI.—— Sed falsa Scripturarum Interpretatio vera Interpretatione refutanda eft.

DESIDER. ERASM. Roterod. Symbol. Catechef. IV.

Require of Christians only to believe in CHRIST, and to call no Man Master but Him only: Let those leave claiming Infallibility, that have no Right to it; and let them, that im their Words disclaim it, disclaim it likewise in their Actions? In a Word, take away Tytanny, which is the Devil's Instrument to support Errors and Superstitions and Impieties in the several Parts of the World, which could not otherwise withstand the Power of Truth: I say, take away Tytanny, and restore Christians to their just and full Liberty of captivating their Understandings to the Scripture only; that universal Liberty, thus moderated, may quickly reduce Christendome to Teuth and Unity.

CHILLINGWORTH, Part I. Chap. IV. Sect. 16-

BOSTON:

Printed by T. Fleet, for DANIEL HENCHMAN, overagainst the Brick Meeting House in Cornhill, 1738.

MYOLOGA

For the Libertics of the Churches in Non Angland:

A Discourse concerning one of the organisms.

One Congress all and Civing on

BY SAMDEL MATHER, MA.

Refler of a Church in Below, West Incient.

The rate of the contract of th

PESIDER, ZRASM. Rotered Med butte many. Mood

The Market of Ma

Wards has been as a color of the color of the color of the wards have been as a color of the col

To the Honorable

Mr. HOLDEN,

One of the Directors of the Bank of England.

At London.

Honorable Sir,

Flatter my self, that You will not think it any Dishonor to You to be own'd as a Friend of New-England, especially in its best, its religious, Interests: And for this Reason I venture to dedicate the following Performance to You; desiring You to receive it as an Acknowledgment of Your many good and kind Offices towards us.

It may not be amiss to inform You, that many Eminent Persons, besides Your self, in our Mother-Kingdom have thought savourably concerning us and shew'd their Readiness to serve us. The catholic and excellent Dr. Tillotson, from his good Opinion of us, frequently concern'd himself for the Welfare of New-England, and intreated His Majesty King William to shew the Marks of his peculiar Favour towards his faithful Subjects here, and once particularly was so free as to declare in the Audience of his Majesty, that it would by no Means do well for Him to take away from

DEDICATION.

from the People of New-England any of their Privileges. And the meritorious Bishop of Salisbury, Dr. BURNET, belides many other weighty Expressions of his Kindness to New-England, was once so good as to profess before Dr. MATHER my honored Grandfather, that be would on the first Opportunity declare openly in the House of Lords, that there was a greater Sacredness in the Charter of New-England than in those of the Corporations in England; because these were only Acts of Grace; whereas the Charter of New-England was a Contract between the King and the first Patentees: They promised the King to anlarge his Dominions on their own Charges, provided that they and their Posterity might enjoy such and such Privileges: And They had perform'd their Part: Now for the King to deprive their Posterity of the Privileges therein granted to them, it would carry the Face of Injustice in it. And the good old Lord WHAR-Ton, the last furviving Member of the famous Affembly of Divines that met at Westminster, whose Name should be very dear to every true New-Englift Man, upon presenting a Petition for New-England by my honored Grandfather, who was then in the Agency for this Province, was pleas'd to fay with great Zeal and Earnestness to the King, that, if he were sure to die the next Day, he would, as be now did, appear in behalf of this Country and follicit bis Favour for it. And, when one, from whom I have the Honour of immediately descending, wrote an Account concerning the Affairs of New-England to the late great and good my Lord Chancellor King, he was pleas'd to write a Letter in Answer, wherein are these remarkable Passages; The Account of your Country was very acceptable to me: And, wherein I can serve either it or you, I shall always be ready; It is Matter of Joy, that the Christian Religion and Learning do make such considerable Advances in those Parts of the World. And indeed, wherever the fame sins the Christian Religion is proposed in its native Plainness and Simplicity, it is most likely to succeed,

DEDICATION

Hence You fee, Honorable Sir, that You are not fingular in Your Regards towards us and in Your Inclinations and Endeavours to serve us, but have such good Company as may be an Encouragement unto You in them.

I need not mention to You the Claim, which these Churches have to their Religious Privileges as Men, as Christians, and as Protestants: But I would observe to You, that these Privileges are consirmed unto them by the Charter, which was granted to this Province by King WILLIAM and Queen MARY of glorious and immortal Memory.

And I would further acquaint You, that, fince the Grant of our valuable Charter, the same was ratified and confirmed by his most excellent Majesty King GEORGE the First; and there has a Law pass'd in this Province in the fourth and fifth of WILLIAM and MARY, wherein it is expresly provided, that the respective Churches in this Province shall enjoy all their Privileges and Freedoms respecting Divine Wor-(hip, Church Order and Discipline, and shall be encouraged in the peaceable and regular Profession and Practice thereof: Which Law has bin as it were touch'd. by the Royal Sceptre: For it has bin approved by his Majesty of Great Britain: So that, Honorable Sir, the Liberties of these Churches must be deem'd to be as Sacred Things as the Ecclefiaftical Liberties of the National Churches of England and Scotland.

Besides, Sir, I can truely affirm, not only concerning the Church of which I am the unworthy Servant, but also in behalf of all the Churches of our blessed SAVIOUR in New-England walking in the fame Fatth and Order with our selves, that they maintain an inviolable Allegiance to his present Majesty of Great Brittain, as they did to his Godlike Father before Him, and that they firmly adhere to the Succession of the Imperial Crown of Great Britain in the present Royal Family: Nor, I am well assured, is there so much as one Person in the Communion of any of our Churches, but who has a cordial Regard and Affection for the Person and Family of our present most gracious Sovereign and yields a delightful Subjection to his auspicious Government.

EDICATION.

Now confidering these Things; and confidering withal, what an bonorable, as well as vaftly beneficial, Addition we have made to the wide and extended Empire of the King of Great Britain: I faid, Honorable Addition: For, while the other British Provinces and Colonies have for the most Part bin fettled by more indifferent Persons, and for their Nourishment and Support have bin obliged to the Royal Bounties; This Province was founded by worthy Persons, conficerable for their Families, Educations and Fortunes, as well as their fuperior Probity, Religion and Goodness, who with vast Hazard and Expence past the wide Atlantic, and confum'd their Treasures and lost their Lives in these, then barbarous and inclement, Regions, that fo their Posterity might serve their GOD and their King in the peaceable Poffession and Exercise of those Civil and Religious Privileges, which they had purchased and earned for them: Nor did the Crown advance any Sums of Money for affifting and encouraging them in their expensive and hazardous, but noble, Undertaking: Certainly, upon these Considerations, if we do not challenge and claim as our Due, we may well promife our felves however, the Royal Favour and Protection in the undiffurb'd Enjoyment of the Liberties of our Churches and Schools.

DEDICATION

Sir, that so, as You have Occasion for it, You may improve them to our Advantage and Comfort: In doing which, as You will encrease our Obligations, which already are very great unto You; so, I doubt not, You will add to Your own Consolation and Joy: For, as the wise Governour of the World has hitherto blasted the Designs and Attempts of the Enemies to New-England, so He has liberally rewarded and blessed its Friends: And it is our Prayer and Hope, that He would graciously continue to do so, and, in particular, that He would remunerate and prosper the bonored Mr. Holden according to all the Good which he has done to the Churches and Country of New-England.

The Task which is undertaken in the following Sheets, cannot by any Means be accounted singular; inasmuch as it is a common Thing in the Republic of Letters for the Learned to apologize for those Disciplinary, as well as Dostrinal, Principles, for which they have a peculiar and, as they imagine, just Esteem and Veneration.

But, as to the Freedom of this Dedication, althorit may be a great and probably unbecoming one; yet You are well acquainted with the Occasion of it; and, I believe, my Country will judge, that You were highly deserving of this public Manifestation of Respect and Honor for You.

I cannot but hope, from what I have heard and learnt concerning Mr. Holden's generous Sentiments, that the following Attempt will be acceptable unto You. But, however this may be, give me Leave to beg the further Continuance of Your Rethink well of thin, who defires to be numbred, The common to the modern of the second of th

TOATION

Honorable Sir, among Your most respectful Friends and obedient humble Servants March 1. 1738.

Some of the second by the second of the seco

cipling is well as Danier's Prince a light the second of t and some order wicherith syldige the state of the state of Executes a single Direction of this Double will all to the May have a great and projectly use control of the state of the single of t O als his wife acquirement with the O in the state of th tion of the poll and Iforon M. I'm a New-En-

Calagraphic lyps, from what I live high

THE THIRT IS THE SECOND OF THE SECOND with a first the same of the s 是是是是是

THE

PREFACE.

BEING sensible, that long Life is not to be depended on here below, I have thought it adviseable to leave some abiding Testimonies that I have lived
(a) behind me in the World; and I have determined to bear and leave my Testimony, such as it is, to the Order of the Gospel in the Churches of New-England.

As many of our Protestant Brethren abroad, so most of our People at Home, must certainly have some Knowlege of the Privileges claim'd by these Churches and the Reasons of their Attachment unto them.

But, inasmuch as They may be desirous of a further Acquaintance with our Religious Privileges and what we have to offer in Defence of them; I have therefore thought it proper for their Sakes to prepare and publish the following Apology, wherein I have endeavour'd to illustrate and confirm the more distinguishing Privileges of these Churches.

That so this Attempt might be more fully and effectually answer'd, I have consulted the publish'd Works and many of the Manuscripts of the Fathers of New-England, I have search'd the Records of the Primitive Church, I have read a considerable Number of later Writers, and, in fine, I have examin'd the Writings of the Inspired Apostles with Industry and Care: And hence I have bin enabled to prepare the ensuing Apology, and offer

⁽²⁾ Quatenus nobis denegatur din vivere, relinguamus aliguid, quo not vixisse testemur. Plin. lib. 3. Epist. 8. Caninio.

offer it to the Confideration of my Countrymen and all our Protestant Brethren.

By this Apology They will foon fee, that we do not think Churches are such Machines, as many on the other Side of the Atlantic take them to be, contriv'd and to be improved for the outward Advantage of some fort of Persons; but that they are Means for the Edification and spiritual Advantage of the Faithful, which they are oblig'd to respect and observe in Obedience to Jesus CHRIST our Saviour and supreme LORD: For, to use the Words of the learned Abbot FLEURY concerning his History, which may properly be applied to our Apology and used concerning it, In This we have a Sort of Politicks, which are Spiritual and all Divine; a Government that is founded on Charity, the Public Good being the sole End of it: For the Interest of the Governours is no Way concerned in it (b).

Besides a particular Defence of the distinguishing Priwileges of these Churches in the following Attempt; there follows after this Preface a General Discourse Preliminary concerning the Nature, Grounds and Reasons, Antiquity and Advantages of Congregational Churches; which, I believe, will be judg'd by the Impartial and Disinterested a sufficient Vindication of them.

In the Close, and as an Appendix to the Book, I have taken Care to publish some Things that were never printed before among us, as well as fome other Things that have already bin given to the Public, but are now scarcely to be found, concerning the Liberties of the New-English Churches, their catholic and comprehenfive Principles, their declared Regard especially to the Life and Power of true Religion and their Duty and Interest to continue in their respectful and affectionate Attachment to these Things.

Some perhaps may judge, that, in attempting to write an Apology for the Liberties of our Churches, I have

⁽b) See Fleury's Discourse on Ecclesiastical History.

have undertaken a Task, to which I am unequal: And probably it may be so in Reality and Truth: But yet I am inclin'd to express my self concerning my Performance, as Tully concerning his Orator, The Work may be great and arduous; but to bim, that is inflamed with Love to it, there is not found any sufficient Difficulty in the Way to discourage him from it (c).

lall

do

the

and fort

tton

are

SUS

to

On-

to

10 a

; a ood

er-ri-ere nt-

117-

S;

nd

I

re

er

ut

of

n-fe

to

to

0 I

e

-

However, if the Remarks and Arguments made and collected in the following Pages should be accounted flender and unfatisfactory; yet, if by Means of them some abler Person here or elsewhere shall be excited to fet the Liberties of our Christian Brethren in a fairer Light and to shew more Strength and Vigor in defending them, I shall be so far from repenting of my Care and Trouble in preparing and publishing the following Estay, that I shall beartily rejoice in the good Success of it.

But, notwithstanding This, I must be so free as to declare, that in the enfuing Pages I bave endeavour'd faithfully to represent the Sense and Meaning of the first Planters of these Churches: So that, with reference to what follows, I may write in the Style of VEGETIUS, I am far from assuming any Thing of Authority to my self in the following Sheets: If I have collected the Sense of others right and well epitomiz'd their Thoughts (d) which are variously dispers'd and reduced them to a clear and natural Order, I shall think it sufficient.

There is one Thing for which I expect to be formewhat blamed: And this is, that, in illustrating and confirming the Liberties of our Churches, I generally write in the Plural Number; whence some may conjecture, that it was at the Direction or by the Defire of the Churches here, that I write this Apology for them: But,

wherever

⁽c) Magnum Opus conamur & arduum; Sed nibil difficile Amonti puto. Cicer. ad Brut. Oraior.

⁽d) Nihil mibi Authoritatis affumo : Sed que ab aliis difperfa Welut in Ordinem episomata conscribo. Veget. 1. 1. 6.8.

wherever I use such a Way of expressing my self; I desire always to be considered as representing what I take to have hin the Thoughts of the Planters of these Churches, and so of the Churches themselves: Nor would I by any means be understood as directed or advised by the Churches to enter upon this Performance: For, if it were so, I should lose the Comfort and Satisfaction, if not the Credit and Honour, of making my Free-Will Offering to their Service and Advantage.

Nor is it at all improbable, that some may find Fault with my frequent Quotations from learned Authors and References to them: But, if the Province undertaken by me did not unavoidably lead me to make those Citations and References, I am very much mistaken: And, if it did, it is, I think, a sufficient Excuse for me.

As to the Passages selected from the ancient Fathers, I have only this to say, that they are generally taken from those, which are accounted the best Editions: And I believe my References to them are exact and punctual; tho it is possible, that, in transcribing them into my Common-Place Book and this second Transcription of them, some accidental Mistake may have occur'd, which any good-natured Man can overlook and forgive.

I have one Favour to ask of those, that shall read this Book, which, I think, cannot in Reason be denied me: And this is, that, if any of them shall think six to animadvert upon any Part or the whole of it, they would be so kind as to put their Names to what they publish: For otherwise they may not expect to have any Notice taken of them; nor may they expect any, if they do, unless they write in such a Manner as to require a suitable Answer from me.

I shall be very much disappointed, if, by the Publication of this small Volume, I do not gain the Displeasure and Anger, if not mortal Enmity, of many: But however I shall not be forry for it, if I secure to my self, as I hope that I shall, the perpetual Regard

and is

f

and Friendship (e) of all the true Lovers of Mankind and of our Christian Brethren in particular.

Since my writing this Book, there has a Pamphlet come to my Hands, which it is faid was written by a Gentleman of the Law in England, the Title of which is, An Examination of the Scheme of Church-Power, as laid down in the Codex Juris Ecclesiastici Anglicani, &c. As I was highly gratified in reading of this Pamphlet; fo I cannot help reciting some Passages from it, which were peculiarly grateful to me; not doubting but that they will be fingularly pleafing to my Countrymen, and not the less so for coming from the Pen of an eminent Lawyer. In Pag. 120th, 121ft, 122d, 123d, he writes as follows, 'If the Gentlemen of Synodical Learning will permit us to carry our Enquiry on this Head fo far back as to the Apostolick Age, we shall find that the Laiety at that Time bore a Part in the most folemn Deliberations which concern'd the Interest or Government of the Church. The whole Number of Be-· lievers was consulted in the Choice of a fit Person to fucceed to the Apostleship, which became vacant by the Apostacy and Death of Judas. Matthias was chofen, after folemn Prayer to God for His Direction, by the Suffrage or Ballot of the whole Church (f). The Multitude of Disciples was advis'd with touching the Institution of a new Order of Church Officers, the Order of Deacons (g). The Constitution it self, as well as the Election and Confecration (as it is now. call'd) of the Seven, was the Act of the whole Multitude. The Apostles, Elders and Brethren, (or as it is otherwise express'd in the same Chapter (b), the t-whole Church, or all the Multitude) affembled at Jerafalem.

272

⁽e) Neque me panicet mortales Inimicitias sempiternas Amichias babere. Cicer. Orat, pro C. Rabirio Posthumo.

⁽f) Ads, Chap. 1, (g) Adr, Chap. 6.

⁽b) Ad., Chap. 150

. (

• •

• c

. 0

6 d

٠ (

· n

. (

· 1

• B

. 0

· B

' d

. 0

·I

. 0

· tl

· W

· W

c m

" th

· E

c ca

« ar

· bi

· A

(

falen (i), to deliberate on the great Question, How far the Gentile Converts were obliged to submit to the Law of Moles. And after two of the Apoltles of the Circumcifion had deliver'd their Opinions; which they supported, not by Apostolical Authority, but by ftrong Reasoning built on well known Facts, and Principles universally admitted: And after Paul and Barnabas, Apostles of the Uncircumcision, had related to the Assembly a Series of Facts happening within their own Observation; from whence it might be reafonably concluded, that God approv'd the Conversion of the Gentiles, and would receive them into his Chuch without the Rite of Circumcifion: After the Affembly, I fay, had proceeded thus far in the Way of rational and free Debate; they came to a Refolution, which they communicated to the Churches concern'd, by Letter and Message, in the Name of the whole Body. Methinks, by the Way, his Lordship's Reasoning for appropriating the Care of Spiritual Affairs to the Clergy, loses a great deal of its Weight, when we reflect on the Behaviour of the Apostles in those Instances. As the Apostles had really that Superiority in Gifts and Abilities, which their Successors bless themselves withal, They, of all Men living, might have claim'd a separate and exclusive Right of Jurisdiction and Legislature, in Spiritual Matters. But the Apostles did not exclude the Brethren, the Body of the People, from their Counsels; nor dictated * magisterially to them. They reason'd as with Men and Christians; and made no other Use of their supe-Frior Gifts and personal Knowledge of Facts, than to f convince and perfuade. And their Arguments, attended with the most evident Tokens in themselves of fa disinterested Zeal for the Honour of God, and the Good of the Church, had a fuitable Effect on their Hearers. Trea Theath B.

⁽i) Verfe 12.

In Conformity to the Practice of the Apostolick Age, the Laiety continued to have a Share in the Government of the Church, as Members of a voluntary Society, and interested in its Concerns; till the Conversion of the Roman Emperors made Way for very confiderable Changes in the Ecclefiaftical Polity. Till that Time, all the Affairs of the Church were administer'd, at voluntary Assemblies of the Parties concern'd; which foon gain'd the Name of Councils or Synods; whereof the Laiety were always confider'd as Members. At these Meetings, Matters of Order and Discipline were transacted: And if any new Rules appear'd to be necessary for the Ends of Government, they were here agreed upon. This was the Ecclesiastical Legislature of the primitive Church (1). But when Christianity became the establish'd Religion of the Empire, and Church and State became one Body, confider'd only in different Views and under different Relations; the Ecclefiaftical and Civil Laws of the Empire flow'd from one and the fame Source, 'Imperial Prescripts. For the' the Name and Shadow of the Senatorial and Tribunitial Powers remain'd, these Powers had been long extinguish'd: And the whole Legislative Power of the Empire was really vested in the Emperor. And by this Legislature were Ecclefiaftical, as well as Civil Laws, ordinarily made; as every one fees, who hath but look'd into the Titles of the Justinian and Theodosian Codes. The · Emperors did indeed, upon extraordinary Occasions, call Ecclefiaftical Councils; fometimes of the Clergy and Laiety, as particularly at the first Council of Nice; but more frequently, I believe, of the Clergy alone (in). At these Councils the Emperors, in Person, or by their Ministers, usually presided, and assented to the Decrees there made; and in some Instances, did by a separate Instrument, in Form of an Imperial Prefcript, ratify the Decrees. The Presence and Con-* currence of the Emperor to the Acts of the Council, gave them their binding Force, and incorporated them into the Laws of the Empire. For the whole Legislative Power being, as I observ'd, in the Empe-' ror, nothing could become Part of the Law, without his Authority. This Principle of the Necessity of an · Imperial Sanction to Synodical Decrees, seems to be so well understood in Justinian's Time, that he expresty ordain'd, that the Acts of the Councils of Nice, Confantinople, Ephefus and Chalcedon, should have the Force of Laws within the Empire, &c. And, after this, the Author proceeds and shews, from the 124th Page to the 137th Page of his Book, how, after the universal Monarchy fell to Pieces about the Beginning of the fifth Century, the Northern People, who erected independent Kingdoms on the Ruines of it, after their Conversion to Christianity, provided for their Ecclesiaftical, in the same Manner as they did for their Civil, Polities; and how this was gradually brought about particularly in England.

(i) Veife 13

(m) Socrates, Lib. I. c. s.

⁽¹⁾ Confliction and Discipline of the Primitive Church. Edit. 1712. p. 143, 144. Father Paul's Rights of Sovereigns, p. 44. Trea ise of Beneficiary Matters, Edit. 1680. p. 19.

But what can be faid, if, notwithstanding such fair Accounts from disinterested and honest Men, the infatuated humane Race will not believe the Truth, but take Pleasure in Unrighteousness and Oppression? Truely it must be accounted a melancholy Thing, and be for a Lamentation among all the sincere Lovers of Mankind.

For my Part I can say with the learned Dr. Henry More, at the Close of his useful Exposition of the Seven Churches, I am abundantly taught by Experience, that both the Finding out and the Receiving of Divine Truths found out by others is a special Gift of GOD. And therefore I conclude this Presace with the Prayer, which the learned Abbot Fleury makes at the End of

PREFACE.

of his Discourses on Ecclesiastical History, and I make in with all my Heart and Soul, GOD grant, that we may reap Advantage by being born in so knowing an Age; and that, if we are not able to recover the ancient Discipline of the Church, we may at least know bow to esteem it, to reverence it, and to regret the Loss of it. AMEN! or the whole

Augustus A which the ! the special and and

The first in Victoria

The state of the s

fauture x : Free

described the state of viagh street

Force of Lagran with

Lastrophy Haw

squad all si dirello los servicios lenge-

#6 To (12)

ो sd का का

a expedity

and

series Anna

MACE TO ST

ond some

the tree Medican in 13 bathe of 4 tieds to pleased 3

THE PERSON

1 DE 168

Man and the second of the second of the second The state of the s

The Art of the State of the Sta

-wollet

2000 bistis.

2 OC 58

the state of the

ERRATA.

THE kind Reader is desir'd to correct the follow-ing Errata.

Page 9. Line 4. from Bottom, for Spacious read Specious.

P. 14. 1. 19. for Extents read Extent.

P. 18. 1. 2. in Margin, for dictatur read dicatur.

P: 20. 1. 16. for institued read instituted.

P. 28. 1. 13. for Ambitions read Ambition.
1. 2. from Bottom, for Commands read Command.

P. 29. 1. 3. for Churchts read Churches.

1. 28. read Christianismo.

P. 32. l. 3. After Christ's — read Mind, we shall at the same Time declare for the Liberties of particular, &c.

P. 42. 1. 7. for them read him.
1. 14. for have read leave.

P. 156. 13. from Bottom, read Cordolia.

2 OC 58

Lai, gian Barrel, for Character tend Costmins.
Philosol. of for Orac Straton Costmins.

Tries or the contract of the c

Authorities Charles I's

A DISCOURSE

Concerning the Nature, Grounds and Reafons, Antiquity and Advantages of

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES,

Wherein alfo

An Answer is endeavoured to such Objections as have bin raised against them.

HE Churches of New England are nominally and professedly Congregational: They do not approve the Name of Independent (a), and are abhorrent from such Principles of Independency as would keep them from giving an Account of their Matters to their Brethren of neighbouring Societies, regularly demanding it of them.

They apprehend, that a Congregational Church is, by the Institution of our great LORD and King JESUS CHRIST, a Part of the visible Church in its militant State, consisting of a Company of holy Brethren, united

B

⁽a) Platform of Church Discipline. Chap. Il.

together by mutual Engagements for the publick Worship of GOD, and their common Improvement and Edification in Knowledge and all Goodness.

Nor have they any Thing to object against that Article of the Church of ENGLAND, which speaks of the visible Church of CHRIST in fuch a Manner that they can heartily subscribe unto it. For they firmly believe it to be, as is there declared (b), a Congregation of faithful Men, in which the pure Word of GOD is preached and the Sacraments be duly administred according to CHRIST's Ordinance in all those Things that of Necessity are requisite to the same: So that the Earl of SHAFTSBURY was exceedingly in the Right, when in a famous Debate He faid before the House of LORDS, that He found the nineteenth Article did define the Church directly as the Independents do: For really it does to. Onely, if it had bin added in the Article, wherein also the Discipline of CHRIST's Church is duely exercised, they think that the Description would have bin more perfect.

As to the Churches, which answer to this Description, they are Congregational; and, concerning such Churches as These, these Churches are not ashamed to declare and maintain, that they take them to be instituted by the great Head of the Church: So that, if any should ask us the same Question which the Roman Catholicks frequently ask our Protestant Brethren abroad, Where were your [Congregational] Churches before LU-THER? We have the same Answer to give which our blessed Saviour gave to an Enquiry of the Jews concerning Himself, Search the Scriptures: For they testify concerning Them.

A Dean of Worcester, we know, has, not long since, in a Sermon, concerning Ecclesiastical Authority, declared in these Words, He must never have look'd into Scripture who is capable of thinking it a perfect Rule of Worship. I mean, external Worship and Discipline: But, adds Mr. Dean.

⁽b) XIXth Article of the Church of England.

Dean be that will take in the Writings of the Primitive Church as a Supplement to Scripture in these Points, cannot be at a Loss to know what are the Power's of Church Governours or what the Obedience due unto them (x). But, as for us, we are not fensible of the Want, nor are we desirous, of any Supplements to the Scriptures in these Matters: Nor yet dare we indulge a Tho't of being wife above what is written in fuch Points as Thefe: For we find fufficient Reason for falling into the Sentiments of the learned Mr. Abbot FLEURY, which are thus expressed in his Discourses on Ecclesiastical History,-There was nothing wanting at that Time [h. e. the Time of Primitive Christianity] for the due Government of the Church: No! When the Apostles founded it, there was without Doubt nothing omitted in laying down Practical Rules as much for the Conduct of the whole Body, as the Manners of particular Persons: And these Rules were neither imperfect nor impracticable, but such as were abfolutely necessary to bring Them to a Gospel Perfection, more or less, according to the different Measures of GOD's Grace. These Rules were not imperfect; since, as the Christian Religion was the Work of GOD, it had all Perfection at first. It is not like the Inventions of Men, which have their Rife, Progress and Fall. GOD acquires neither Knowledge nor Power by Degrees. All Things, Jays our SAVIOUR, that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you: And, speaking of the HOLY GHOST, He will lead you into all Truth: And, to show that this does not only relate to the Tenets of Religion, He fays further, Go, teach all Nations, teaching them to observe all Things whatsoever I have commanded you. Every Thing then was equally established at first, which could be of Use to Them in Practice, as well as in Faith. And therefore we cannot approve of any Humane Supplements to the perfect Rule of Worship and Order, with which we are favored in the holy Scrips EUROS. AND RIPH CANTON & CO. MANAGE BY BOOK OF THE STREET

⁽x) P. 29 of faid Sermon,

We think indeed, that there are some Circumstances relating to the Worship of GOD and the Government in these Churches, which, agreeable to what is practifed in other Societies, may be regulated by Natural Light and Christian Prudence according to the general Rules of GOD's Word, which ought for ever to have a particular Regard paid unto them.

But at the fame Time our Churches judge, that they are not left at any Uncertainty about the Essentials of that Polity which our Lord JESUS CHRIST hath fettled and would have to be observed : For it appears to them, that there is a Divine Institution for the following Things; to wit, that there should be public Affemblies for the Worship of God and the Improvement of His People in Knowledge and Vertue, and that none should officiate in them but fuch Officers as CHRIST bas apros pointed; that Christians should be stated Members of one 100 particular Church, and that particular Churches should do bave proper settled Pastors in them who should live among them and instruct them by their Preaching and Example; that Pastors and People by mutual Consent become related to one another, and that, by vertue of thefe Relations which are of Divine Appointment as well as by their own Choice and Consent, they are formed and constituted a Spiritual Society of CHRIST's Institution; that none should be admitted into the Communion of such a Society but such as profess the true Religion and appear in a Judgment of Charity to be boly Persons; that all such as are allowed the Privilege of Communion in fuch a Society should relieve, comfort and affift one another in outward Respects, but that they should especially be betpful to one another in their best Interests; and that, if any break in upon the Laws of CHRIST and the Society to which they are related, they are accountable to the Society and censurable by it; and, in fine, that all such particular in Societies should live at Peace within themselves, and hold a friendly

othe Cor -01

this can Lav can true

M JASC TES DON'T DWING

the and are grea wba may CHI acco

conf

they

T

foun of or ing t our belie bis or nor i any j are fo God ; cils a tion the 7 refuse Affen

that

Mifta

Word

other Churches for their mutual Support, Edification and Comfort.

This is the Polity which these Churches own; and this is all the Form of Church Government which they can find in the Scriptures to be instituted by their great Lawgiver and King: Nor can they imagine, that any can with Reason deny that such Churches as these are true Churches of JESUS CHRIST.

Nay, if those are true Churches of CHRIST in which the pure Doctrines and Precepts of the Gospel are taught and inculcated, and the Sacraments of the new Covenant are duely administred according to the Institution of our great Saviour, and a sacred Regard is always had to what sover our LORD has commanded; these Churches may then esteem themselves to be true Churches of Christ and even account themselves the truest Churches according to our Saviour's Institution: For, in their conforming to that Institution with inviolable Fidelity, they shine with superior Glory to others.

The Principles, upon which these Churches are founded, are fuch, that they need not be afraid or asham'd of owning them before the whole World: For, accord ing to the Account of the Bishop of Condom concerning our Congregational Brethren abroad, these Churches believe, that every Christian ought to follow the Light of bis own Mind, the Conviction of his own Conscience. nor is obliged to submit his Judgment to the Authority of any Person or any Ecclesiastical Assembly. 'Tis true they are for paying a most profound Deference to the Word of God; nor do they refuse to embrace the Decisions of Councils and Synods, if upon a due and impartial Examination they appear to be reasonable and Scriptural: But the Thing, which these Churches utterly disclaim and refuse to do, is to submit their Judgment to that of any Affembly however confiderable: For they are perfuaded, that the most considerable Societies of Men are liable to Mistakes and Errors; and therefore they submit to the Word

5

Word of GOD only, the Authority of which is undifferent and infallible with them:

dat

wh

fho

rate

Go

any

Go

fha

ent

var

Dol

ine

beir

bar

the

Dr.

is a en t

fero

fuch

geth

bear

part

Wa

Efta

Mil

1Ve

the othe

ther

vant

only

And

THO

And, as these Churches affert and claim the Right of private Judgment as Men, as Christians, and as Prorestants; they also declare for and maintain the Rights of particular Churches: For they conceive, that every Christian Society or Church ought not to have any Dependence in Ecclesiastical Matters, nor are obliged to acknowledge the Authority of Councils or Synods for their Direction and Government, but ought to be governed within itself and by its own Laws. They acknowledge indeed, that they ought to exercise their proper Jurisdiction and Government within themselves with Dependance upon our bleffed SAVIOUR, together with His Holy SPIRIT and unerring Oracles: But they think themselves by Divine Right excused from Subjection to any other Church, tho' it be a Mother one, and that they may exercise an independent Jurisdiction within themselves. And the Reason why these Churches give into fuch Sentiments is fufficient: For we cannot suppose, that Churches are to be propagated as worldly Dominions; as the Original Churches, which fend forth their Colonies, must maintain Dominion and perpetual Power over fuch as came from them: For, after this Rate, the Churches of Geneva, Heidelberg and the united Provinces must claim a Dominion and Jurisdiction over the other Protestant Churches: But we conceive of our Churches, as of adult Sons, who are not at the Disposal of their Ancestors, but bave a Right to govern themselves and exercise their Power with respect to their own Possessions; or as of Branches taken from true Olive Trees, which, being planted and watered, grow and encrease, without any Manner of Dependance upon the Trees from which they were taken, for Preservation, Support and Fructifying Vertue (d),

These Principles are the firm and unmoveable Foundations

⁽d) Ex Voet. Desperat, Cauf. Papatus. L. III. Sec. III. Cap. IV.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

dations of these and all Congregational Churches: And wherever these Principles prevail, as methinks they should prevail every where among rational and confiderate Christians; there the Congregational Form of Church-Government must be acknowledged and preferred before any other.

.

r

-

b.

k

W

3

が出る

Š

epl

d

11 al es

1

IJ,

es Mt.

ne.

H$

But, while these Churches esteem this their Form of Government, inafmuch as it is established upon such unshaken Principles; they cannot but entertain an indifferent, not to fay a mean, Opinion of National Churches in various Kingdoms and Countries, with an Uniformity of Doctrine and of Discipline, which are a diffinct Government from the Civil, their Offices and their Jurisdiction being different: For they apprehend, that fuch Churches pane introduced Ecclefiastical Tyranny and Antichrist into the World; and they are almost ready to declare with Dr. Du Moulin, that (e) a National Church bas bin. is and will be the Cause, that there will never be a Church in the World in its true Purity, unless Almighty God referves some among the Congregational Churches: For in fuch an Establishment it is not Truth nor Goodness that influences and governs; but it is the greatest Number together with worldly Power and Interest, that rules and bears down all before it: So that it is not from a blind, partial and unreasonable Regard for the Congregational Way, that these Churches do not approve of National Establishments; but from a clear Apprehension of the Mischiefs arising from such National Establishments und

Nay fuch is the Value which these Churches have for the Congregational Way, that they even prefer it to all other Establishments, whether Popils or Reformed, whether Episcopal or Presbyterian, as having much the Advantage of them: For those Establishments cannot subsist, only by the Subordination of one Judicatory to another: And how can this subsist, unless the Civil Magistrate approve

⁽e) Dr. Lewis Du Moulin concerning the Government of the Independents, p. 23.

needs not the Aid of the fecular Powers, but stands good without it; shourishing in perfecuting Kingdoms, and under the most tyrannical, arbitrary and cruel of Princes.

Blessed be God this Government have sufficiently declared their Approbation of the Congregational Way:
But if God our Saviour, as a just Punishment for our Unfruitfulness and Ingratitude, should frown upon us by lending us such Rulers as are Enemies, to the Constitution of these Churches; we may reasonably hope, that they will not deprive us of the due, the confessedly due, Liberty of Mankind, to wit, the Liberty of chusing our Religion and of joining with one Church rather, than another.

t

d

C ol

C

th

th

T

u

M

IN C

U

And, while we have fuch Sentiments concerning the Congregational Way, we cannot but grow confirmed in these Sentiments upon finding that several learned Protelfants, who are not attached unto it; are even compel'd by the Force of Truth to declare in Favour of it Not to mention LUTHER'S Affertion, that there may be screenshty Reasons for separating from Churches which are not ermoneous in their Doctrine (f): Nor yet to infult upon what Dr. STILLINGFLEET has observed, to wit that A Christian is bound to adhere to that Church that retaineth most of the Evangelical Purity (g): I shall only quote the Jearned Dr. Jackson, who declares the just and necessary Reasons for which Men, whether few or many, may and ought to Separate from any visible Church: These are (b), In the first Place, because they are urged or constrained to profess or believe some Points of Dostrine or adventure upon Some Practices which are contrary to the Rule of Faith or Law of GOD, &cc. And, secondly, In Case they are utterly deprived of Freedom of Conscience in professing what they inwardly believe or be bereft of some other Means experaltogether necessary or most expedient to Salvation, both which may be had in some other visible Church. In which Passages we have a celebrated Divine of the Church of England declaring the Reasons of the Conclust of these Churches as expressly as they could themselves and justifying our Choice of the Congregational Way, as plainly as if he had by Name recommended it. I said, that I should only quote this learned Doctor; and indeed I need not cite any other: Tho I could with Ease produce almost every Protestant Writer of Note, who has treated of the Church, as giving into those Sentiments which have determined these Churches to protess and practise the Congregational Way and prefer it before any other.

⁽f) Etiams praterea nibil esset in Dollrina pontificia; justas tamen suiffe Causas cur ab Ecclesia Romana nos Sejungeremus. Luther. in Cap. IV. Genes.

⁽b) Dr. Jackson of the Church. Chap XIV and Fine house

But we do not lay any great Stress upon the Testimonies of Men as weak and fallible as ourselves: These Churches neither seek nor want the Recommendations of others: We reckon it our distinguishing Honour, that of all the Resormed Churches, we are the most distant from the Church of ROME, and the most conform d to the Churches in the Days of the Apostles and of Primitive Christianity.

nd

S.

ly

25 ur

110 y

ar un

in ot be re

at

b ic by id

18

ut

2

It is well known, that these Churches have the most inveterate Antipathy to the Dominion of the Clergy: And the Reason of this our Antipathy is, because we conceive that the Mystery of Iniquity was accomplished by the Tyranny of the Clergy and of the Bishop of Rome (i) under the Form and spacious Pretext of Ecclesiastical Power and Catholic Religion (k): And therefore, as in the Congregational Way the Empire of the Clergy is further forsaken than in any other Form of Church Government,

Martin Luthers Profet, præfix. Epitt. quibuld. 3. Hufs, im-

⁽i) Si Ep scopus diei potest Bosiliscus ille Ecclesia Dei & Pestis Orbu Terrarum; scil. Epitcopus Romanus.

⁽k) Roma Sedes Petri, qua Pafforalis Honoris. Falla Caput Mundo, quiequed non poffices armis, Religione react.

DULGG

we conclude to our own Comfort and Satisfaction that we are at the most remote Distance from the Mother of Aborminations.

And we are free to appeal to the World of Mankind, as that these Churches are at the greatest Distance from the Church of Rome, that they also come nearest to those in the Days of the Apostles and are most conformable to Primitive Institution: And we defy any Person whatever to produce and mention any Church, which is spoken of in the more ancient Writers for two bundred Years.

but what was a Congregational Church.

The famous CALDERWOOD expressly afferts, that the Word Church in the Scripture is never used to signify the Faithful or Christians of a Nation, Province or Diocese, as it is now used when we say the Church of France, of England or of Scotland: This Way of Speaking, fays he, is not dictated by the Holy SPIRIT in the Scriptures (1). And these Churches are entirely satisfied, that in the New-Testament where several Assemblies formed for public Worship are mentioned, they are called Churches, nor are they ever once called a Church in the fingular. Nay we are perfuaded, that a Church cannot once be found, only where the Church universal which comprizes all particular ones is mentioned: So that we are not thy to declare with the great Hugo GROTIUS, whose Authorify with many of our Brethren on the Episcopal Side is incontestable, tho' not with us, that as of Old there were many Synagogues in one great City, so there were also foveral Churches or Meetings of Christians, and that every Church had its Bishop (m).

If Instances and Examples of multiplied Churches and Bishops be desired, there are enow at Hand to be produced: I might mention it, that in Austin's Time there were Nine Hundred Bishops in Africa (n), the there were

tl

ni

m

m

P

pe

W

E

CO

to far

Sta

be

and

the

Ag

Tin

Con

ana

An

of i

Didoclavii. Altar. Damascen. p. 281.

⁽n) Grorius in 1 Tim v. 17.
(n) August. Tom. VII. De Gestis cum Emerit. (2) 18 (p) 3

were not half fo many Cities, and many of the Cities in his Time were Pagans: I might observe, that in Ireland St. PATRICK Founded Three Hundred and Sixty-five Churches and as many Bishops (0); whereas to be sure there never was that Number of Cities in it: I might recite the Testimony of BARONIUS, that, from the Year 1145, there were a Thousand Pops in Armenia; adding the Declaration of the Emperor JUSTINIAN, that in his Time there were but Twenty Cities in Arme mia (p); and their Number afterwards decreased. might repeat what the peevish old EPIPHANIUS has declared, to wit, that Alexandria never had two Bilhops, as all other Churches had had. I might offer it as certain, that at ANTIOCH there were two Bishops together PAULINUS and EUSTATHIUS: And it may be depended on, that at the Conference at Carthage with the Donatifts, the Orthodox offered, that if the Donatifts were overcome, their Bishops upon dislowning their Error should continue in their Office; and if the People could not bear two Bishops in one Church, a Third was to be chosen (a).

But, inalmuch as these Examples and others of the fame Kind which I might bring, may not have the Stamp of Early Antiquity upon them, and so may not be much regarded, I shall therefore look further back! and fay what we have found in the more early Times of the Christian Church.

Now we are ready to speak concerning those early Ages, in the Style of Father PAUL (r), as those bappy Times, when the Name of the Church was common to the Congregation of the Faithful, unto whom did belong the Ufe and Propriety of the Goods which are called Ecclefiaftical. And it appears to us, that no ancient Writers for the Space ⁽o) Sic Scibit Nimius & Facobus Armachan in his Religion of the Irifb.

⁽p) Petravon. & Novell. 13. C. I.

⁽⁹⁾ Breviculum Collationum cum Donatiff. (1) Hiftory of the Council of Trent. p. 250.

dom

that

Twe

Cons

fron

argu

new

Contion

to b fhou

of I

For

Kin

Pol

and real

Ch

me

Thi

liga Al

the

an

Str.

Space of Two Hundred Tears mention any other Churches but Congregational ones : And this is what the profound ly learned Jose PH MEDE, in his Proof for Churches in the Second Century, has clearly and abundantly evidenced . For he hath shewn, that no Bishop had then more than one Altar, and that one Bishop and one Altar were Corvellites. 15 Nor can we help thinking, that the Report of the Way deburgenfian Centuriators is well founded, to will that the Churches of the third Century were Congres gational and injeyed the same Government, almost according to the Manner of the preceeding Age, the something energed by Pride and Ambition (1). And we judge THOR NEVER to be in the Right, when he acknow ledges Bifbops to be Jo plentiful in Africa fin the Prima the Times that every good Village must have bin the Source an Esticopal Church (1): For Sozom en declare Before him, that Villages had their Bilbops (u). And the About Figure, in his Discourses on Ecclesiastical History. has bin to ingenuous as to own, that in those Times the Placefes were to small that one Man alone might be fuffice clean and know all his Flock himself. shade are ready to acknowlege indeed, that CVVR PAN about the Two Hundred and Fortieth Year after Car Rist about the Fwo Hundred and Fortieth Year after Cirk is the Series (w): But otherwise we cannot recollect, any more than the excellent Author of An Enquiry into the Confidential of the Primitive Church, that it is used in this Sense by that Father in any of his Writings or by the rest of the Pathers: For it is manifest unto its in that that Eyes may see and he that runs may read that whenever they speak of any Christians in any Province or Kingdom they always speak in the Plural never once in the Singular of the Church in such a Kingdom.

ol(f) in Centur. III. Cap. 7

⁽v) Sozamen. L. VII. (ap. 19. and gard raised at (x) Cyprian in Epift. 71. 6. 4. P. 2140 and bluff (x)

⁽e) Dr. Burnet's Angogeren of the Three nine Articles. p 374.

b

3

that Euserius about the Year Three Hundred and Twenty simply of our Lord flyles the Laity the Church in Opposition to the Clergy (y).

But there is no Necessity of labouring in Defence of Congregational Churches, which are so firmly established from the Scripture and most early Antiquity, that it would argue a strong Prejudice in favour of some particulate new and unscriptural Establishment to be against them.

As for these Churches, they are fatisfied with the Congregational Way, and judge the Proofs of Congregational Churches from Scripture and the purest Antiquity to be firong and unanswerable. But however, if we should be willing out of Complaifance to the Disciples! of ERASTUS to allow, that neither our SAVIOUR bas instituted nor Primitive Antiquity favoured any particular Form of Church-Government, but that every State and Kingdom may regulate the Affairs of Churches and forms Polity for them, just as shall appear to them to be fit and convenient; still we cannot but think it entirely reafonable, notwithstanding such a large Concession, that there should be Congregational Churches, and that these Churches should in a good Measure have the Governiment of themselves: For it is suitable to the Nature of Things, the Authority of the Civil Magistrate and the Obe ligations, of the Pastoral Care, that every Church should act within berfelf as an entire and independent Body (2) And indeed, as particular or Congregational Churches support and protect the whole Concerns of Religion. they have an undoubted natural Right to be confulted and act within themselves; nor ought they to be my Strained by the Civil Magistrate or Lordly Bishops or May never once in the Singular of the Charles shored fairely's

There are, we are sensible, various plausible Pleas and Arguments against the Right of particular Churches

⁽x) Sir Peter King's Conflication of the Primitive Charch. p. 6.

⁽y) Ejuld. Author. pag. 10.
(2) Dr. Burnet's Exposision of the Thirty-nine Articles. p. 374.

that the Apostles bad Power over particular Churches and that their Successors therefore should have Power over them also. Others plead, that particular Churches should be absolutely subject to their own Elders or to other Churches. And many others argue, that particular Churches should be dependant on Councils and other Judicatories, and that they ought to be determined by them, as the Jewish Synagogues were by the Sanbedrim at JERUSALEM.

These are the chief Arguments that are brought against the Right of particular Churches to act within themselves and govern themselves: And these shall be distinctly proposed, examined and resuted.

As to the Argument, which is brot by many against the Congregational Form of Government, from the Power of the Apostles over particular Churches, by which it is concluded that their Successors should have Power over them also; This Argument will easily be enervated by considering the Extents and Limits of the Apostolical

Power.

Now it must be acknowled, that the Apostolical Power reached to every Church as much as to any one; For us they were empowered to disciple all Nations and baptize through the whole World, they were also directed to feed the Sheep and Lambs of Christ's Fold, let it be said, every where; and I am ready to grant, that this Feeding them implies in it all the Acts of Pastoral Government.

But, if all this be allowed; yet this will be no good Reason why any pretended Successors to the Apostles should have such an extensive Power. How indeed should they come by it? For it does not yet appear that our Saviour gave, and His Apostles transmitted it unto them: It follows therefore, that, although the Apostles might have such a wide Power and extensive Instructes, their Power and Instructed with them, and no others may claim it to themselves and all in vertue of it. It is of the

And

in th

as R

gover

Nay

Apoli der,

curr

bapt

the

with tice !

obtai

Exe

took comm

When

Pow

Pow

cien

that orga

confi

were they

the

the C

Did

The

to th ever

any hav

Apo

B

And besides I am ready to acknowledge the Power of the Apostles to be extended not only to all Gburches, but also to the Performance of the various particular Offices in the several Churches: So that, as Pastors, as Teachers as Rulers and as Deacons, they might teach and exhort govern, receive and distribute the Offerings of the Churches Nay I am willing to grant for the present, that any one Apostle or Evangelist might baptize or censure any Offender, just as if the whole Church were present and concern'd in those Actions.

But what then? Will it follow, because PHIRIPS baptized the Ethiopian Eunuch without any Church, and the Apostle Paul excommunicated Alexanders without any, that therefore this was their constant Practice? No surely: For, when the Apostle Paul could obtain the Consent of the Church and Presbytery in the Exercise of any Act or Ecclesiastical Power, he readily took it, as in the Ordination of Timothy and the Exercise.

communication of the Incestuous Corinthian.

中一時代は一世代の日本

THE STATE OF

X

A

五

TO W

由市市田田

20 20

V9

an ha

A

And

It may therefore be fairly concluded, that the Apostles when they were distant from all Churches, put farth their Power in the Administration of any Church-Acts, and the Power which they had received of CHRIST was fufficil cient to countenance and justify them in so doing; but d that in Churches, which were regularly form'd and organical, they did not exert any fuch Power as was in it confistent with the Privileges of the People. Nay theyers were to far from it, that we have Reason to think that they did not baptize or ordain or excommunicate without the Consent of the People. Were not all Things belonging to ? the Churches, whether PAUL or Apollos or CEPHASSAL Did not these derive their Power of acting in them from Them under CHRIST? And were not the Apostles given is to the Churches? Truely the Scriptures affirm for normal ever fay that the Churches were given to the Apostles or any other Rulers. And, as for the Instances which have bin produced, from which the Plenitude of the Apostolical Power is sometimes argued; it must first of gathered in the Places where they administred the Ordinances of CHRIST and the Discipline of His Appointment, before there can be any Thing argued from those Instances: For, if there were no formed Churches, and it has not yet hin proved that there were in those Places; it is not at all to be wondred at, if the Apostles did not confult the Churches, but atted alone: They could do no otherwise.

6

to ro

25

Ga

B.

ofor

A

fid

96

the

oft

EG

40

WI

tha fix)

374

Gon

12 but

and 444 eve

ing

rild

(0)

dir.

mo

But, even allowing that the Apostles in the Fulness of their Apostolical Power did these and such like Acts when and where they pleased, without any Regard to the People; still what is all this to such as pretend them selves to be Successors of the Apostles? For have they any such Power and Authority? Or, ought they to have any such? Or, if any such Pretenders are in Possession of it, how came they by it? — Surely these are the Men, that enter not by the Door into the Sheepfold, but they climb up some other Way: They are therefore to be considered by Mankind as daring Thieves and Robbers of them in their best Interests.

There are others who argue, that particular Churches should be absolutely subject to their own Elders or to other Churches. But to this the Answer is easy, to wit, that particular Churches have an undoubted Liberty to act within themselves. Now will you say, that they derived this Liberty either from their own Elders or from Neighbouring Christian Societies? How can you say from the former, when it was in the Power of the Churches to chuse their Elders and they exercised their Liberty in the Choice of them? So that the Churches could not derive their Power and Liberty from their Elders; because, before they had their Elders, they were in the rightful Possession of this Power and Liberty, and saw meet to exercise it.

And how can it be faid, that other particular Churches conferred on them this Power and Liberty? For all particular Churches have equal Power and Liberty within them-

r,

11

it

72-10 ß

ts

to 124 y

iy

at ep

y

23

at

A

ed

b~

to ne

ve

e, ul

es.

0

men

chemickes. There was a Church at Genobreactwhich was but a little Village, a finall Port to Corinta and wer that finall Church was not fubject to the Church of Corinth Nor indeed ought any one particular Church to be fulgect or fubordinate to another, however numerous great and eminent: For there is not a Tittle in the Scripture to justify such a Subondination of Churches on Not yet is This the declared Opinion of fuch only as profess and practife the Congregational Ways but I find that others, who conform to a different Way, have received and expressed the very fame Opinion Thus, for Instance, the vastly learned GILBERT VORTINIA Answer to this Question, Whether Ministers along, confidered by themselves or as in a Body, that is, as a meeting of a Synod of Ministers; and whether constant Classes of the Delegates of Churches whether of Ministers alone or other Elders along with them are the first Subject of Ecclefigitical Power, so that from them this Power is derined to particular Churches and their Confifturies? He writes in this Manner, No! I am fo far from thinking, that Churches owe their Rife to fuch Affemblies, as their first constituent Principles, that all the Power of the Churches is communicated from them and must finally be resolved into them, and that therefore as to their Rise and continuing to act, they are dependant on such Assemblies: I am to far from thinking this, that I chufe rather to determine the contrary .- For this I offer no other Reason but the following, that every particular Church is by itself, and may be called, a Church, and consequently is the first and proper Subject of Ecclesiastical Power : As much as every Man is the Subjett of the Faculty of Understanding (a). Thus that eminent Dutch Divine And if ⁽a) Taurum abest us Ecclesias ab illis Caribus oriri conquam primis Principiis constituentibus, omnemque earum Potestatem inde communicari & in Delegatos illos ultimo resolvi, atque addo necessario ab its in Ortu & altu suo dependere purem, us porius contrarium statuam. Sententiam bane maom applicato, sur lassica, ubi de Classibus & Synodis. Rationes pullos adsero, AF.

ha

fer

the

A

Sy

ne

an

WI

4 H

to

Au

on Go

dic

W

Ju

Syn

Sho

die

of

Co

cat

Con

pla ly, que

the

nan

any should enquire, well! Graming, that particular Churches may be the first Subject of Exclesiastical Powers yet may not a Sanhedrim or Synod or a Classis or the Civil Magistrate take away their Power from them and transfer it to themselves? To this I shall only render at present the Answer which is given by the great Divine just mentioned. Now his Answer is in the Negative: For says He, not to repeat the Reasons which may be bro't from their Divine and Natural Right; I shall only tite those two Elements of Right, that Justice is the constant and perpetual Inclination or Will of giving to every one his own, and that they who have a Right ought not to be deprived of it. Now this Right, to wit, of particular Churches, is divinely conferred and possessed by Divine Right: If therefore any, regardless of the Fear of GOD. should go about to deprive them of it, they may expect the Fulfilment of that Threatning, in Ifa. XXXIII. 1. Wo to you that spoil and deal treacherously: Thou shall be spoiled, and They shall deal treacherously with you; and that, in Thef. IV. 6. None should go beyond and oppress or over-reach or defraud their Brethren in any Matter; because the LORD is the Avenger of all STREET, ST fuch (b).

But then, what shall we say to our Presbyterian Brethren, who argue that particular Churches should be dependant on Councils and other Judicatories and ought to be determined by them, just as the Jewish Synagogues by the greater Sanbedrim at Jerusalem?

We may fay and stand to it, that particular Churches are not beholden to Councils, Synods or any other Judicatories for their Liberty. 'Tis true the Church of ANTIOCH borrowed Light from the Synod at JERUSALEM, and

(b) Voet. Par. II. Lib. I. Tract. I. Cap. II.

præter istam, quod Ecclesia quælibet particularis per se sit & distatur Ecclesia, & consequenter Primum ac Proprium Subjedum sit Potestatis Ecclesiastica: Non minus quam Homo quilibet est Subjedum Facultatis intelligendi. Voet. Polit. Ecclesiast. Part. 1. Lib. 1. Tract. II Cap. I.

and by the Decrees of that Synod were established in Truth and Peace: But it cannot be made to appear, that they derived any Liberty at all from them. No! They had undoubtedly the Power and Liberty of acting within themselves. They might indeed in an emergent Case fend to JERUSALEM for Advice and Affiftance: But this fending there will neither prove any Jurisdiction in the JERUSALEM Churches over the Church of AND TIOCH, nor any Want of Jurisdiction in the Church of ANTIOCH. Any Number of Men or any Council or Synod of Churches may dostrinally propose Rules as necessary to be observed; but yet they may not claim any Authority in a Disciplinary Way to punish those that will not conform to those Rules: And therefore, altho' a Power of explaining and confirming Doctrines according to the Scriptures might be allowed to be in a Council or Synod, this will not prove that they have any further Authority in a Disciplinary Way to enforce their Decrees on particular Churches: Nor indeed has the Word of Gop granted to any Councils or Synods or other Judicatories any fuch Jurisdiction over particular Churches.

Our Presbyterian Brethren will probably say here, What! Shall particular Churches be dependent upon no Judicatories? Why may they not depend on Councils and Synods and other Judicatories? The Jewish Synagogues depended on the Sanhedrim at Jerusalem: And why should not Christian Synagogues acknowledge the Jurif-diction of neighbouring Presbyteries, of provincial Synods, of national Conventions and General Assemblies?

I answer, that, supposing the Synagogues or particular Congregations in Israel did depend upon a superior Judicatory, it will not therefore follow that particular Christian Congregations should do so too: And the Reason is very plain and obvious, nor is it easy to enervate it, namely, because particular Synagogues or Congregations then were not complete Churches, as Christian particular Churches now are: For the People could not have the ordinary and continual Worship and Ordinances of GOD in

D 2

them :

them but they were obliged to go up to ferufalem that so they might attend and enjoy them: Nay they were strictly commanded not to keep the Passover not to bring any Sucrifices and Offerings onely at Jerusalem, the Place which God had chosen for the special Seat of His Presence: But now where is our ferusalem? We know of none but that which is above, the Mother of usually

And, as for Christian Churches, They are entirely different Things from the Jewish Synagogues: For all the ordinary Worship and all the special Ordinances of God burk Salv roug may now be enjoyed in particular Churches: And this shews them to be perfect and entire within themselves: And in Truth there is nothing to be found in all the New Testament of any greater Churches institued upon which lesser Churches should despend Nor are any Ordinances or Methods of Worship prescribed in it, but what may be observed in every soft Besides in It is to be considered, that at Ferusalem there was a supreme Judicatory, which had an uncontroleable Power and from the Determinations of which there was no Appeal: So that this was the dernier -Resort upon Earth: Let it be so: But in the New Testament we read of no fuch supreme Judicatory: And therefore, if we once depart from a particular Church for Jurifalition, we shall be roise beyond what is written and run wild in our Imaginations. All Jurisdiction therefore should be confined to particular Churches, in whose Handsour Saviour hath left it: Nor may any particular Churches by any Act of their own or thro their nown Negligence deprive themselves of this Power: Poto as by do doing they would betray a great Truft committed to them, fo they would renounce their Duty also by it : For, unless they have and keep this Jung diction within themselves, they cannot faithfully discharge various Duties, which are required of them by CHRIST Jesus their Lawgiver.

Bartleular Congregation.

II gad ill hat I at little and (6)

Thefe

of &

Co

the

Chu

den

recl

whi

and

Chu

he a

Chu

or l

For

effer.

thei

true

and

ritu

and be a

Pov

the care

Lib

anv

ther

arge

IST

Thefe Churches indeed acknowledge a Confociation of Churches for mutual Light and Affiftance; and, as they conceive, that fuch Churches as will not act in Conjunction with others, but confine their Duty within the narrow Limits of their own Assemblies, cut themfelves of from the external Communion of the Catholic Church; they judge also that it will not be fafe or pradent for any Christian to commit his Soul to the Direction and Conduct of fucb an independent Church. But, while these Churches acknowledge a Consociation among them, they cannot think that this Confociation forms and constitutes a new Sort of Church, or a Church of Churches as the famous Mr. Corron once spoke, the he afterwards spake and thought otherwise: Nor do our Churches allow, that fuch a Confociation may take away or lessen the Power and Liberty of particular Churches: For they think, that, without any fuch Confectation or Correspondence of Churches, every particular Church is essentially and integrally a true Church(c): And it is their declared Apprehension and Judgment, that the true Use of such a Consociation is to direct and guide particular Churches, as they may have Occasion for Light and Help: Nor have they any Thing to object against frequent Meeting in Councils or Synods, to learn the Spirimal State of the Churches within the Confociation, and to give Advice for the Amendment of what may be amils in one or another of the faid Churches, for preferving Worship in its Purity and Spirituality, for maintaining a godly Discipline and promoting the Power and Evidences of true Religion: Provided, that the Churches, convening in fuch Councils or Synods, are careful not to injure themselves, but see to it that the Liberties of the particular Churches be not invaded by any Determinations and Acts that may be paffed in them, rids good has a set a series of side on within the whiches the stages probably discourge marious Duries which it was all of them by Christ

⁽c) Voet. Par. III. 1. 1. Trad. III. Cap. II.

This was the Opinion of the Fathers of New England, and indeed of all the ancient Non-Conformists almost in England: So one of them in the Name of the Rest has observed; and Dr. Downham, in a Sermon at Lambeth, page 5th. says, They, that is, the Non-Conformists, say, that every Parish bath sufficient Authority within it self immediately derived from CHRIST for the Government of itself in all Causes Ecclesistical.

But some sanguine People cannot be content with such a Consociation as has bin mentioned: No! They want something surther: They must have their Judicatories, they will have their decisive Synods or Convocations, or else they will presently be for condemning the Gospel as more desective than the Law: Nay it is well, if they do not plead for external Force and for Officers and Powers derived from humane Laws, concerning which the Scripture is utterly filent.

If fuch Persons as these could but be perswaded for a Moment to look off from their beloved fecular Intorest, and to hear what we have to say upon this Head, probably they might emerge into better Sentiments. Come then, all fuch of you as have hitherto pleaded for Weapons which are not christian and spiritual, but carnal and worldly, the mighty thre Satan for the pulling down of all fuch as conscientiously dislike and oppose your vain unscriptural Imaginations; Come, I say, and let us reason a little with Calmness upon the Head before us. You fay then, that you would have a supreme Judicatory for the final Issuing of Causes, with a decifive ungainfayable Power for that Purpose: Very well. To this it may be answered, why may not a particular Church be this Judicatory? For indeed the new Testament has not appointed any other. Whereas, according to your Opinion, we shall be at a Lois forever where to find the Judicatory, which you want and for which you to zealoufly plead: For, from a Congregation and Classis, you must go to a Provincial Synod: And where next? Then to a National Synod: And what will you do

menti diffe come Y less we f

đo t

in or cient fuch but hear befor

would mine deter A Object

draw as is That Fried in an after mere
For it: I well

of it There give ward found for n Capt

cator rega

do then? Afterwards you must go to a general wenmenical Council; by which Means your Cause will be threafonably protracted, nor in all Probability ever come to a final Decision.

e

T

h

y

.

23

g

r

1,

S.

r

al

ig Ge

1 20

· W

1.

4

r.

g

8

h

4

e

You will perhaps think it enow to reply, that, was less there be stated Judicatories for the bearing of Causes, we shall be continually at Uncertainties and never know in our Difficulties what shall be done: But it is a sufficient Answer to this to fay, that particular Churches are such standing Judicatories, not of humane Appointment but of Divine, which always are or should be ready to hear and to give Judgment in Cases that properly come before them: Whereas Synods and other Judicatories, if they had the Supreme Power lodged in their Hands. would not always be ready to confider nor yet to deterdetermining the Affairs which come before them.

And, in fine, I would add, in Answer to any other Objection that may remain or may possibly be raised or drawn from the Advantage of fuch a Supreme Judicatory as is supposed to have sat at Jerusalem: First of all, That it is very probable, that fuch a Sanhedrim, as the Friends of it suppose to be derived down from Moses in an uninterrupted Succession to the Fourth Century after Jesus Christ, tho' fome fay not so late, is a mere Rabbinical Chimera that never had any real Existence: For the Scriptures never any where expressly mention it: Nor yet does Josephus or Philo or any other well acquainted with the Jewish Government ever speak of it in fuch a Manner as is usual on these Occasions: There are indeed some Passages in the Gospels, which give us Reason to think that there was a Sanbedrim towards the latter End of the Jewish State: But the profound Silence of the Times foregoing is a strong Argument for not admitting any fuch Thing before the Babylonish Captivity: So that the Proofs of fuch a Supreme Judicatory to be Divinely instituted and as such submissively regarded may well be questioned by us; and therefore

But, if it should be granted you, that there was such a Sanbedrim at Jerusalem, in every Respect according to your Imagination; yet we may safely affirm, that, in those particular Churches instituted by our SAV IOUR and conforming to His Directions, we have much the Advantage of the Jews in that Judicatory: For now, praised be God our SAVIOUR, Churches, wherein the Supreme Power upon Earth is lodged, are many: So that Christians may have the Advantage of that Power with considerable Ease and Convenience: It would therefore be very strange, if they were not duely apprehensive of the glorious Privilege enjoyed by them, and thankful to God

pr

cer

th

me

721 che

be

to

$P

to fef

 D_i

cal

M fair

Ch

for all par

dif

Inf

lar

aft

Dr. C.

the

Se

their SAVIOUR for the Enjoyment of it.

Thus I have in a general Way pleaded for the Liberty of these Churches and shewed that they are not fubject to any Judicatories nor ought to be subject to any: And, upon the whole, I am free to declare, that, Supposing ever so many Convocations or Synods or even General Councils were called, they would have no Jurif diction at all over these or any other particular or Congregational Churches: For the great Head of the Church never gave them any such Jurisdiction, nor is it in their Power to prove that they have derived any fuch Jurisdiction from Him: Even that worthy Presbyterian Mr. RUTHERFURD himself professes, that he 'cannot * fee what Power of Jurisdiction to censure Scandals can be in a General Council', and he adds, 'there may be fome merely Dostrinal Power if such a Council could be bad, and that is all' (d). Surely then no leffer Judicatories can boast of any more Power: So that, after all, the Power of Jurisdiction must be placed where it properly belongs, to wit, in particular Churches of Divine Institution, where our Saviour and Lord has placed it. For, as Dr. Fulk observes in his Answer to the Rhemilts, ⁽d) Rutberfurd's due Right of Presbyteries. p. 482.

Rhemists, Chap. III. p. 381. The Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, whatever they are, are given to the whole Church, as all the ancient Doctors agreable to the Scriptures do confess.

d d te

is è-

y

0-ot

to

t, en

J

Ò

u ſ-

m tot

371 be

0-

I,

0-te

d

5,

These particular Churches we judge to be the first proper Subject of all Ecclefiastical Offices, Gifts and Powers according to CHRIST'S Institution and the Primitive Pattern: For, when the Apostles had founded many Churches in small Provinces and appointed ordinary Officers in them to administer CHRIST's Ordinances to all the Church; we find, that thefe Churches respectively met together in the same Place to impart the various Spiritual Gifts with which they were furnished and to difcharge the Duties required of them : Nor can any Thing be more plain than this, that the various Gifts imparted to one particular Church and another by the Holy SPIRIT, and the various Offices fuftained in them were to profit withal, as the Apostle speaks, or for the Good of the Hive, as his Greek fignifies: And it must be confessed, for it is as clear as the Light, that the several Duties enjoyned upon particular Churches in the Apollolical Writings are such both in their Nature and the Manner of complying with them that they cannot be faithfully attended and observed but in particular Christian Societies or Churches: So that we may well form this Conclusion, that it is the common Privilege of all other particular Churches to have various Gifts inparted, to have these Gifts exercised, to have Offices disposed of, and Christian Duties performed for them.

But, having thus faid, that according to CHRIST'S Institution and the Primitive Pattern we judge particular Churches to be the first Proper Subject of all Ecclesiaftical Offices, Gifts and Powers; I cannot but think it proper to introduce a Passage of the eminent Mr. CLAUDE, who thought it the best Way of maintaining the Reformation, in his Defence of it, to espouse these Sentiments and express them, as follows;

AUSTIN

" AUSTIN proved to the Donatifts, that their Prin-" ciple was falle; and it is worth the while to observe " the Method which he took to convince them of the "Fallity of their Opinions. - He had Recourse to " the Body of the Church, and faid, that the Sacraments were not the Sacraments of the Bishops or Pastors; " that the Power of the Keys did not belong to them, nor "the Power of Binding and Loofing, nor the other "Acts of the Ministry or Episcopal Office; but that " all these Things did belong to the Church: So that it is "the Church that baptizeth, when the Bishops or "Pastors baptize; it is the Church that bindeth, when " the Pastors bind, it is She that looseth, when the Pastors loose: And JESUS CHRIST gave all these Things to the Church. But what did AUSTIN understand by the Church? Even the faithful People " wherever they are, the Wheat of GOD, the good " Grain, the good Fishes, as He calls them, in one Word, the Saints, true Believers: It was from this Source " that He derived the Validity of the Sacraments and " other Functions of the Episcopacy, and not from the " Paftors. And I fay the fame Thing. Whatever "the Bishops or Pastors do, They do it in the Name " of the Church, and consequently in the Name of " JESUS CHRIST; for the Name of CHRIST is in " the Church. It is the Church that preaches by them, "the Church administers the Sacraments by them, "governs by them, censures, suspends, absolves or ex-communicates by them: The Bishops or Pastors are "her Ministers and the Dispensators of her Rights". It is very probable, that this Quotation may found a

It is very probable, that this Quotation may found a little too Democratical in the Ears of some genuine Protestants: But there will be no Danger at all of our being the worse Protestants for taking it into our serious Consideration. And besides, we may well think seriously upon it, especially considering, that Father Paul of Venice, in his Treatise of Beneficiary Matters, is so ingenuous as both to affirm that in the Beginning the Government of the Church bad altogether a Democratical Form, and to give a punctual and observable Account also how it came by Degrees to be altered.

But how, will you fay, came particular Churches, who are the first Subject of Ecclesiastical Offices, Gifts and Powers to be deprived of them, in such a Scandalous Manner as they are in the greatest Part of the Christian World? And, alas! it must be declared from the best Writers that this has come to pass thro' the Negligence of the Churches and the Ambition of their Pastors: These were the fatal Causes, why designing Men, regardless of the plain and obvious Sense of the Apostolical Writings, have gone aside from the Simplicity of them, and advanc'd their own Power upon the Ruins of those Churches which they have impioufly fubverted: And hence the Observation of AQUINAS, with reference to the Time, when Bishops became endowed with worldly Honours and Offices, with great temporal Powers and Postessions. may hold good with regard to the Time when the People grew utterly negligent of the Privileges belonging to them, Then arose the Race of the Giants in the Church, and then raised the Proud Tower of Babel (e): For, from that Time, Metropolitan Cities were by Degrees raised to be the Seats of Metropolitan Ministers: And fo, according to the Preeminence, Note and Superior Power of Places in the Roman Empire, the Order to be observed among Churches was to be constituted! Thus at length, from the Division of the Commonwealth and the Civil Districts, the Political Division of the Churches into Diocesses and Provinces obtained and was fixed and estab. lished, as several learned Men have observed and provid, and particularly the learned Justellus (f). And there

⁽e) Ex tunc, exorti sunt in Ecelesia G gantes, in magnis et mirabilibus supra se ambulantes, qui potius videntur Reges vel Marchiones quam Episcopi :— Et ideo non minum, si per Los Erigatur Scatua Babylonis et terrena Civitas dilatecur.

⁽f) Justet. J. C. in Nor. ad Cod. Canon. p. 221.

there is a great deal of Truth in the honest Declaration of Father PAUL He having faid, that the last Resalution of Ecclefiaftical Matters in the more early Times was in the General Congregation of the Church, and that this Form was still on Foot in the Year Two Hundred and Fifty, for which He appeals to CYPRIAN's Epiftles; He then proceeds to declare as follows, "The Good-" nels and Charity of the Bishops made their Opinion " for the most Part to be followed and by little and " little was the Cause that the Church, Charity waxing " cold, not regarding the Charge laid upon them by " CHRIST, did leave the Care to the Bishop: And "Ambitions, a witty Passion, which doth insinuate itself " in the Shew of Vertue, did cause it to be readily " embraced. But the principal Cause of the Change " was the ceasing of Persecution: For then the Bishop " did erett as it were a Tribunal which was much fre-" quented; because, as Temporal Commodities, so Suits " did encrease. Then the Tribunal of the Bishop " Began to be a common Pleading-Place, having Exe-" cution by the Ministry of the Magistrate, and to gain " the Name of Episcopal Jurisdiction and Audience, " &co (g). And perhaps, as the learned Mr. Abbot FLEURY has observed in his Discourses on Ecclesiastical History, GOD has permitted these Disorders in his Church to instruct Men from their own Experience strictly to follow His Precepts and not to endeavour to maintain His Religion by the Maxims of Worldly Policy.

Thave observed already concerning some Circumstances in the Worship of GOD and the Government of particular Churches, that natural Light and Christian Prudence, according to the general Rules of GOD's Word, may regulate them: And therefore it seems to arise from a captious and quarrelsome Humour, when any cry our upon us, where is your positive Commands, produce your express Institution for this Practice and the other

other

Ligh

the (

to co

and ditio

ing

func

cano

denc

prov

to tl

am?

Pru

Such

unte

Par

ftiai

tive

are

fhal

a fe

cerr of b

of C illi

Con

to] thoj

man

Cen

left

are

⁽g) History of the Council of Trent. p. 33 (520)

other Gustom in your Churches: For in such Things the Light of Nature is sufficient to direct and guide us; and the Obligation of Churchts, as well as particular Persons, to conform to this is such, that it would be impertinent and useless, if not pernicious, to make permanent Additions: If therefore any Churches, instead of conforming to their natural Light in fuch Things, should invent fundry odd Modes and Rites of their own, and require canonical Conformity to them, without shewing the Tendency and Usefulness of them towards our Edification and proving the Necessity of observing them with Relation to the Duties which they are invented to subserve; I am fure, that neither the Word of GOD nor Christian Prudence will justify them in finding out and imposing fuch odd Inventions, nor any Christian in submitting unto them: And I may not fear to affert, that a great Part of those Disorders, which have arisen in the Chris stian World, have bin occasioned by usurping a Legislative Power over the Churches in such trifling Oddnesses.

I could muster an Army of Protestant Authors who are of the fame Mind, if there were Occasion: But I shall content my felf with reciting some Passages out of a few of them only. The good and worthy Confessor and Martyr John Huss faid unto his Bobemians concerning many of the Things which the Priests and Prelates of his Day called Order, that they produced all manner of Confusion among Christians: Multa, says He, que illi Ordinem dicunt, omnium Rerum in Christianisimo Confusionem pariunt. The learned WHITAKER urges to BELLARMINE, What! were the old Figures taken away that there might be Room for new ones? Were those that were Divine taken away that such as are bumane might succeed them (a)? And the Magdeburgensian Centuriators teach us, that, while indifferent Things are left free, we may lawfully use them; but, when they are imposed, for the maintaining of our Liberty we sould with-

⁽²⁾ Whitaker, Cont. Bellarmin. Tom. 2. Cont. 4.9. 7. C 3. P. 737.

withfland and oppose them (c). CALVIN maintains, that, as no Dostrine, so no sacred Sign, should be admitted among the Pious unless it appear to come from GOD (0). LUTHER is free to affirm, that all bumane Ceremonies bave two Properties of the Devil, Lying and Murthering (r). BEZA goes so far as to call such Inventions the Ensigns of the Priests of Baal (s). ZANCHY was not afraid to tell Queen ELIZABETH, who was more fond of Shew and Pomp in the Worship of God than real Devotion and the truest Lovers of it, that all these Pomps and Popish Ceremonies are nothing else but whorish Paintings, invented and devised to the End that Men might be enticed by them to spiritual Fornication (u). Nay even Dr. MORTON scruples not to say, that Ritual Traditions, which pertain to Order and the Rites of Divine Worship, are to be received only so far as they class not with Truth and Piety, Simplicity and Christian Liberty (z). And I will add some weighty, Passa. ges from the great and generously good Mr. Howe, who, in shewing The Carnality of Religious Contentions, fays, that, the less Things are, the greater the Sin in making them necessary, and Christians of one Communion and other Ito wit, that are fond of their own Inventions] do in Effect say, if you will not take Christianity with these Additions of ours, you shall not be Christians, you Shall have no Christian Ordinances, no Christian Worship: We will, as far as in us is, exclude you from Heaven itself and all the Means of Salvation: And he cites a remarkable Passage of the Emperor MAXIMI-LIAN the Second to a certain Prelate, namely, That there was no Sin, no Tyranny more grievous than to affect Dominion over Men's Consciences, and they who

(1) Lucher. Tom. 4. Fol. 351.

do so may from Rom of th bin o Fand vind Thin Defe touch in so appea Doct Orde

Bu and (I hav for t unto never of w For from the g like i and h If ans v

mity

⁽c) Magdeburg. Centuriat. Cent. 3. Cap. 4. Col. 85.

⁽o) Calvin Harmon. Evangel. in Matth, XXI. 25.

⁽u) Zanchii Epift. ad Regin. Elizabetham. Fol. 244.

⁽z) Morton, Apolog. Par. 21, 1, C. 42. p. 139.

^{(&}amp;) I 940

diff Eco

for Ep

do fo go about to invade the Tower of Heaven: And it may well be accounted a Remarkable Saying, as coming from fo great a Prince, who lived and expired in the Romish Communion. Nor may I omit the Remark of the warm and zealous Dr. HEIDAN, that it bas bin owing to the Labour of ERASMUS and CASSANDER. and I may add of GROTIUS; for he followed and vindicated them] that, altho they wish some smaller Things might be reformed, nevertheless some of the chief Defects of the Romish Church are concealed or trebity touched by them : Hence, fays he, it is come to pass, that in some Churches, and in the English Church it effectally appears very evident, while they have reformed their Doctrine, they have not at the Jame Time amended their Order; but still continue a Government in some Measure like that among the Papists (&).

But, to return, altho' some Circumstances of Worship and Government may be regulated by natural Light as I have bin saying, for the Benefit of the Churches, and for this Reason the Apostle Paul frequently appeals unto it in Things belonging to the Order of the Churches; nevertheless we are satisfied, that the Ecclesiastical State, of which I have bin treating, is a Divine Institution: For so it appears to be from its Nature and Tendency, from its peculiar Relation to our great SAVIOUR, from the great Glory resulting to GOD by an accurate Conformity to it, and from those peculiar Duties and spiritual and holy Methods of Worship appointed in it.

If then the Rules of CHRIST be observed, and Christians will but exercise their Reason and common Prudence

^{(&}amp;) Erasmi & Cassandri Potissimum Labor qui dum leviora quadam reformati optant, pracipuos Ecclesia Rom. Navos dissimulant aut transsiliunt: Unde & factum in quibusdam Ecclesiis, ut in Anglicana prasertim patet, non simul cum Reformatione Doctrina, Ordo immutatus est; sed Hierarchia & Episcopatus, qualis in Papatu ex Parte cernitur, retenta sint. D. Abraham, Heidan Fassic. Disputat. Theologic. de Socialianismo, p. 10.

in conforming to those Rules; that is, in other Words, if we are but Men and Christians, if we will but be governed by Reason and the Revelation of Christ's Churches, which shine with intaminated Honours from the Light that they have borrowed from the two great Luminaries of the Church and the World, Reason and Revelation.

It is to be hoped, that, under the Light and vital Heat of these glorious Luminaries, the Churches, that have hitherto bin as it were under those Clods of the Valley, their heavy and earthly Priests, will e'er long arise out of the Earth and blossom in a fair Profession of Christianity and abound in all the Fruits of Righteous-

th

th

an

CO

me

W ho

pri

tor

km

thi

and fo,

to my

Ch

the

par

Ob

nife

the

to l

Au

the hav

una

of i are

who

nels under a Rational and Scriptural Order.

But, if other Churches love to continue in a degenerate and corrupt State and hate to be reformed; Gop forbid, that the Churches of NEW-ENGLAND should ever return to their miserable Condition: These Churches have come out from among them; but it is to be wished and prayed, that they may never forget the Goodness of GOD in bringing them out, nor fail to answer the gracious Intentions of our strong REDEEMER in so doing.

Let these Churches then be careful, lest Ignorance, Negligence, Sloth and Wickedness should prove their Rum, as they have bin the Ruin of other Churches: Let them never blindly resign themselves to the Direction of their Ministers; but consider themselves, as Men, as Christians, as Protestants, obliged to judge and act for themselves in all the weighty Concernments of Religion: Blessed be God, that our Churches have hitherto manisested themselves worthy of this Privilege: And may they still continue so! Nor let it ever be said to our Reproach, as it must be if ever it be said at all, that we were possessed of all those invaluable Privileges, which particular Churches by Reason and Christ's Appointment can claim, but were either unacquainted with them, or negligent in the Improvement of them, or by

by our Sin and Impiety bave forfeited and loft them : For, if ever this should be faid, it must at the same Time be proclaimed, that the Glory is departed from NEW-ENGLAND.

Several Things have bin published by our eminent Predecessors, of whom the World was not worthy, in order to shew these Churches their Liberties and fire their Souls with a becoming Affection and Zeal for them: But most of those Composures are not known among us: Inasmuch therefore as I have the same finsere Regard for the best Interests of these Churches; I could not but think it my Duty to produce my Sentiments concerning the Privileges of these Churches. which I know to be conformable to those of my ever honoused Predecessors and Fathers in many of their printed Treatises and Manuscripts, and to publish them for the Benefit of these Churches, that so they might know themselves and learn to pity and pray for their Brethren, who are groaning under National Establishments and long to be restored to our Liberties: And, that to our Churches may by the Divine Bleffing be reftored to their former Glory, I have thought it proper to use my best Endeavours for the reforming of particular Churches by fetting their distinguishing Liberties before them and soberly apologizing for them.

But, to conclude this Preface or Introduction to the particular Discourses which follow, I would make one Observation, which may not be omitted without a manifest Injury to these Churches: 'Tis this, that altho' these Churches, apprehending the Congregational Way to be established on the Distates of Reason and by the Authority of the great King and Head of the Church, therefore prefer it before any other; nevertheless they have great Charity and Esteem for those, who, being unacquainted with this Way, cannot therefore approve of it: It is indeed a Grief to our Churches, that there are lober and honest Persons in other Communions, who are fo strangely prepossessed, not to say prejudiced, by Interest or Education against those that are of the Congregational Perfuasion, that they are ready to brand them with the opprobrious Names of Schifmaticks, Enthusiasts and what not.— But we have not so learned CHRIST: For, althor we prefer the Constitution of these Churches before any other; still we think it our Duty to love, and shew our Affection to all good and well disposed People of whatever Communion or religious Profession they may be, to speak well and handsomely concerning them and ferve them to the uttermost of our Power: Nor indeed have we any Scruple about admitting any pious Baptist, Presbyterian or Episcopalian into our Communion: Not only our Houses and Hearts, but our Churches also are open to them, as soon as in a Judgment of Charity we have Reason to think them to be Persons of good Understanding, Piety and Vertue.

CONTROL CONTRO

to the confidence of the one

Is in this to be five flat red to a sale from trained to the manager of the policy Commence of fairing their fill the Thirty

Lea and post of a fair to the fair

the country to their the there are

i torni y cas 4/ alci shirif i iri shanan

Meta na mare't constitue peet of ten gladeling of youthi of the call the state of the second state of the second section of the section o which is indeed a first so du Charosan-

The

eò

THE SECTION OF THE PROPERTY OF

The distinguishing Privileges of the Churches in New England maintained.

and Advantages of Congregational Churches have in the preceeding Discourse bin briefly, but, I hope, honestly and faithfully represented; and a short, tho' I think sufficient, Answer has been produced to such Objections as are usually offered against the Way of these Churches. What I now propose is, more particularly to state, assert and vindicate the distinguishing Liberties of these Churches from Scripture and Reason and the approved Records of pure Antiquity: And, as there are some later Writers, who have either inadvertently or from the constraining Power of Truth bore their Testimony to the Religious Privileges claimed by our Churches, I have tho't it my Duty to constult these Writers and make the best Use of them that I could on this Occasion.

Chap-

Chapter I.

The Right of these Churches to chuse their own Ministers and other Officers afferted and vindicated.

Privileges of these Churches; I begin with the Power and Liberty of chusing their own Officers: A Power and Liberty, of which they have bin long possessed, and to the Enjoyment of which they have a fatisfactory and valid Title.

In order to know what Methods and Rules our bleffed LORD and SAVIOUR would have to be observed by His Churches; we must observe the Conduct and consult the Writings of His Apostles, the Prime Ministers of His Spiritual Kingdom, who were perfectly acquainted with His Mind, who steadily conformed unto it, and in their Writings have clearly revealed it: For it is thro' their Word, that we are to believe and judge and act in Ecclesiastical Affairs.

If therefore in their Days, without their discountenancing such a Practice, the Churches elected their own Officers; the Churches have the same Power and Right still and ought to exercise the same: But this Matter of Fact shall be rendred manifest and incontestible, that the Churches in the Days of the Apostles chose their own Officers: And, when this is made out, methinks there can be no Difficulty in allowing the Conclusion which is drawn from it.

Now any one, that has Eyes and will fee, may behold in the first Chapter of the Asts of the Apostles that the Church were not excluded even in the Choice of an Jub was not b babliclear was it is that into the base at Y bred any of with that in the base at Y bred any of with the ba the Itraor ordinimm the Itheir whole migh as the

the A

bave their Han to chi

were

(a)

into

an Apostle, who was to supply the Place from which Judas by Transgression fell: For, altho an Apostle was an extraordinary Officer, fo that if the People bad not bin concerned in the Election of fuch an Officer, probably they would have bin fatisfied; yet it is very clear, that the Church appointed two, out of which one was to be chosen to supply the Place of Judas; and it is equally clear, that, when the Lot fell upon MAT-THIAS, he was by the Suffrage of the Church chosen into the Number of the Apostles: For, altho' to serve a base Design it was on Purpose translated in our Version. at Verse the Twenty sixth of that Chapter, he was numbred with the Apostles; nevertheless all, that understand any Thing of the Greek, must needs know the Truth of what the best Criticks inform us, namely, that MAT-THIAS was chosen by all the Votes into the Number of the Apostles (a).

And what can our modern boafted Successors from the Apostles say to this? Here was an Officer, an extraordinary Officer, who received his Calling and extraordinary Authority from Jesus Christ Himself immediately; and yet the Church, in the Presence of the Apostles, first appointed two Persons, and then by their common Consent and Suffrage approved the Person whose Lot it was to be chosen by them! Truely they might as well resist the Light of Euclid's Elements as the Light which appears in this Matter; and, if it were as much for their Interests, it is very probable that they would do fo.

But surely, from this celebrated Instance, Christians have now sufficient Instruction and Authority to chuse their own Officers: For, if the People had a considerable Hand in the Choice of an Aposte, certainly their Right to chuse ordinary Officers cannot well be disputed; and, if in the Presence of the Apostles, the People elected one into their Number, nor were excluded from this Liberty,

⁽a) ZYNKATLYHOIZ OH, h. e. Omnium Calquis alledus.

berty, nor yet abridged in it by the present Apostles, it would now be a bold Attempt in any to deprive them of their Liberty to chuse their ordinary Officers: I say, a bold Attempt; because all such as would deprive the People of GOD of their Liberty to chuse their own Officers, and by the Exclusion of them would take this Power into their own Hands, are very assuming and arrogate to themselves more than the Apostles: of Christ, whose Power over the Church was doubtless extraordinary.

This, it must be confessed, was a remarkable Instance and Proof of it, that the Apostles were true and bearty Friends to the Liberties of their Christian Brethren: But this is not the only Instance, wherein we find them to have bin so: For, when Deacons were to be appointed, they were far from taking that Affair into their own Hands; but, as we read in Act. VI. and 2, they called the whole Multitude unto them and advised them to look out seven Men who might be sit for that Business: And upon this it follows, that the Saying pleased the whole Multitude, and accordingly they chose seven Persons, whose Names are afterwards mentioned: And, having proceeded thus far, they then set the Deacons elected before the Apostles, who, when they had prayed, laid their Hands upon them.

And, that the Apostles continued to be Favourers of the People's Right to chuse their Officers, may further be argued from Act. XIV. 23, where we read of the Apostles Paul and Barnabas ordaining Elders in every Church: For, whereas our Version to serve a Favourite Turn renders it only ordained, it is certain that the Word signifies an Election or a listing up of Hands (c) in every Church accompanying it, as every one that has but a small Acquaintance with the Greek cannot but be sensible. So that, altho' we can readily allow the Truth of what the learned Du Pin observes, namely,

(c) KEIPOTONHE ANTEE, Maddell

(a) (b) (c) (p) nai

dai

fur

in t

the not it 1

chu

Lib

ther

was ough

to c

of the

to 1

ther

ferv

ple,

and

Refe

mor

be ch

nomi Bish

rupt

to al fonal

be se

dron

and i

namely, that, after the Death of those who had bin ordained by the Apostles, the People elected (0); yet we must further insist, that before the Death of the Apostles and in their Presence the People elected.

We see then, that these Churches have the Authority of the Apostles to countenance them in the Choice of their Officers: If therefore the Apostles themselves would not nominate and constitute Officers in the Churches, but it was their Right according to Christ's Will to chuse their own Officers; it must still be the Right and Liberty of the Churches to elect their Officers: Well therefore may we say with Chrysostom (p), So it was then, h. e. in the Days of the Apostles, and so it ought to be now.

But, altho' these Scriptural Testimonies are enow to convince us, that, as we are in the rightful Possession of this Liberty, we ought by all Means to keep it, nor to let it go upon any Account or Pretence whatsoever; there are however various Reasons besides, which will serve to betray the Folly and Stupidity of those People, that can tamely bear to be kept out of this Liberty, and at the same Time to consirm these Churches in their Resolutions not to part with it.

For it is certainly much more just and honest, much more sit and safe, that the Officers of the Church should be chosen by the People, than it can be to have them nominated and appointed by any one Bishop; because a Bishop may with much more Ease be deceived and corrupted than an whole Church, and may be very apt to abuse his arrogated Power: And it is entirely reasonable, that the Church should chuse those that are to be set over them in the LORD, lest otherwise ignorant, dronish, wicked and contemptible Officers should be thrust and imposed upon them: And it is furthermore meet; because there is no Likelihood of it, that the People will love

⁽v) Du Pin. Biblioth. Tom. I. prop. ad Fin.

⁽P) Chryfoftom. in Act. VI. 5.

A

ad

the

In

the

nai

tha

wb

Tro

the 700

and

the

ple

not

Rig

He

thei

So p it (g

gen his poi oug

mit

(

effe Ejul (e Nam

Conf

plica

fue,

Sum

uhig

- (

aper

etfi

love and revere, bear with spiritual Profit and fubmit with Delight to such Persons as are thrust upon them against their Inclinations: And, moreover, there is all the Reason in the World, that Men should have the same Liberty in Religious Respects as they have in Civil: Men can chuse their Friends, their Lawyers, their Physicians: And can there be any good Reason affigned, why they should be hindred from the Exercise of the like Liberty in Spiritual Regards? Truely no! They ought to have equal religious Liberty; nor ought they to be restrained in the Exercise of a Liberty so reasonable, as this of chusing their own Ecclesiastical Officers, upon the Choice of which their everlasting Welfare so nearly depends.

Besides; The Remarks of the samous Calderston. Now He remarks in one Place, that common Sense teaches us, that a Bishop is not to be thrust upon an unwilling People, lest the unwilling People should either despise or hate their undesired Bishop (a):—And, in another Place, He says, that the whole Church ought to be concerned about the Means of Salvation (b), of which the Ministry is one.—And though, writes He, Popes have rob'd the Churches of this Liberty; [to wit, of chusing their own Ministers] yet Emperors and Princes should not assume this to themselves, but, as Nursing Fathers to the Church, if indeed they would be glad to bear that Character, they should restore this Liberty to the Churches (c).—And He remarks, that Experience with a loud Voice proclaims, that Churches are more or less flourishing

(b) Nam de omnibus Mediis Salutis selicita effe debet : Debet ergo eligere Pastorem unum ex mille. Ejusd. Aut. & Lib.

⁽a) Invitis Ecclests non obtrudendum communis Sensus docet, ne Plebs invita Episcopum non optatum aut contemnat aus oderit, &c. Didoclav. Altar. Damascen. p. 331.

⁽⁵⁾ Non quia Pontifices hac Libertate spoliarunt Ecclesias, eam sibi vendicare debuerunt Imperatores & Principes, sod ut Nutriti Advocati Ecclesia, si quidem his Elogiis gaudent, Ecclesiis restituete. Ejust. Auth. & Libii. Pag. ead.

as their Election is with more or less Freedom enjoyed (d). And, to these Remarks of one famous Person, I may add the Observations of another, GROTIUS, as I find them scattered up and down in his Book de Imperio; In one Place He fays, That Election is rightly made by the Church according to the Law of Nature: For it is naturally allowed to every Society to procure those Things that are necessary for its Conservation; in the Number of which Things is the Disposition of Offices. Thus many Traders to Sea have the Right of chusing the Governor of their Ship; thus Travellers may chuse the Guide of their Journey, and a free People may chuse their King (e). In another Place, He afferts, It is altogether certain that in the ancient Church after the Apostolic Age, tho' the People could rightfully chuse their own Pastors, yet they did not always and every where improve and exercise their Right (f). And, to cite no farther, in another Place He observes, that even in later Ages the Right of chusing their Pastors was often allowed to the People alone: It is so plain and open, fays He, that I need not take Notice of it (g).—Nor may I omit the kind Allowance of the ingenious and fubtle CRELLIUS: For, altho' he, with his Brethren, is for having the Civil Magistrate to appoint Officers over the Churches, yet He thinks it ought to be observed, that Officers should not be committed to any without the Consent of the whole Church: Wbo-

(d) Experientia ipsa elata Voce clamat magis aut minus florentes effe Ecclesias, prout magis aut minus libera Eledio. In Pag. ead.

Ljuid. Lib. & Author.

(f) Omnino certum eft in vetere Ecclesia post Apostolorum Atatem, etfi Jure potrit Plebs Paftores suos deligere, non id tamen semper ac

⁽e) Ab Ecclesia Eledionem rede fieri probatur ex Jure naturali. Nam naturaliter Cætui unieuique Permittitur ea procurare, que ad Conservationem sui sunt necessaria; in quo numero est Fundionum Applicatio. Ita vedtores multi Jus babent eligendi Gubernatorem Navis fue, viatores Icineris Ducem, Populus liber Regem. Grot. de Imp. Sum. Poteft. p. 258.

ubique observatum - Ejusd. Auth. & Lib. p. 260.
(8) Sed & Jus Pastores Eligendi - Sape solis Laicis concessium. apertius eft quam ut doseri debeat. Ejuld. Auth. & Libit. p. 267.

wh

inte

He

Ma

SA

of Offi

the to f

Par

Chu

fucl

An

the

Bod

thef

fron

cour

Jud

rem

alth

Apo

yet,

the gran

But

Hea

if th

Dift

NET

Pur

Man insen sided

Whoever therefore, says He, it may be; that has the Choice or Nomination of Persons to these Ecclesiastical Offices; yet it ought to be allowed to all in the Church, that if they know any just Objection against the Election, they may bring it in proper Time and Place. And there will be Reason for it, if they can not only object some Crime, against them, but also prove such a Grime as ought deservedly to take him off from his Office. This is clearly to be sound in that Canon, wherein it is prescribed, that such as are to be chosen thould be blameless. Now how can this be known, unless Enquiry be made and all have the Liberty of bringing what they know concerning such a Matter.—And truely such an Election constituted in a Church as does not have this Liberty may lawfully be reproved and accounted vicious (b).

Now what is there of Weight to be produced against such Considerations as these? It would be impertinent to talk of an immediate Call from GOD to Ecclesiastical Offices: For such a Call is not now to be expected; And yet it would be very absurd to think of officiating in any Church without any Call or Invitation at all: For none may assume such Honours to themselves but such as are called of GOD.

If then any should argue for others, that they should nominate and appoint Officers over the Churches, and not the Churches themselves: This is what we peremptorily deny: For we cannot find, that GOD our SAVI-OUR has given such Power to any Men, who are not of a particular Church, to appoint Officers in and over it. Nor can we by any Means allow, that a Number of Men of any particular Church, in Exclusion of the Multitude of their Brethren, should constitute Officers in that particular Church: For we apprehend, that, in Things which concern the whole Church, all the Church should be interested; unless it can be made to appear, that the great Head of the Church has empowered some only to act in the Matter: Now we know and are assured, that our blessed SAVIOUR has not committed to any particular Persons of whatsoever Age or Quality the Power of chusing Officers for the whole Church: Nor has He indulged the Churches with the Liberty of delegating their Power to some of their Number to chuse for them: For no Part of that Power which essentially belongs to the Churches as such can be delegated; but every Part of such Power must be exercised by the whole Churches. And therefore this Power of chusing, as it belongs to the Churches essentially considered, must be acted by the Bodies of particular Churches.

⁽h) Itaque quisquis tandem sit, qui eligat aut nominet Eosfemper permitti debet omnibus in Ecclesia, &c. Et sane qua Eledio in Ecclesia jam constituta talem Libertatem non relinquit illa jure reprehendi & vitiosa censeri potest, Crell. Ethic. Christian. L. IV. Cap. XXXI. p. 532.

There are fome, who are almost ready to concede to these Things; but yet they are for excluding the People from the Election of Ecclefiaftical Officers, on the account of their Incapacity and unfitness to form a right Judgment concerning Persons and to chuse wisely: I remember SIXTUS SENENSIS was of this Mind; for, altho' he acknowledges, that both in the Times of the Apostles and of Pope LEO the People chose their Bishops; yet, he adds (i), that it was easy for the Multitude of the Faithful to do this then; for the People were then grave, moderate and concerned for the public Benefit:-But now, continues He, the People is a Beast of many Heads, always intent upon Factions and Seditions: So that, if they had this Liberty, it would produce the greatest Disturbance in the Church: And Dr. THOMAS BUR-NET, Master of the Charter House, speaks to the same Purpose; for He says, that Elections (r), as well as the Manner of Discipline, were formerly more popular, which insensibly to avoid Confusion devolved upon those who presided over the Church.

G 2

But

⁽i) Sixius Senenf. Biblioth. Sanct. L. V. P. 466.

⁽¹⁾ Burnet. de Fide & Officiis Christianorum. Cap. IX.

calle

chal

the.

the

for kno

by :

Ant

exce

And

ing Bish

the

of C

cond

be a 236 ther

AN

of 3

fent

bati

of th their one

he :

I

I

But it is a fufficient Answer to all that can be faid to this Effect, that the People by our great Lawgiver and His Apostles are entrusted with this Privilege, and therefore, for any to fay that they are not meet for this Privilege nor capable of discharging such a Trust, it must reflect upon the boly Apostles, and even upon the Wisdom of our great SAVIOUR. And, if it should be granted, that the People may grow factious and troublesome in their Elections, and Confusions should arise by Means of them; what then? All, that this proves, is, that Churches may degenerate; and who denies that? But fuch Degeneracy in them is to be lamented and reformed; and the People should still possess and enjoy their Privilege of chusing their Officers. Even Bzovius the Jesuite was of this Mind, and he gives three Reasons why it should be so; namely, that so no Pastor may be set over such as are unwilling to have him over them, that so the Pastor may be loved by bis Sheep, and that so there may be as it were a Spiritual Marriage contracted between them by the Consent of both.

The Sum of what has bin said is, that, both from Scriptural Authority and Examples and from the Reasons of the Thing, Churches should chuse their own Officers, and that the Objections against their Enjoyment of this

Liberty are of no Force and Validity.

And, if we fearch the Archives of Antiquity, we shall find, that the Primitive Churches were in Possession of this Liberty, which thro' the Divine Goodness these Churches enjoy.

It appears from CLEMENT's first Epistle to the Corinthians, a valuable and undisputed Remain of Antiquity, that Bishops and Deacons were constituted by the Consent and Agreement or good Liking of the Church (t); that the Apostles themselves appointed qualified Persons to the Ministerial Office with the Choice of the whole Church, and indeed that they were not thought lawfully called ^() vid. Clement. Epift. I. ad Corinth.

called or chosen to their Offices, nor might reasonably challenge any Respect or Subjection from the People, unless, the whole Church concurred in the Election of them.

It is plain from an Epistle of Ignatius written to the Fraternity of the Church, that he judged it becoming for them to chuse their own Bishop (t): For you must know, that, however despised the Fraternity may be by some who are very sanguine in their Appeals to Antiquity, yet all the genuine Epistles of Ignatius, except one to Polycarp, are directed to the Brethren: And this especially is so, wherein it is said to be becoming for them as a Church of GOD to chuse or appoint a Bishop.

It is not to be doubted, but that ORIGEN was of the same Opinion; for he, writing concerning the Cities of GOD, even the Churches of Jesus Christ, and concerning the Rulers of them, affirms that they are to be chosen (r) to their Office by the Churches which they rule.

EUSEBIUS declares, that in the Year of our LORD 236, all the Faithful (u) in Rome itself did meet together in one Place to chuse another Bishop in the Room of ANTERUS: And he says, that ALEXANDER, Bishop of Jerusalem was chosen in this Manner, and then presented to the Neighbouring Bishops for their Approbation (u).

CYPRIAN a little while after testifies to this Right of the People, saying, that they have the Power of chusing their own Ministers (w) over and over again; as every one knows, that has ever consulted his Writings: And he acknowledges, that he was promoted Bishop, Populi universi Suffragio, by the Suffrage of the People (w).

The

(1) Origen. cont. Celf. lib. ult. ad Fin.

⁽t) Ignat. Epift. ad Philadelph.

⁽u) Eusebi. 1. VI. cap. 22. (u) Euseb. 1. VI. c. ii. (w) Ipsa [Plebs] maxime habet Potestatem eligendi dignos Sacerdotes, &c. Cyprian. Epist. 4. vid. etiam in Epist. 68. & in aliis Locis. (w) Cyprian, Ep. 55.

of

ME

ack

Pro

rela

Pap

first

Pec

Chu

afte

firm

No

this

Plac

their

leEti

to c

Fua

to be

Thi

FRI

the

unti

the 1

true

his the

Twe

(z)

(9

rum |

The first and most famous general Council of Nice, writing a Synodal Epistle to the African Churches to warn them against Arianism, exhorts them to chuse orthodox Bishops in the Room of the Deceased, provided they be worthy—: From which it should seem, they thought the Election of the People so necessary, that real Merit was not sufficient to make and constitute a Bishop without their free Election of him.

And that, in ancient Times a Conspiracy of Bishops could not chouse the People out of this their Right, we have a remarkable Instance to produce: For Martin, usually called Saint Martin, a little after Constantine, was made Bishop of Turon in France by the People's Election and Consent, notwithstanding all the Opposition that the Bishops could make against his Election and Settlement among them: And Abbot Fleury, in his Discourses on Ecclesiastical History, rightly observes, that in those Times so great a Regard was bad to the People's Consent, that, if they resuled to receive [a Bishop or Minister] after he was ordained, they were not forced to have him, but had another who was more agreable to them.

Posidonius in the Life of Austin fays, That that Father was of the Opinion that (x) in ordaining Priests and Clerks the Consent of the Majority of Christians and the Custom of the Church should be followed.

In the Council at Orleance in the Year of our LORD, 540, this Rule was laid down, that he is to be chosen by all who is to be fet over all (y): So that then the Churches were not so big but that all the People might join in chusing their Bishop.

And Bellarmin himself confesses, that it was the Custom in the Time of CHRYSOSTOM, AMBROSE, AUSTIN, LEO and GREGORY for the People to be

(y) Cano. 3. de ordinand. Episcop.

⁽x) Augustinus in ordinandis Saçerdotes et Clericis Consen'um majorem Christianorum et Consuetudinem Ecclesia sequendam arbitrabatur. Posidon. in Vit. Augustin. Cap. XXI.

of the Papists even go higher: For LORINUS, SAL-MERON and SANCTIUS, writing upon Act. XIV. 23. acknowlege, that it was the Primitive and Apostolic Practice for the People to chuse their own Ministers.

There are feveral Chronologers and Historians who relate concerning FELIX the Fourth, that afcended the Papal Chair in the Year of our LORD 525, that he first of all by a Law separated the Clergy from the People, while Divine Service was performing in the Churches; and BONIFACE the Second did the same after him: And the fame Thing was decreed and confirmed afterwards by fucceeding Popes and Synods: Now the very learned Hospinian observes, that this was done by them for two Reasons, in the first Place, that at length they might deprive the People of their Voices, their Suffrages and their Places in the Election of their Bishops; and, in the next Place, that so no one might be allowed in any Civil or Criminal Cause to call a Bishop or any Clergyman before a Secular Judge (p).

Nay it seems to have bin the Custom of the Churches to be concerned in the Choice of their Ministers for near Thirteen Hundred Years together: For the Emperor Frederic the Second, who deceased in the Year 1250, is thought to be the first, that was for excluding the Laity from the Election of their Officers: But, that until then the People had their Suffrages, appears from the Decretal Epistles of GREGORY the Ninth (q). 'Tis true Hilder And began to set up the Power of his Cardinals; but even he denied not the Clergy and the People their Votes in Comitis: So that until the Twelfth Century, it cannot be disputed, that even in

Rome

⁽²⁾ Bellarmin. I. I. cap. IX. de Clericis.

⁽p) Hospinian. de Origin. Templor. l. 2. cap. I. p. 29.

⁽⁹⁾ Chamier. de Ecclesia. Tom. V. p. 161. — Eledio Clericorum est Petitio Plebis. Decret. Par. I. Diftinet. 52.

is ex

ch

-V

lin

thi

Cb

Pa

9101

to

the rea

Cu

wb.

Rig

mer

An

Rig

rea

bin

cife

of t than

and

Pri

(1

Tota

ex L

confi

mase

Es n vinu

anti

dent (1)

Rome itself the People elected their Bishop. And THUANUS informs us (6), that in 585, a Popish Archbishop allowed the City of Magdeburg, Jus vocandi ac constituendi Ecclesie Ministros, sicut antea babebat; that is, their former Right of calling and appointing their own Ministers. And I may add, that, in a Gallican Council, convened in 1582, there was a Decree paffed to this Effect, namely, That so there may be a better Provision made for Cathedral Churches and Monasteries Than there has bin, especially since Elections have bin taken away; we befeech and urge his most Christian Majesty by the Bowels of Divine Mercy and the Blood of CHRIST, that, from his singular Piety towards GOD, he would, for the Divine Glory and the Good of the Church, a also for the Freedom of his own Mind from the greatest Scruple and the Deliverance of his Conscience from the greatest Tortures, restore to the Church the Power of chufing fit and useful Pastors (e).

Now it is very evident from these Testimonies, that in the Primitive Times the Right of the Churches to chuse their own Officers was acknowled, maintained and exercised; and that this was one of the last Things which the Enemy of the best Interests of Mankind wickedly ra-wished from them.

Thus then we have Scripture, Reason and Equity, the Nature of Churches in their Institution and Ends, and the Practice of the Church in the first and some succeeding Ages, all conspiring to consirm this Privilege of the Churches to chuse their own Officers: Nor can we judge any otherwise, but that the Robbing the Churches of this Privilege was great and abominable Sacrilege.

But, if any should say, that, altho' the Right of chufing and calling their Ministers be in the People, yet de Facto in many Places, and even Places professing the Reformation, they are deprived of this Right; and how

(o) Thuan. lib. 83. Pag. 85.

⁽e) Bochell, in Decret, Eccles, Gallic, I. 5. Tit. 8. c. 7 is This come to pais? In Answer to it, lest I should express myself with an exceptionable Vehemence, I chuse to transcribe the Answer of the very learned VOET to that Question, Whether the Election and Calling of Ministers be in the Power of the Church? 'Tis this. By Divine Right, fays He, This Power is in the Church. That any where This is either wholly or in Part given to Magistrates, Patrons, those who are bonoured among Men, Bishops, Ediles or others; it is owing to bumane Doings, Usurpations and Appointments: If therefore among Protestant and Reformed Divines you read of any such Thing; pray think, that they relate the Custom of the Place and the Manner there tolerated which could not be taken away; not that it is a Divine Right or the Doctrine of the Reformed or the Appointment of Fathers and Councils and the antient Church (f) And I would take Leave to add, that, as the Divine Right of People's chusing their Ministers has bin already confirmed, fo from Fathers and Councils it has bin shewn that the Primitive Churches possessed and exercifed this Right: And to prove that this is the Doctrine of the Reformed, I would put my Reader in Mind, that LUTHER, both in his Book to the Bobemians (n) and in a German (o) Tract afferted and maintained this Principle; and not only He, but CALVIN (1), ZEP-PER.

(1) Calvin. Epift. 89.

⁽¹⁾ An penes Ecclesiam? Id jure Divino. Quod alicubi in Totum aut ex Parte id tribuitur Magistratibus, Patronis, Honoratis in Seculo, Episcopis, Adilibus aut aliis quibuscunque; id ex Fadis, Usurpationibus & Ordinationibus bumanis ortum esse constat. Si ergo apud Theologos quosdam Protestantes & Reformatos tale quidlegis; cogita cos Consuetudinem Loci sui referre & morem isthic toleratum, qui tolli nondum poinis; non Jus Divinum aut Dadrinam Reformatam aut Patrum, Conciliorum & antiqua Ecclesia Placitum. Voet. Pat. II. 1. 111. Trac. I. C. IV.

⁽n) Luther. in Lib. de inftituendis Ministris ad Bohemos.
(o) Luther. in Scripto cui Tit. Quod Esclesia Parestatem bathe Leyden Divines (e) have held and maintained the fame: And above all, the renowned Flacerus ILLVRICUS in a Tract (f) has laboriously and learnedly proved this Point from every Argument that He could muster.

From the whole of what has bin offered, I would conclude this Chapter by faying, that, as these Churches are in the rightful Possession of the Power and Liberty to chuse their own Officers, which Power and Liberty they have recovered from the Oppression of unreasonable Men, while many Churches which are reckoned among the Reformed are not so happy as to enjoy it; these Churches would do well to keep this Power and Liberty as the Apple of their Eye, nor fuffer themselves to be wrought upon fo far as to part with a Privilege of fo much Worth and Importance: They ought indeed, in the Use and Exercise of their Right, to consult the Edification, Comfort and Satisfaction of their Neighbours: But, confidering their rightful Claim to the Choice of their own Officers and the many ill Consequences which will follow upon their receding from it; they ought not to allow any to deftroy or betray this their valuable Liberty: And, if any should sacrilegiously attempt to rob them of this Liberty or by any Means to binder them in the free and perfect Exercise of it, they would be very much in the Right of it to consider them among their greatest Enemies.

Chap. II.

to 12

teri

ordi

the co l befo

For

dain

Chu

gath

tion

did 1

Chu

we

Wh

afcri

uning any of O

of O muan and

Eccle

be ar

imag

And

⁽m) Zepper. Polit. Ecclefiaft. 1. 2. cap. 3.

⁽c) Baldvin. lib. Cafuum. l. 4. cap. 5.

⁽d) Vide Conftitution Eccles. Synod, National. Dord. 15781

⁽e) Synopsis Leidens. Professor. Disp. 42. Thes. 31. 36.

⁽f) Flacerus Illyric. in Tract. cui Tit. Quod Electio Epifcoporum non ad Ecolefiasticos solum, sed & ad Laicos (ut vocant) pertinet.

Chapter II.

The Right of these Churches to ordain their Ministers stated and argued.

THE Delign of this Chapter is not to deny, that, in Churches which are furnished with Prefbyteries, those Presbyteries may use Imposition of Hands and ordain: For this is what is readily acknowledged by thefe Churches.

Nothing can be more plain, than that the Church is before its ordinary Officers: I fay its ordinary Officers: For our bleffed LORD might, as He actually did, ordain Apostles, when there was yet no Evangelical Church, to disciple the Nations and baptize them and gather Churches out of fuch discipled and baptized Nat tions: But it does not appear, that the Apostles either did or could ordain any stated Officers, until there were Churches formed for the Reception of them: So that we judge it an abfurd and extravagant Thing, and the Whim of only some Ecclesiastical Don Quixots, to ascribe the Continuance of the Church to the successive uninterrupted Ordination of Officers: For, if there were any fuch Thing as a fuccessive uninterrupted Ordination of Officers, which there is hardly one found Protestant that can believe there is; still this successive Ordination of Officers wholly and entirely depends upon the Contimuance of the Church, and must be an Ast of the Church; and therefore it can never be a Means of communicating Ecclesiastical Power to others, without which there would be an End of all Ecclefiaftical Power, as some fondly imagine or would make us believe that they imagine. And besides; It must be not only a vain and idle, but H 2

an

t A

07:01

I

in #

Succe

esta are

the

thef

inest

Har

1t, 2

the.

a po

by t

as t copa

Ord

difpe

and.

·

to t

Prej

tor (

Ha

of a

Claf

byte

BAI

tha

Pre

by th

Chu

pear

PA

pari

B

an impious Attempt, to derive a Succession, upon which the Being of a Church shall depend, thro the Presence of CHRIST with the Bishops of Rome, who for an hundred Years together, namely from the Year 900 to the Year 1000, were Monsters for Ignorance, Lust, Pride and Luxury, as BARONIUS himself acknowledges,

A. D. 912. 5. 8.

And yet there are here and there some defective Protestants, who are fond of their uninterrupted Line of Succession. But we may fitly enquire of them, Why there is fuch a Thing as a Degradation, and for what Purpose it is practised at any Time among them? Certainly you will all allow, that they, who by Schism are cut off from the Church, must also be cut off from that Part of Apostolical Power to which they made their Pretentions; and fo it cannot be indelibly fixed on them. And furely, where no Part of the Apostolical Power can be claimed, there can be no Succession to it. Now, in the Church of Rome, it has bin proved by ONUPHRIUS an Historian of their own, that there have bin at least Thirty Schisms, by several, sometimes no less than five or fix at once, pretending to the Popedom: And one of the Schisms lasted more than Rifts Years, when one Pope fat at Rome, another at Avignon: Nay BELLARMINE is obliged to acknowlege, that, for above Eighty Years together, the Church for want of a lawful Pope had no other Head than what was in Heaven. And, if Schism destroys the Succession of Apostolical Power, certainly damnable Heresy, Devilism and Atheism will also do it. Now what can be said to the Complaints of BARONIUS about the End of the Ninth Century, How deformed, fays he, was the Romis Church, when Whores no less powerful than vile bore the chief Sway at Rome, and at their Pleasure changed Sees and appointed Bishops, and which is borrible to mention, did thrust their own Gallants into the See of Saint Peter. There cannot therefore be any Thing more evident than that the Succession bas failed; tho? indeed, if t were not fo, the uninterrupted Succession can never be proved.

But there are some, who, the they could never find in their Hearts to believe the mad Whim of Papal Succession and a successive Ordination, yet, in order to establish an Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction or Government, are for giving the Power of Ordination into the Hands of the Bishop or of a Synod: But it is to be hoped, that these Churches will know better than to give such an inestimable Branch of Ecclesiastical Power out of their own Hands into the Hands of others, who ought not to have it, and who in the Possession of it have always made the worst Use of it.

These Churches are far from disowning, that, when a particular Church has Elders of its own, these Elders by the Imposition of Hands may ordain such other Officers, as that Church may see Cause to elect: But our Episcopal and Presbyterian Brethren still insist upon it, that Ordination is a Part of Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction, to be dispensed, by the Bishop, say the former, by the Eldership and that consociated, say the latter.

At is evident, nor has any one yet bin able to prove to the contrary, that TIMOTHY was ordained by the Presbytery, not by any particular Bishop alone: And, for ought that yet appears, the Presbytery which laid Hands upon that Evangelist, might be the Presbytery of a particular Church, and not of a Synod or inferior Classis: Nay it is very probable, that it was the Presbytery of a particular Church: For, altho' Paul and Barnabas were Apostles, yet they were not ordained [that is to say, if they were ordained] by any Classis or Presbyterial Synod, nor yet by one single Person; but by the Presbytery of one particular Church, namely the Church at Antioch.

But you will enquire, it is very likely, how it appears that the Eldership, in Act. XIII, which ordained PAUL and BARNABAS, was but the Presbytery of one particular Congregation? And I answer, that this is plain plain from Act. XIV. 27, which clearly represents to us, that the Church of Antioch was not so great but that it could affemble in one Place; and, that the whole Multitude at the Return of PAUL and BARNABAS from the Synod at Jerusalem met together to hear the Epistle which that Synod had sent them, this is very manifest from Act. XV. 30 and 31. Now therefore the Conclusion must be this, that, the Church at Antioch being but one particular Church, the Presbytery, by which PAUL and BARNABAS were ordained, could not be a Synodical Presbytery, but the Presbytery of a particular Church.

There is, I confess, a considerable Noise made both by our Presbyterian and Episcopal Brethren about the Epiftles to TIMOTHY and TITUS: For, while the former are endeavouring to support and establish their belowed Glasses and Synods from TIMOTHY's Ordinations the latter continue to insist upon it, that these Epistles are purely Episcopal: But the best Construction, which can be made of those Epistles is plainly this; to wit, that they were not designed for those Evangelists alone, nor any Ministers alone, but for a State that was mixed, wherein the faid Evangelists, having some assisting Prefbyters or other Officers, administred and executed the Affairs of the Christian Society with the Allowance, Com fent and good Agreement of the People: For, altho' the Epiftles be written by Name, and fay especially, to TIMOTHY and TITUS; still there can be no Question but that they were really intended for general Use and Advantage: And this is what we may fairly conclude from the Apostle's Wish, Grace be with you, Grace be with you all, which closes one Epistle and another: For it cannot be well imagined, that these Wishes are only belonging to the Evangelists, to whom the Epistle are directed. Why then should it be conceeded to our Brethren of the Church of England, that the Apostle writes his three Epiftles to two Arch-Bishops or Matropolitans; especially when, as the famous CALDERpiatr

Mon Gonfo Defe from your Arch Thir byter are in them teries

A cannot we to first have vious the Write even copa

teries

that still bas made other

rulea

fent

this

(x)

wood observes, there is not so much as one Thing inserted in them that can properly serve the Arch-Bishop or Metropolitan? For, adds he, here are no Apostolical Monitions about convoking Synods of Bishops, concerning Consecrations of Bishops, concerning the Correction of the Defects and Excesses of Prelates, and receiving Appeals from Episcopal Consistories; altho these, according to your Hierarchical Gentlemen, are the chief Offices of Arch-Bishops (x) .- And why should we allow those Things to be found in these Epistles, which our Prefbyterian Brethren fondly value, when no fuch Things are in these Epistles? If it were actually declared in them, that in Crete and at Epbefus there were Prefbyteries; yet where do we read of the Powers to be claimed by these Presbyteries or the Subjection of these Presbyteries to other and superior Judicatories?

As to those, who considently report, that Ordination cannot be validly and lawfully performed but by a Bishop; we think it a sufficient Answer to say, that we find the street Mention of a Bishop distinct from Presbyters to have bin about Three Hundred Years after our Saviour: And this is no more than what many of the more sober and considerate of the Episcopalian Writers are free to acknowlege: And we conceive, that even then, for ought that the Friends of Diocesan Episcopacy have bin able to prove to the contrary, there was no Bishop who had any Jurisdiction or Authority over other Ministers, but who in common with other Ministers ruled and governed the Churches according to their Confent and Agreement.

But, if for Argument's fake it should be allowed, that the Bishop was a distinct Order from the Presbyter; still this will be no Demonstration, that the Bishop alone has the Power of ordaining: How then shall we be made sensible of it, that the Bishop alone should have this Power? Alas! Consident Affertions of a Thing will never convince us concerning the Truth of it, especially of such a Thing as this which can never be proved: For in the whole New Testament there is not so much as one Instance of an Ordination that was per-

⁽x) Didoclav. Altar. Damafcen, p. 37.

y

70

th

W

fa

tai ce

tia

to

in

if

of

TOP

by or,

the

Wo

pla

the

Ma

For

ST

affin

fore

to i may thre

foor

coor

Mar

Prie Prie

Ikn

of th

FRI

formed by a fingle Person.

Let us therefore turn to our Presbyterian Friends and attend to what they have to offer: Now they are ready to object and fay, But, dear Brethren, where do you read of any Ordinations but by Presbyters? For Answer to these our entirely beloved Brethren, there is no need of referring them to the Direction, in Numb. VIII. 10, Thou shalt bring the Levites before the LORD, and the Children of Israel shall put their Hands upon the Levites; from which Direction some have argued, that when a Church is destitute of Elders and Elders cannot conveniently be bad from another Church, then Imposition of Hands may be performed by some of the considerable Men of the Congregation, altho' they should not be Elders; and that therefore, what was performed in the Church of Ifrael, may in the like Case be at present performed.

But, waving this Argument, I shall now remark and shew, that the Case may be such as that, if Ordination be really requisite, by the Imposition of Hands, then it may be performed by such as are not Officers at all in the Church: Now this is very clear; for the State of Things may be such, that there cannot be any Ordination at all by the Imposition of the Hands of Elders: And in such a State as this, as there are no Elders or Bishops, either there must be no Ordination by the Imposition of Hands at all, or else the Ordination must be performed by such as are no Officers: And, that this may be the Case of a Church, that Ordination cannot be performed by Officers in it, this shall presently be made evident.

To such therefore as are of the Opinion, that Ordination by Officers is so necessary that there is no performing it without them, we may calmly address ourselves and expostulate; Dear Sirs, How will you prove the Necessity

Necessity of Ordination for Elders or Bishops? And if you will have it necessary, I pray, what shall be done where there are no Ecclesiastical Officers to be had? For this may be the Case of a Society of Christians by Shipwreck thrown upon a Place where there are no Elders; fay, upon the Island of Bermuda; which erects its folitary Head in the Atlantic at a Distance from other Places: Suppose in this Case Mr. PAUL should providen+ tially come among them, who had never bin separated to the Evangelical Ministry; might he not teach and instruct them in the Principles of Christianity? And, if Ordination were necessary in order to his Dispensation of the Word and Ordinances, might not the poor Shipwreck'd Christians properly ordain him and separate him by the Imposition of Hands to the Work of the Ministry? or, which to me is the same Thing, by the laying on of their Hands, commend bim to the Grace of GOD in that Work to which they have called him? Truely it is very plain to me that they might. This is certain, that, at the Beginning of the Reformation in Scotland, the old Manner of electing and ordaining Ministers was perform'd without Imposition of Hands, as may be feen in KNOK's Forms prefix'd to the old Psalms: And the ingenious STEUART, in the Fourteenth Page of his Collections, affirms this Ordination was lawful and valid. If therefore it should be thought too much for Brethren chosen to it to impose Hands on elected Officers; certainly we may claim the electing and ordaining Power for the Brethren without it. And this is what all Men would foon discover, if it were not for the Interest of some worldly minded Persons to entangle the Sentiments of Mankind and lead them aside.

Antiquity is no Stranger to such an Opinion as ours: For FRUMENTIUS, who was not in holy Orders, went and preach'd to the Indians, and afterwards was made a Priest and Bishop by ATHANASIUS: But no one that I know of ever faulted his Conduct: Nor has the King of the Iberians bin condemned, altho, before he was ordained by Elders or even baptized, he converted this Subjects, and, according to the ancient Historian, before be was initiated himself was the Apostle of his Countrey. And it is probable, that many even in the Times of the Apostles preach'd and receiv'd Orders from the Churches to which they came : For Sanctius (a) affirms and acknowleges with BARONIUS, that more than Fifteen Thousand went out from Jerusalem to propagate the Gospel: But we can by no Means suppose, that they were ordained canonically and in an ample Form, as indeed these Roman Catholicks themselves are free to declare that they were not thus ordained. To be fure the Bohemian Brethren, whom they call Picards, shought themselves empowered to ordain their own Ministers: For, in the Year 1456, they form'd themselves into Christian Churches, and from twelve that were chosen they selected and constituted three by Lot for their Mimisters (b). And the first Reformers laid this Principle of the worthy John Huss as the Foundation of the Reformation, that the Law of CHRIST is Sufficient for the Government of His militant Church without the Addition of any bumane Laws: And, left they or their Potterity should fall off from this Foundation, they protested, that, in order to preserve their Assemblies so professing the pure Doctrine of the Golpel from being feattered, they would be careful to keep a Supply of faithful Ministers; and that therefore, without expecting any in Orders to come over to them from the Church of Rome, they were (c) for ordaining them at bome, whom they chose for their Ministers.

And this leads me to demand, how we shall do, if we cannot improve the Officers, which we may obtain, to confer boly Orders? For it sometimes happens, that, where -10 to agome I show a contra

I

0

de fu

al

in fre

be

Bi

pr

WC Po

Op 566

44 /

66 V

460 se r

Se to 66 er

44 T

Acers

dina belo

orda

gelat

⁽a) Sond in Act. VIII. 4. and XI. verf. 19. 20 minnoled

⁽b) Lazicius in Apolog. cont. magn. Ducem Moscorum

⁽c) Ordinandos effe Domi. pro necessitate, Regenvolfe, Hist. Ecclel. Sclavonic. p. 30.

Officers may be had to perform this Service, those Officers, as well as the Churches to which they belong, may be fo very corrupt or wicked that it would be better not to improve them: And therefore we need not be afraid or ashamed to declare, that, if our Churches here can have no Ministers but what must be ordained by Popish Bishops, the Case appears to us as forrowful, as if the poor Sheep in the Wilderness could have none but Welves to appoint Shepherds over them: Bleffed be God, this is not the Case with these Churches. But let the Case be imagined, that there may be a general Combination of degenerate Pastors in a Countrey, who will be for dispensing Ordination to none but such as will partake with them in their Degeneracy or submit unto sinful Terms; where a particular Church is desirous to have all Things according to the Pattern in the Mount : Now in this Case would not the making the Imposition of Hands from fuch Ministers as have bin themselves ordained, to be effential to the Call of a Minister, be a Piece of foolists Bigotry, to which no found Protestant can fafely and prudently subscribe? Truely it seems to be so. And we are fure, that BEZA, in the famous Conference at Poiss, clearly and fully renounced fuch an enfraring Opinion, and maintain'd, that " unto a legitimate Call "Imposition of Hands was not necessary; but that the "chief and substantial Tokens thereof were a good Life, " found Doctrine and Election [from the People 1] Nor "was it to be wondred at, if the Reformed had not reseeived Imposition of Hands from them, whose cor-" rupt Life, Superstition and false Doctrine they were " to reprove? Or how could it be expected, they should " ever be allowed of by them, who were Enemies to the "Truth which they defended"?

And, in fine, I would enquire of the Patrons of Ordination by Officers, whether even good and meet Officers, belonging to other Churches, may claim the Power of ordaining Elders over Churches to which they are not related? Tho' there may be very desirable Officers and I 2 in every Respect well qualified near at Hand; nover theless it does not appear, that even these bave Authority or may assume to themselves the Power of ordaining Elders to other Churches, of which they are neither Members not Officers; unless those particular Churches, in which the Elders are to be ordained, request their Presence and Assume: For ordinary Officers are not like the Aposed tles, who might feed all the Flock of our Saviour; but there is one particular Flock, of which, and of which alone, they are to take the Overfight.

If indeed it were acknowleged that we read in fundry Places of Ordination performed by Elders, the the Proof of this is difficult; and that we never read in the New Testament about the Performance of it by any others: This however is nothing at all against what has bin offered: For, altho we should allow, that, in such Churches as are furnished with Elders, Ordination should be performed by those Elders; we may nevertheless with Safety maintain, that, where there are not Elders as at !! the first, nor any that can be conveniently borrow'd from other Churches, Ordination by the Imposition of Hands may then be validly and lawfully performed by others. And it is no more than what a famous Bishop of Salifant bury, in his Exposition on the thirty nine Articles, has freely declared: For He affirms, that, whatever forms botter Spirits have since thought of it; yet not only those who pen'd the Articles, but the Body of the Church for above bulf an Age afterward were of a Persuasion which implied, that they thought no spiritual Powers me ceffory for the Exercise of the Evangelical Ministry, except what the People could convey to fuch of their Body as they might judge qualified for it.

We may also be free and ready to grant, that Elders meeting in a Council or Synod, with Brethren, may at the Desire of a particular Church, ordain its Officers. But then, as it has bin the Judgment of these Churches in Times past, there is yet no good Reason why these Churches should change their Judgment, that the Electric Churches should change their Judgment, that the Electric Churches should change their Judgment, that

ders
for own part fhor Pow
that

orde T tor tinat publ publi he e Bapt belong Quell Divi Whi form any l admin but b again does 1 both to And as affe Numb by the would

As an Off they ju ordinar tion by they h cerning

ders fo convened in Council or Synod with their Brethren for this Service, have no Power or Jurisdiction of their own, but not by vertue of the Power derived from the particular Churches which fent for them : So that, in short, particular Churches are the first Subjects of this Power of ordaining; as it is for particular Churches that Councils or Synods convene, when they meet in tles, who had a leaf order to ordain Officers for them.

The very learned FABRITIUS, the Principal Document tor of Divinity in the Reformed Church of the Palas tinates whose Life is written and whose Works are published by the great HEIDEGGER at Zurich, 1698, published two Dialogues in 1685, in the latter of which he endeavours to demonstrate that the Controversy about Baptism by a private Man in Case of Necessity does not belong to the fundamental Articles of Faith, but to the Question concerning Order, it being appointed by the Divine Law that all Things should be done in order; Which principally confifts in this, that every one period form the Duty belonging to his Charge: And therefore if any Man, even a Laic, be appointed by the Church to administer the Sacrament, if he does it, he does nothing but his Duty and neither offends against the Faith or against good Order. The learned FABRITIUS indeed does not lay this down as of himself; but he commends both the Ancients and Moderns who are of this Opinion. And by the same Rule he would have commended such as affert the Right of the Brethren to appoint some of their Number to confer Orders on Officers call'd and chosen by themselves; and so our generous and noble Parents would have bin applauded by bim for their Opinion concerning Ordination.

As our Fathers tho't, that Ordination did not constitute an Officer nor give bim the Essentials of bis Office: For they judged, that the Effence of the outward Call of an ordinary Officer consisted, not in that, but in his free Election by the Church and his Acceptance of that Choice : So they have declared their Opinion, in the Ninth Chap-elect.

VOI

Cap

Elet

which

Nov

Peri

of or

Sing

Agho

BAN

Favo

For.

at L

must

a Bi

no N

the (

Ateen

there

Chur

CRO

1000 mg I

ple:

Ordi

ful:

lawfi Chur

SOW

CLA

own copal

depen

look'a

and temp

he h

2333

ter of their Platform, that, in Churches where there we no Elders, Imposition of Hands on Officers elected may be performed by some of the Brethren orderly chosen by the Church for that Service: And the Reason which the there affign for this is a good one: For, fay they, if the People elect Officers which is the greater, and wherein the Substance of the Office doth consist, they may much more Occasion and Need requiring, impose Hands in Ordina tion, which is less, and but the Accomplishment of the other. But, notwithstanding the Claim of this Right for our Churches, they go on afterwards and fay, it the same Chapter, Nevertheless in Churches, where the have no Elders, and the Churches defire it, we fee not abby Imposition of Hands may not be performed by the Elders of other Churches.

must fird be everyweed. Nor are our worthy Predecessors singular in the their Sentiments. The pious and learned PERKINS writing concerning Ordination and Succession, in his Commentary on Gal. I. ii. fays, that, if in Turkey or America, or elsewhere the Gospel be received of Men by the Counsel or Persuasion of private Persons, they should not need to fend unto Europe for consecrated Ministers but have Power to chuse their own from within them felves: And his Reason is because, where GOD given the Word, He gives Power also. And PHILIP ME LANCTHON, the gracious and excellent, expresses him felf much after the same Manner in his Answer to the Bohemian Ministers, who taught the incorrupt Doctrine of the Gospel, and refutes the Pretent of Ordination of be taken from Bishops from the first Chapter of the Epistle to the Galatians. And the Author of the vo luable Scotch Dispute against English Geremonies, freely declares, in pag. 285th, that, as, when Princes are elected, the Election gives them Jus ad Rem, as they freeh without which the Inauguration can never give them In in Re; so it is as to a Minister; And Ordination only applied him to the actual exercifing of his Pastoral Offices which Ordination should be given to bim slove thats elected, elected, and that because he is so. And the learned NOET, in his Desperat. Caus. Papat. L. H. Sect. II. Cap. XX, has irrefragably proved against Jansentus, Electionem tribuere Ministerium, that it is the Choice which makes the Minister, by six or seven Arguments. Now, from these declared Sentiments of such eminent Persons, it appears very plain to me, that the Thorse of our Predecessors may be cleared from the Charge of Singularity, and with Ease be supported and justified.

Nay I cannot but think, that even Arch-Billion BANCROFT has furnished us with a good Argument in Favour of the Opinion maintain'd by our Ancestors: For, before the Confecration of the three Scotch Bishops at London, ANDREWS the Bishop of Ely faid, They must first be ordained as baving received no Ordination by Bishop : But BANCROFT maintain'd, that there was no Necessity for it, seeing, where Bishops could not be bad, the Ordination given by Presbyters must be valid and esteemed lawful: For otherwise it might be doubted, if there was any lawful Vocation in most of the Reformed Churches. Now, by the same Argument of Ban-CROFT'S, (which is to be found in Sporswood's Hiff. 1. 7. p. 514.) there will be no Difficulty in maintaining the Validity and Lawfulness of Ordination by the People! For, where Bishops or Presbyters cannot be had, Ordinations by them must be valid and esteemed lawful: Otherwise it may be doubted whether there be any lawful Vocation in many, if not most, of the Reformed Churches.

Wherefore I cannot but fay with the celebrated Mr. CLAUDE, that the fierce Opinion that goes so bigh as to own no Ministry in the World, but where there are Episcopal Ordinations, and which would make all Religion depend on a disputable Formality; that Opinion can't be look'd upon any otherwise than the very worst Character and the grossest Mark of Hypocrisy and worthy of Contempt from all the Christians in the World. But what he has thus strongly, but justly, expressed concerning the

SS V

-110

WHO W

M. 0

10:1

lear

hig

cula

true

of h

de:

that

SC W

se ti

ec P

45 fo

66 O " C

SS W

44 51

44 in

se na 46 Te

622

46 W si he

« P ss th

se de

 60

M th

Se fir es the

46 W es the

1 po

TE C

er fre

A

the hot Opinion about the Necessity of Episcopal Orisnations; I would fay and maintain the very same concerning the Opinion about the Necessity of Ordination by a Presbytery, as well as a Bishop: And it will give me very little Uneafiness, however vex'd and angry or troubled any may be with me for being of this Mind and freely declaring it: For I am fatisfied, that their Trouble or Anger must arise either from groundless Fancies or fomething worse: So that I cannot have any Reason to be diffurb'd or uneasy at it.

But, after all, some will challenge us to produce any Texts of Scripture that give Laymen a Right to order Ministers in any Case. And, as this is the Challenge which the Author of The Prejudices, &c. made to the famous Mr. CLAUDE, I shall recite his Reply to it, which to me appears a full and fufficient one: "It is to be found in his Defence of the Reformation, P. IV. p.

And realization process "This Demand, fays he, is but a vain Wranglings For, when the Scripture recommends to the Faithful " the taking diligent heed to the Prefervation and Confirmation of their Faith and to propagate it to their "Children; it gives them by that very Thing a fuffiseens Right to make Use of all proper Means to that 55 End: And every Body knows the Ministry is one of those Means: And therefore the Obligation the "Faithful are under to preserve and propagate the Faith includes that of creating to themselves Pastors " when they cannot have them otherwise: In short, when the Scripture teaches, that the Faithful have a Right to chuse their Pastors, it teaches thereby that " they have a Right to install them in their Office in "Case of Necessity: For that Call consisting much more effentially in Election than in Installation, which is but " a Formality, there is no Reason to believe, that Gov would have given the People a Right to chuse their Paftors and to have them installed by others, and that He has not given them at the fame Time 66 Power . 13.

He Power of installing them themselves, when it cannot be the done otherwise. Since naturally That, which we have to Right to do by

M ourfelves". Thus he.

10 Nay, not only the celebrated CLAUDE, but the learned Donwal, that mighty Oracle of the diffracted, high-flying Clergy, acknowleges fuch a Right in partirular Societies of chusing and investing their Officers. Tis true this is not at all reconcileable with the other Parts of his [Romantic] Scheme: But this is nothing to us. It is in his Separation of Churches, [P. 102 and 42.] that he writes after this Manner; "The Church, with whom God has made the Covenant, is a Body Poll-" tic, tho' not a Civil one; and Gop has defigned all Persons to enter into this Society. - It is sufficient 15 for my Purpose, that the Ecclesiastical Power be no otherwise from God, than that is of every supreme " Civil Magistrate. It is not usual for Kings to be inwested into their Offices by other Kings, but by their st Subjects: Yet, when they are invested, that doth not in the least prejudice the Absoluteness of their Mo-"narchy, where the Fundamental Constitutions of the " respective Places allow it to them .- And fin Pag. g22 and 523) he fays, "Whenever a Person is involted with the supreme Power, and the Society over which so he is placed is independent on other Societies, fuch a "Person can never be placed in his Power, if not by " them who must after be his Subjects, unless by his Predeceffor, which no Society can depend upon for a "constant Rule of Succession. I am apr to think, this must have bin the Way of making Bishops at first, how absolute soever I conceive them to be when "they are once made. This feems best to agree " with the Absoluteness of particular Churches, before " they had by Compact united themselves under Metro-# politans and Exarchs into Provincial and Diocefan 16 Churches. And this feems to have bin fitted for the "frequent Perfecutions of those earlier Ages, sober 5. Eller

-

U

55

4

G

66

66

45

CE A

904 alg

ec B

100

56.8

CAPE

400 ee 6

29.6

esi a

se ti

55 (

66 b

se or e f

44 G

ec F

es no

, " g

ुक्र ती

1169 m

an

COMP

Mevery Church was able to secure its own Succession, without depending on the uncertain Opportunities of the meeting of the Bishops of the whole Province And the Alterations of this Practice, the giving of the Bishops of the Province an Interest in the Choice " of every particular Colleague, feems not to have bin fo much for want of Power in the particular Churches to "do it, as for the Security of Compacts, that they might be certain of fuch a Colleague as would observe them. He It is probable, that it was in Imitation of the Philosophers Successions, that these Ecclesiastical Successions were framed: And, when the Philosoof phers fail'd to nominate their own Successors, the Election was in the Schools'. Now, granting thek Things, we have all that we defire: For, if every particular Church has originally a Power within it felf to chufe and invest its Bishop, and the Concurrence of other Bishops berein be not for want of Power in particular Churches, but only for the securing an [uncertain] Agreement of farbitrary and troublesome Bishops among themselves; then certainly all particular Churches, according to the common Principles of all Societies, have a latent Power of electing and investing their Officers; altho, by the Laws of the Community, or thro' Custom they may confign the Exercise of this Power to a particular Order of Men amongst them .- And with this we are saif-

But I have not yet exhausted my Stock: I have other Testimonies to produce in Confirmation of the Sentiments of those who founded these Churches.

A very valuable and ingenious Scotchman, whose Name is ALEXANDER LAUDER in his Ancient Bishops considered has these Passages; "The People had an inherent Right to separate from the Bishops at the Reformation; because the Communion of the Bishops was then Idolatrous, and so polluted that it could not be continued in without manifest Hazard.

Then they had also an inherent Right to fet up another

s Communion, diffinct from the polluted and hazardous Communion of these Bishops, or set up new Assemss blies? For their Souls would have bin in Hazard, if " they had lived separately and had not set up new "Communions or Affemblies, thro' want of Sacra-"ments and other Means of Grace or Access to wor-" thip God in a public Way .- There is no Right "more authentic than that which is founded on indifse penfable Necessity: In that Case God has not only is given People a Right to do the Thing, but has laid wan Obligation upon them to do it .- The People had Walfo an inherent Right to fet up new Bishops and Prefbyters to themselves; - supposing that not one ordained Person had joined with them in their Separation, and that all the Bishops and Presbyters without Exception had adher'd unto the Pope and the Roman "Church. - What Probability is there, that CHRIST "would refuse to give His People a Right or Power " to do what was needful for them; contrary to His express Promise, that He will give Grace and Glary and withold no good Thing from them that walk up-"rightly? Bishops and Presbyters after their Separation were necessary for them: They could not enjoy " the Ordinances of the Gospel without them: - It must be faid, either that CHRIST gave them a Right to e create Bishops and Presbyters to themselves or obliged to " have Recourse to the Church of Rome for them .- To "Suppose that is ridiculous and monstrous; yearistis a Blasphemy, and a Reflection upon the Wisdom of "God Almighty: For, according to this Supposition, "He laid it on them as a Duty to separate from the idola-"Trous Popifi Communion and erect distinct Churches to "no Purpose at all, and to bring them into as great or "greater Difficulties than they would have bin in if " they had continued in the Idolatrous Popish Com-" munion". - And the same worthy Writer, quoting an Order of a Council at Rome, that the Bishop to be confeorated be chosen by all the Church, and an Order of 64 CONS. K 2 another

1

66

550

55

46

564

550

66

66 lea

De

in 66 the stay

55-1

86 (

66 8

66 1

ec [

26

66

66

56.7

...

66.8

66 N

5615

56

FF 1

ma

BUL

makes this agreable Reflection in the Margin in Hence it is sevident, that Perfons are constituted or made it is evident, that Perfons are constituted or made is Bishops by the Election of the People, and not by Ording in action which is performed by Bishops. One is made on constituted a Bishop by that, by which he is added to the high Dignity of the Ministry But, seacording to these Councils, the Suffrage of the People is the Thing, and not an Ordination, that attrances to one to the high Dignity of the Ministry This is stable evident from Canon XXII. of the Council of Constantinople: For in it the Election and Promotion of a Bishop are one Thing. Thus he, and the worthy Mr. SIMON BROWNE, in an Ordination-Sermon preached not long fince by him found himself obliged to give into such Sentiments as these; " Neither Ordination by Bifliops nor by other Ministers is absolutely necessary to the Being of the 561 Ministry. A Person may be a Minister without Vi Ordination by other Ministers. This Power is not H given, but acknowleded and declared in Ordination. the And yet in many Cafes a Man may be obliged to Miche Work when he cannot be ordained . And where the Obligation is notorious and plain, there is a In furficient and valid Declaration of his Ministerial 56 Power or of the Will of CHRIST that he should act in " his Office. If a Company of Christians were Ship-"wreck'd on a remote and unknown Shore, to which they were uncapable of fetching ordained Ministers finfrom any other Place; I think a Man must be out of his "Wits to affert, that this Body of Men must live like Medbers, and not openly own CHR IST by performing "all common Christian Exercises in public Assemblies " for want of an ordained Minister. Without Doubt he who was the most capable among them to teach the " relt and perform the other Duties of a Minister, with to bound in Conscience to undertake that Works and, if 35 obliged to do the Work of a Minister, he had certainly · AuAuthority from CHR IST to be a Minister similes we make CHRIST'S Commands contradictory, and fay, A Man was obliged in Duty to do that, subich "when done would be unlowful and a Sin for want of se fufficient Authority! The like may be faid, if Miinifers or Bisbops refuse Ordination to qualified Men. "unless they will submit unto unlawful Terms, and no other Ministers can be procured to do the Work; 55 which was the Case of several of the first Reformers ? "In these and all such like Cases Ceremonies must be " waved, whilft a due Regard is had unto what is chief "Sandeprintipal". The vitere be vite veen week the Nor may I leave the Judgment of the uncommonly learned VOET untranscribed, as he has left it, in his Desperat. Caus. Papatus. L. II. Sect. II. Cap. XXI. in Answer to JANSENIUS, where he says as follows. The Succession and Calling of Pastors can and ought to be repaired by the Church, that is to fay, by the Society or Company of the Faithful, tho' they be altoth gether destitute of Bishops and Presbyters: For every "Church has effentially and properly the Power of "Calling, tho' it may put over some Acts of that Calling "to fome other Persons: For, as the Pope is created " and confecrated by those who are not Popes, and as " the High Priest in the Old Testament was consecrated " by his Inferior; so a Bishop may be proclaimed, con-"fitured and endowed with Ministerial Power by a " Presbyter, and a Presbyter by any Member of the "Church, that is peculiarly delegated to that Service "by the Suffrages of his Brethren. And indeed what "Thould hinder that the formal Solemnity of Confe-" cration may not in fuch a necessitous Case be laid "afide, and that he who is lawfully chosen may not "without it perform the Business of his Ministry? Truely there is nothing at all, that from the Divine "Right of fuch Formalities can shew them to be a " necessary Mean". And in the same Chapter He has many other Passages to the same Purpose. Wherefore BUA.

I cannot but fall into the same Declaration with him in the lifth Part of his Select Disputations, De Eccle. P. 384. Our Belgian Churches, as also the French Churches and others are true Churches and indeed pure, yea and integral; tho' they want Bishops as at this Day called. And their Ministers are true Ministers, truely and lawfully called; tho' they neither have that pretended Episcopal Ordination, nor would have it or care at all for it. These Citations, as well as the foregoing ones, are of great Weight and Importance, not only on the Account of the Character and Quality of the Writers, which with many may go pretty far; but also because, let their Character and Quality be what it will, their Arguments are well supported and confirmed.

the de

ke

m

in

CO

acc

in the

of.

all

Sign

the cer.

tra

SE

leg

9111

(

Zion

unit

Es (

qua

vid.

rehearsed, when even Father PAUL, in his Treatise of Beneficiary Matters, says expressly, "Pope Leo shews thamply, that the Ordination of a Bishop could not be samply, that the Ordination of a Bishop could not be samply and approved by them; which is said by all the Saints of those Times: And St. Gregory thought Constants of those Times: And St. Gregory thought Constants being elected by the Clergy, without the Consent of the Citizens, who by Reason of Persection retired to Genoa; and He prevailed that they should be first sent unto to know their Will. It should be first sent unto to know their Will. It when that Election is declared to be illegitimate and small, in which the People have any Share". Thus

Thus I have shewn the Opinion of our discerning Predecessors concerning Ordination, and recited various Arguments and Authorities by which their Opinion may be defended and justified: And I am sure, that however amis any may think of their Opinion on any other Accounts, they can have no Reason to plane them for being alone and singular in it: For there has him a mix'd Company introduced of the very same Opinion with them.

It is needless to confirm these Things from the encil ent Writers: One CYPRIAN is enow for our Purpole, whom we have all reason to believe in a Matter of Fast, altho' his Authority may not go very far with us; For he, speaking of Ordination by the Suffrage of the whole Brotherhood of the Church, is to free as to declare upon it, that (d), according to Divine Tradition and Apostolical Practice, this Custom is to be diligently kept and preserved among us, as it is throughout all the Provinces almost: And his Testimony is so clear concerning this Matter, that it would be superfluous to mention any other, de universa Fraternitatis Suffragio, concerning the Right of the Fraternity to give their Suffrages in all Ordinations. Suffrages in all Ordinations.

Instead therefore of producing any other Citations in Confirmation of the Remarks which have bin made: I shall write in the Style of the foremention'd Author concerning Ordinations, Let those Ordinations be Hill accounted lawful and just which pass the Suffrage and Judgment of all (e); adding the Remark of ORIGEN; in his Sixth Homily upon Leviticus (f); Tho, fays he, the LORD bad commanded concerning the Consecration of the Priest and had chosen him; yet the People and even all the Congregation was gathered together on that Occa-Sion: For in the Ordination of a Priest the Presence of the People is required that they may all know and be certified, &c. and that afterwards there may be no Retractation and Scruple: From which Words SIXTUS SENENSIS, a learned Roman Catholic Writer, acknowleges, that ORIGEN seems to allow the People some -uk hus I have the

(e) Sir Ordinatio ifta justa et legitima, qua omnium Suffragiis & Judicio fuerit examinata. Ejufd. Epift. 68.

⁽d) Diligenter de Traditione Divina & Apostolica Observatione fervandum eft & renendum apud nos quoque, ut fere per universas Provincias tenetur. Cyprian. Epift. 68.

⁽¹⁾ Requiritur enim in ordinando Sacerdose & Prafentia Populi, ut omnes Sciant & certi fint. - Es boc aftanie Popula, ne qua postmodum Restaltatio cuiquam, ne quis Serupulus resideret. vid, Origen, Homil. 6 in Levit.

Authority in the Choice of their Bishops (g), tho' he afterwards endeavours to prove the contrary! But we have to our Comfort, the Testimony of the Abbot FLEURY, another learned Roman Catholic Writer, in his Difcourfes on Ecclefiastical History, that the People were consulted in Things wherein they were any Ways concerned, as in Ordinations: And of this, writes he, we have Inflances in CYPRIAN; and the very Form of ordaining still makes it appear. vid. Pont. Rom. Hift. L. XXIV. N. 40. MADE ALL DIE DE LE CONTREMENTALE The Laborat of State of the sta

Quality of the community of the collection of the Res Was a Kall troops a post out two last of sale office and

THE STATES OF THE PARTY OF THE

the Bush of the state of the state of the state of

The state of the s

pulling the first term of the first has the first being Chap. III. 7

for oth lific dou

bef

Ho Chu

fra

gate

the PA to] ther

EP/

fent Gosp 5 ar

mun

TRABILITIES TO THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF

Tive Cart 150 to a series of the contract of the cartes and the ca

AND LANGUE WHITE LAND WORLD TO IN LOCATION THE PARTY SHOWS

10 the definition of the state of the second of the state of the state

(g) Sint. Senenf. Biblioth. Sanct. 1. V. p. 465.

Chapter III.

The Right of these Churches to send forth their Elders and other Delegates upon proper Occasions, and to call them to an Account upon their Return maintained.

A S Churches cannot with Convenience repair to distant Places upon recurring Occasions; it is for this Reason requisite and necessary, that on such Occasions they should use the vicarious Help of others. And, as every particular Church, that hath Elders and other Members adorned with mental and gracious Qualifications fitting them for public Service, hath an undoubted Right to improve and make Use of them in the best Manner and on the best Occasions; so, if the Honour of our blessed Lord and the Welfare of any of the Churches require it, they have then the Liberty of instructing and sending forth their Elders and other Delegates.

Thus it was unquestionably in ancient Times. For the Brethren of the Church at Antioch determined that Paul and Barnabas and certain others should go up to Jerusalem to consult the Apostles, Elders and Brethren there. And the Philippians sent forth the worthy Epaphroditus to the Apostle Paul with a Present; for this is the meaning of their Fellowship in the Gospel, for which the Apostle thanks GOD, in Phil. I. 5 and 6 Verses. It means their contributing or communicating to his Support while he was in Bonds to make Apology for the Gospel before that roaring Lion Nerol And it appears from Chap. II. Vers. 25th of that Epistle, that Epaphroditus was their Messenger, who also in Return was to act in our Apostle's Behalf and discharge his Office to the Philippians: For this is the Sense of the Verse, your Apostle or Messenger and the Performer of my Office towards you (b), as a very ingenious Man has justly expressed it. And we read of one, whose Praise was in the Gospel throughout all the Churches, that was chosen by the Churches to travel with our Apostle on a charitable Occasion, in 2 Cor.

tl

la

f

to

th

w.

lei

bin

th

ne

an

the

hi

ap is

Li

me

im

any tra

the

VIII. 18 and 19.

And, that the Churches continued afterwards to claim this Right, it will abundantly appear from CLEMENT's first Epistle to the Corinthians: For this Epistle, which weareth his honourable Name, was fent by the Church of Rome unto the Corinthians by CLAUDIUS, EPHE-BUS, VALERIUS, BIBO, FORTUNATUS, who were their Apostles (i) or Messengers to the Church at Corinth: And these Persons, you must know, were not Officers in the Church at that Time, nor appear to be mention'd at all under that Character; but they were prudent and fit Members of that Christian Community to be fent with this Epistle and act in Behalf of the Church of ROME: It follows therefore, that, as this Letter was fent by the Church and these Messengers were appointed and dispatch'd in the Name of the Church with it, the Church must be heartily consenting unto the sending of the Letter and the Messengers; and that therefore the Church must meet together; for, without this, how could they confent to the sending Letter or Messengers to the Church of the Corinthians?

Particular Churches then are posses'd of this Right and Privilege of appointing and sending forth Elders and other Delegates on suitable Occasions: And by the same

⁽h) Vestrum autem Apostolum & mei muneris vicarium Cossellios (i) vid. Clement. Epist. ad Corinth.

fame Reason they may call them to an Account at their Return: And, if upon Enquiry it shall be found, that they have done any Thing prejudicial to the Truth and Peace of the Gospel, they may justly expostulate with them and ask the Reasons of their Conduct and refuse to regard what they have bin doing.

Nor indeed can any Thing be more fit and fuitable than this, that the Messengers of particular Churches, who have done amiss, or ly under the Suspicion of irregular Conduct and a faulty Management of their Affairs, should be questioned by the Churches, whose Messengers they are, and in whose Service they are employ'd. a some one population of a remain department of A

And as this is fit and suitable in itself, that the Brethern in particular Churches should call their Delegates to an Account for their Management in their Service, there is also an Instance to be given from the Scripture, which will sufficiently justify the Brethren in the Use of this Liberty: It is in Act. XI. 2 and 3 Verses, where we read, that, when PETER was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the Circumcision contended with him, or rather call'd him to an Account in order to pass their Judgment; saying, Thou wentest in to Men uncircumcised and didst eat with them: And it follows in the next Verse, that PETER rehearsed from the Beginning, and expounded by Order unto them.

Now, if the Brethren might demand of an Apostle the Reasons of his Behaviour, and if the Apostle thort himself accountable to them and therefore oblig'd to apologize for his Conduct before them; the Conclusion is strong and irresistable, that now the Brethren have the Liberty much more to enquire concerning the Managements of their Elders and other Delegates whom they improve, and to require Satisfaction of them concerning any Breaches of Rule into which they may be betray'd; and Elders and other Messengers are now much more obliged to render them an Account and satisfy them, when they properly and honestly demand that

of

eafy

Thi

gain

ME

Bith

were his I

one

the I

EPI

here.

it is

Epif

Rife

fpeal

is of bim)

or by white

comn

Peace in tha

thren

whole

in the

that b and t

Paffag

ence t

MEN

pest th

up ou

(k)

chey should do so: And the Reason is plain: For no Persons have any Right to consult, vote or act in behalf of any particular Church but by vertue of a Delegation from that Church: It is this alone that empowers them: And, if without such empowering, any shall pretend to act as their Delegates, they must be deemed busy Bodies in other Men's Matters: And, since these Things are so, surely particular Churches may appoint whom they please to any Trust or Service, and may challenge an Account of their Stewardship and Manager of the stewardship and Manager of their Stewardship and Manager of the stewardship and the stew nogements for them.

But supposing, as it is a supposeable Case, that any Delegates from particular Churches upon emergent Occasions should substitute others in their Room, and so should not be able to give any Account of their Transactions? I answer, That, altho? the Case may be supposed, yet the Thing ought not to be: For none in fuch Cases have the Power of substituting others in their Room and Stead; any more than an Embassador from one Prince or Commonwealth to another Prince or Commonwealth hath the Power of substituting whom he pleases to perform the Embassy for him (j). Tis true the Romish Bishops did not appear in some of their General Councils and other Councils, but fent Messengers or Vicars in their Room to them: But it is very evident, as that fuch a Method was disorderly, so that there was always some vile Design to carry on, and some peculiar Stratagem to be forwarded by it. And furely the Churches, if they are ever thus imposed on by such Substitutions, should animadvert upon those that devolve the Trusts reposed in them upon others, and ought not to mind what those, who were not appointed by them, transact and agree to on their Behalf.

Animated by fuch Considerations as these, some of the ancient Fathers were not at all backward, but very forward and ready to submit to the Brethren: Nay some of them were fo fond of making them fatisfied and eafy, that they were ready almost to comply with any Thing. The angry old EPIPHANIUS, writing against the Carpocratians, informs us, that, altho' CLE-MENT was ordained by PETER, yet he refused the Bithoprick of Rome as long as LINUS and CLETUS were living; and then he gives us the Reason of that his Refusal: For, continues EPIPHANIUS, he says in one of his Epistles, I depart, I go my Ways: Only let the People of GOD have Rest and Quietness (k): But, if EPIPHANIUS means the first Epistle of CLEMENT here, it must be confessed that this Passage is there, but it is used in another Sense: For CLEMENT, in this Epistle to the Corinthians, is advising them upon the Rife of Troubles and Contentions in the Church to speak in such a Manner, Is there any one, says he, that is of a noble Spirit among you? Is there any one that is compassionate? Doth any one abound in Charity? Let bim say, if this Sedition or Contention or Schism be for me or by my Means, I will depart, I will go my Ways whithersoever you please, I will do what the Multitude commands: Only let the Sheepfold of CHRIST enjoy Peace (1). This is the Advice of the good CLEMENT in that Epistle; and, altho' it be directed to the Brethren in Corinth, or to fuch as might be in Office, on whole Account there was a Difturbance and Contention in the Church; we may however very well suppose, that he would himself have followed it rather than have continued with his People when they were disatisfied And CHRYSOSTOM has a and uneafy with him. Paffage, which some conjecture that he used with reference to the Clauses that have bin recited out of CLE-MENT, If, fays be to his People, you conceive or sufpest these Things of us, we are ready to depart and deliver up our Power to whomsoever ye please: Only let the Church

⁽i) Voet. Polit. Ecclef. Par. III. lib, I. Traft. III. Cap. IX.

⁽k) Epiphan. L. I. Hæres. 27.

Church be at Unity within itself (m). AUGUST IN has some where well observed, we are Christians for our selves and Bishops for you: And it seems to be his Judg. ment, that the End of every Government in general is the Good of the Persons governed, and not of him who governs. And GREGORY NAZIANZEN openly pro. fessed at Constantinople, that, altho' he were innocent and free from Blame, yet be could depart or be cast out rather than they should have Contention among them (n): And he did so accordingly (o). The first Synod indeed of Ephesus, in the Case of the aged Eustathius, condemned him for renouncing his Office upon his own Judgment and without feeking Advice: And probably he was to blame in that Affair: But a Synod, convened under PHOTIUS at Constantinople, declared that such a Departure was in some Cases lawful (p).

Upon the whole; It would be an happy Thing for the Churches of CHRIST, if all their Elders and all their Messengers which they improve were of sucha Christian Temper. But, if there be any who are not of this Temper, the Churches, which are unhappily posses'd of them, would do well to watch over them and strictly enquire into their Managements on their Behalf, lest they should abuse the Trust reposed in them and Subvert their fundamental Rights and Privileges; and the greater any one is or feems to be, whom they employ, they should be the more careful of him lest the Church should be troubled by him and annoyed by his superior and excelling Gifts. It is very reasonable, and the learned Abbot FLEURY, in his Discourses on Ecclesiastical History, fays it ought to be so, that in every Society the Interest of each particular Person, even of him who governs, should give Place to that of the whole Body. Wherefore let these Churches be sensible of their Inteti i

reft

Per

444

Th

IT of Churchere

should be don the Po them How what

Procee

I and dy and be place of the they ru

And,

(9) P

⁽m) Chryfostom. Homil. II. ad Ephel.

⁽n) Gregor. Nizianzen. Orat. 52.

⁽a) Gregor. Nazianzen. vit.

⁽¹⁾ Synod, Conftantinopol, Canon, s. 12 10 appliel9 (1)

rest and take Care of it, nor suffer that of any particular Persons to prevail and triumph over it.

Chapter IV.

The Liberty of these Churches to depose and withdraw from their Elders, when they are guilty of Male-Administration, defended.

I Thas bin afferted and proved, that Elders, as well other Delegates, are accountable to the particular Churches who employ them: But some may probably here enquire, Supposing the Elders of a particular Church should be guilty of Male-Administration, what is then to be done? Has not your Platform given to the Eldership the Power of calling the Church together, and allowed them to permit Speech or command Silence in the Church? How then can the Church come at them? And after what Manner should they testify their Dislike of their Proceedings?

I answer, as our wise and pious Fathers have already answered, that, altho' Church-Government or Rule be placed by Christ Jesus our Lord in the Officers of the Church, who therefore may be called Rulers while they rule with GOD; yet, in Case of Male-Administration, they are subject to the Power of the Church (q): And, if it shall appear to the Church that an Elder bath

⁽⁹⁾ Platform of Church Discipline. Chap. X. Sect. 7.

both offended incorrigibly, they have Power according to Order (the Counsel of other Churches where it may be had directing to it) to remove bim from bis Office; and being now but a Member, in Case be should add Contumacy to his Sin, the Church, that had Power to receive bim into their Fellowship, bath Power also to cast bim out as any other Member (r): So that, as the Church puts forth a twofold Act in receiving a Pastor into Member. ship and in chusing him to Office, they may also by Parity of Reason put forth a twofold Act in removing bim from bis Office and from his Membership. Some imagine, that there are two diftinct Cases mentioned in these two Sections of the Platform, that in the former Cafea Plurality of Rulers in a Church is supposed, who are guilty of Male-Administration, and that in the latter it is supposed that a particular Elder is guilty of an Offence and incorrigible under it: And it is very probable, that they are in the Right: But I have put the Paffages together; concluding, as I think rightly, that, if a Plurality of Elders in a Church be subject to the Power of the Church in Case of Male-Administration, doubtless a particular offending and incorrigible Elder must be much more subject to their Power: And, if Counsel from other Churches be not requisite in the former Case, much less in the latter: But, if it be requisite or convenient in the latter Case, why should it not be in the former also? So that, upon these Accounts, I may very confistently blend the fixth and seventh Paragraphs recited from the Platform together.

That the Power of the Church extends to the Deposition of their Elders,— This seems to be a pretty manisest Case: For, if the Church have Power to chuse their Officers and Ministers; then, in Case of manifest Unworthiness and Delinquency, they have Power also to depose them: For to open and shut, to chuse and refuse, to constitute in Office and remove from Office are Asts belonging

loi

ris

pli

Gb

afti

che.

An

éve

Lo

the

Chu

as 11

prei

dou

Pre

ther

thou

in u

ever

Soci

a fac

depol

their

Satist

in the

this n

fuch

which

Rema

Corini

it, the cifed

It

N

⁽r) Platform. Chap, X, Sect, 6. longing to the same Power, as our judicious Ancestors rightly argue in their Platform (f) of Church-Discipline.

And it is entirely just and reasonable, that particular Churches Should have this Power: For they are Ecclesiz aftical Societies confederate, that is to fay, they are Churz ches, before they have Officers and even without them! And, altho' they may be in fuch a State as this, yet even then a subordinate Ecclesiastical Power is under our Lord JESUS CHRIST, and by HIM delegated unto them: So that, having the Nature and Essence of a Church as they furely have, they may att as fuch : And, as it is natural to all Societies and Bodies whatfoever to preserve themselves, the Churches of CHRIST also are doubtless furnished with sufficient Power for their own Preservation and comfortable Subsistence (t). It follows therefore, that, if the Elder of a particular Church thould be found guilty of Male-Administration and break in upon the known and fundamental Privileges which every Christian Society has in common with other Societies, that particular Church may and ought, from a facred Regard to the Law of Self-Preservation, to depose such an arbitrary and tyramical Elder, if upon their Admonitions he do not repent and give them Satisfaction.

Nor indeed can it well be disputed, that the Churches in the Days of primitive Christianity were possessed of this most valuable Right and Privilege; when there are such Testimonies in the ancient approved Writers, which fully demonstrate it.

It is as clear as the Light from that deservedly priz'd Remain of Antiquity, CLEMENT's first Epistle to the Corinthians, which is worthy of frequent Citations from it, that the Church of Corinth at that Time had and exercised this Privilege: For, he says to them in that Epistle;

(t) Ejuld. Chap. X. S. z.

⁽f) Platform. Chap. VIII. S. 7.

Epistle, We perceive that ye have removed fome, who have performed their Office well, from the Ministry which they were thought to deserve, as baving no Fault to be found with them : Ye are too contentious, Brethren, and too bot about these Things which appertain not to Salvation (u): Now is it not very plain from these Passages, that the Corintbians had deposed and laid aside their Ministers, merely because in lesser or disputable Points their Judgments did not please them? 'Tis true the good CLEMENT blames them, and it must be confessed that they deserved to be blamed, for casting off those Perfons, who had holily and unblameably perform'd the Duties of their Episcopacy: But CLEMENT never twits or blames them at all for exercifing a Power which did not belong unto them: No, far from it: All that he faults them for, and indeed all that can be objected against them, is, that they exercised the Power, of which they were possessed, in an irregular Manner, when the Occafion did not require it.

And it is also certain, that the particular Churches of our LORD JESUS CHRIST, enjoy'd this Privilege, at least until the two bundred and fifty eighth Year after CHRIST: For, in that Year, a Synod convened, in which CYPRIAN presided: And that Synod approved and commended the Proceedings of some Churches, who had deposed their Bishops, upon the Application of those Churches to the Synod in order to obtain their

Ы

T

gt

th

th

0

the

Su

of

de

Li

on:

tan

3317 we

the befe

avo

fore

Opinion concerning their Conduct.

As for CYPRIAN's own Judgment in this Matter, it may easily be seen by reading some of his Epistles: For, in one of his Epistles, he expressly acknowledges, that in his Time the People had the Power, as of chusing worthy Ministers, so likewise of refusing and casting off those who were not so (v); and in another Epistle, he affirms, (W) Cyaszon BE.

(x) ongen in jour and

(v) Cyprian. Epift. 4.

⁽u) vid. Clement. Epift. I, ad Corinth.

affirms, that this Power belongs to the Church, and that it was given to the Church by Divine Authority (w).

And the learned ORIGEN was of the same Mind: For he freely declard to his People, If I feem to you to be a right Hand, and am call a Presbyter and seem to preach the Word of GOD; yet, if I shall do any Thing contrary to Ecclesiastical Discipline and the Rule of the Gospel, so that I give Scandal or Offence to the Church, let the whole Church conspire and with one Consent cut me off, altho I am their Right Hand (x).

But, if for the fake of Peace it should be granted, that this Power is too great for the Bretbren, and that they have not sufficient Authority for it; may we not then fay, that they may withdraw from their Male administring Elders, and that there cannot be any reasonable Objection against such a Withdraw from them? Truely we may well fay this, and it may very well be granted us; For, as every particular Church fets up their Presbytery by professing their Subjection to them in the LORD; even so, when they walk disorderly in their Office and are chargeable with Male-Administration in its then they may avoid them and professedly withdraw their Subjection to them: So that, if according to the Opinion of some, the Brethren should not have the Power of deposing their Elders; yet, if they have the Power and Liberty of withdrawing from them on requisite Occasions, which cannot be denied them, they have what is tantamount to the Deposing Power, at least with respect to themselves.

And, that the Churches have this Pewer and Liberty, we may safely argue from our Apostle's Instruction to the Church of Rome, in Rom. XVI. 17. where he beseeches them to mark such as cause Divisions,—and avoid them, or withdraw from them: For, our Apostle, foreseeing by the Holy Spirit enlightning him, the M 2

⁽w) Cyprian. Epift. 68.

⁽x) Origen, in Joh. Cap. VII.

Rome, therefore affectionately and faithfully gave it, and entreated that Church to make Use of this Liberty, as there should be Occasion for so doing: And it is a just Observation of Alarbus upon the Text, that the Word which we render here mark is a Military Term deriv'd from the Speculatores or Centinels upon a Watch. Tower, who are constantly to mind and observe and tell the Motions of an Enemy: So that the Romans are entreated, after their Example, to take special Notice of their Elders in their Administrations, and properly to withdraw from such of them as cause Divisions and Offences.

And this Right and Liberty of the Brethren, for which we plead, is fo fully represented by CYPRIAN, and fo strongly proved to belong to them from Passages which he urges out of the old and new Testament that I shall refer you unto him (y): In the mean Time I cannot but transcribe a few Sentences from him; For this Cause, fays he, the Reople obedient to the Commands of the LORD and fearing GOD ought to separate themselves from a wicked Bishop: For they principally have the Power of chusing worthy Priests and rejecting the unworthy, which comes from Divine Authority (2). Nor may I omit the Testimony of the prodigiously learned GROTIUS with reference to this Right of the People in the early Ages of Christianity; Now, he testifies, that it was not only the Right of the People to flee and avoid an unfaithful Pastor, but that such a Pastor by vertue of the Sentence against him lest his Pastoral Right and whatsoever of that Kind was once ascribed unto him (c).

(y) vid. Cyprian. Epift. 68.

(c) Neque tantum Pastorem infidum fugere Plets Jus erat, fed fha Ad

hibi

28

2

Ch

the 44

Th

of .

Omi the f

T

Com
it ma

To

Paftor guid in Circ.

veiuens a l'eccaiore Praposico separare se debet, — quando ipsa maximo babet l'otes par vel eligendi dignos Sacerdotes vel indignos recusandi: Quod Es ipsum videmus de Divina Authoritate descenderes. Cyprian. Epist. 68.

Churches free in this Liberty; it is to be hoped, that they will stand fast in it and exercise it, as Occasion shall require, nor suffer their Pastors under their Male. Administrations to deprive them of it.

description of the Street of the would enjoy the Contratchen tefaire reduced to LOICD FEELS CLIENT; and under a straight of the straight of we pleased from attending the Connection which is we pleased for the Chapter V and for the Chapter V and we may well whele.

The Privilege of these Churches to except against such Persons as are disqualisted for Communion among them, vindicated.

chiefing modernie and uniels this and flinith as abich

Nour Opinion the composing Churches of Habitual Sinners, and that either with respect to Sins of Omission or Commission, instead of erecting Temples to the Honour of GOD and the Redeemer, would be only the setting up Synagogues of Satan and Chappels to the Devil.

These Churches indeed are far from denying the Communion unto any Person whatsoever, whose Duty it may be to ask the Favour of enjoying it: Nor do we oppose the Right and Interest of any baptized Person in our Churches; but, conformably to the universal Practice

Pastor talis vi Sententia in ipsum prolata Jus Pastorale, & quicquid illi ascribebatur, amittebat. Grot. De Imper. Sum. Potest. Cito. Sacra. p. 251. Aposties, we advise them to such Methods as will qualify them for a Reception to the Glory of CHRIST, and to partake of Divine Ordinances to their own spiritual

Edification Con Many Agency

The Things, which we judge requisite, absolutely requisite, in all those that would enjoy the Communion in these Churches, are Repentance towards GOD, and Faith towards our LORD JESUS CHRIST, and a fixed Resolution to lead a Life of Piety and Vertue: And we think, that such as are fineere in these Things, although they should be but weak Christians, but Babes in CHRIST (&), may not nevertheless be excluded nor yet discouraged from attending the Communion with us in our Churches.

But however we expect, and we may well expect, that all, who are sincere in these Things and are defirous of Communion in these Churches, should make Profession of their Paith and Repentance and Resolutions for a good Life: And we protest, that we cannot admit any into full Communion and an actual Participation in all the Privileges of our Churches, without such a Profession, and unless this Profession be recommended by a moral and Such a corresponding Condust, there is no Person, that manifests himself meet and qualified for obtaining an Interest in the Privileges of any pure Society of Christians.

These Churches therefore may lawfully require the making such a Profession and that it should be adorned in the Conduct of those that expect Communion with them;

the fer car

the

the

proply of the open Dan Con, HO.

and

ches

I

the Conion pious Cufto admit the I before known and a conce

Sayin

monus Fide S

^{(&}amp;) I have heard or read somewhere, that my great Grand-father, the holy and learned Mr. COTTON, once faid to his Congregation, that, if any Person, tho' a poor Indian should step forth and say, I love the LORD JESUS CHRIST in Sincerity and Truth, and should test so walk according to the Gospel, tho' his Defects were great for Landrance and the Likes He should be for admitting him to the LORD's Table.

vel fai etiam, minun facere etiam c them: Nay they ought peremptorily to infift upon these Things: For particular Churches will never preferve of recover their brightest Glory, unless they are careful as to these Matters.

And, as particular Churches may and should demand the witnessing of a good Confession from those that offer themselves to their Communion; so it is reasonable and proper, that the Candidates for Communion should comply with the Demand: For, as is well observed in one of the Homilies of the Church of England for Whitfunday, If any Man be a dumb Christian, not professing bis Faith openly, but cloaking and colouring bimfelf for Fear of Danger, be giveth Men Occasion justly and with good Conscience to doubt, lest be have not the Grace of the HOLY GHOST within bim, because be is Tongue-tied and doth not speak.

the nothing

I cannot tell, whether in any of the Reformed Churches abroad fuch an open Profession of Christianity before the Church be required of the Candidates for Communion: But this I know that the very learned, judicious, pious and modest WITSIUS of Utrecht, has wished the Custom to prevail in their Churches (a), that such as are admitted to the holy Communion should publickly in the Light and Audience of the whole Church profess the LORD; which, adds he, fuch as refuse to do, either before an Assembly, or a Pastor in private, making I know not what Excuses, I would admonish them again and again to confider what our LORD has pronounced concerning them who are ashamed of Him and His Sayings. making fach a

Some

⁽²⁾ Optandum foret idem nostris quoque in Ecclesiis in usu esse, vel faltem ut it, qui ad facram admittuntur Synaxim, publice etiam, inspectante & audiente tota Ecclefia, profiterentur Dos minum; quod qui vel coram Synedrio vel coram Paffere privat im facere renuunt, nescio quid causificantes, Eos monitos velo etiam atque etiam cogitent, quid Dominus de iis pronunciat, quos sui ac Setmonum fuorum puduetit. Whitf. in Symb. Exercit. III. Do Fide Salvific.

generacy and Corruption are bitter Enemies to the Churches having and exercifing this Privilege, and plead that the Elders of the Churches only are possess'd of this Right and they only should improve it.

But, when the Brethren of the Churches are not duely apprized of the Fitness of those who offer themselves as Candidates for Communion with them, by the Profession which they make, and by ordering their Conversations according to it; but, on the contrary, have Reason to be dissatisfied about their Fitness, as they will frequently have Reason to be, where the Elders only have the Management of such Affairs, their Liberty in such Churches is manifestly invaded and infringed.

a

W

ac

at br

CI

me

ke

mi

mi

Jon

nio

Iv

tow

fuch

Chr

CH

anci

befo

in f ceive

until

Good

in th fessio

N

The Brethren in our Churches may possibly be wrought upon so far as to part with this Privilege to unreasonable Claimers of it: But, besides the Dissonaur resulting from such a tame Resignation of a valuable Right, our Brethren ought to consider the bad Consequence, the vast Mischief, of parting with it: There cannot indeed be a greater Inlet to Corruption than this; for Churches must unavoidably be corrupted and the Ordinances miserably defiled in them, while the unworthy are freely received into them and the Brethren bave not the Power, as they have the Right, of refusing such

The Reason of the Thing therefore is sufficient for the Justification of these Churches in the Use of their Liberty to judge concerning the Qualifications of those that offer themselves to their Communion: But we have Scriptural Authority and Example besides, in favour of the Brethren's Power and Liberty to propound any just and reasonable Exceptions against such Persons as appear disqualified for Admission into their Communion and the Privileges consequent upon such an Admission: For the Apostle Peter himself would not admit the Family of Cornelius to Baptism, until he had enquired of the Brethren, whether any of them had any Thing to object

And we read concerning SAUL, that, offering himself to the Communion of the Church at Jerusalem, he was not immediately admitted into it, but kept off from it, until the Exception which was taken against him by the Disciples was removed, as in Act. IX. 26 and 27 Verses.

And the most primitive Antiquity, next to the Days of the Apostles, has taught these Churches to be careful about their Admissions into Communion: 'Tis true in the extraordinary Conversions to Christianity which were made among the Jews, they were all immediately added to the Ghurch: And it is not much to be wondred at that they were so, because they were before acquainted with the Law and the Prophets, and were already brought into the Covenant of God: But afterwards the Churches did not make it their ordinary Practice immediately to admit Persons into full Communion; but kept them as Catechumens, that so their Knowlege might be encreased and the Truth of their Profession might be tried, until they were judged qualified for joining to the Church and enjoying complete Communion in it.

And this is a Thing that appears, not only from Justin Marter, who afferts, that none were altow'd to communicate in the Church in his Time but such as were baptized and believed the Dostrines of Christianity and lived according to the Laws of JESUS CHRIST; but it is also manifest from numberless ancient Writers, that the Baptized were of old confirmed before they were admitted into Communion, and that in some of the primitive Churches none could be received into sull Communion or be perfect among them, until he had given some Evidence of a Principle of Goodness within him.

Nor is it a Matter of much Difficulty to prove, that in the Primitive Times none were received to the Profession of Christianity, unless they had first given some

N

"dydic

Evidences

Evidences of their Sincerity; either by enduring fome initiatory Penances, as three Days Fasting, which was prescribed in the Time of the Author of the false Clementine Recognitions (o); or by giving some Experiment of real Service. Thus ARNOBIUS was not trufted until he had written in Defence of the Christian Religion: And CYRIL of Jerusalem in his Homilies to the Competentes is very earnest in urging the Necessity of a fincere and cordial Intention: And it was from the great Caution of admitting the Pagans to the Intuition of their Mysteries, that even Adults were not admitted after all the Manifestations of their Sincerity without the Testimony of Susceptors or Godfathers, Persons of approved Gravity and Sincerity (x): Tho' this was not always infifted on. But, among the Inftances to be found in ancient Writers of their Care in early Times to keep their Communions pure, perhaps there was fcarce any one more remarkable than that with reference to VICTORINUS: He, you must know, was a famous Rhetorician at Rome, who, on the Account of his Eminence and Fame, had a public Statue erected to his Honour: And He, by Reading the Holy Scribtures, of a strong and zealous Pagan, became a Christian: This He confessed privately to SIMPLICIAN: But He would not believe Him, unless He confess dit publickly in the Church also: To this He at first answerd with Scorn; What! are they then the Walls of a Church that make a Christian? But afterwards He became senfible of his Fault, and was afraid of being denied by the bleffed Jesus at the last among such as refuse to confess HIM: Whereupon He came to SIMPLICIAN and was instructed and baptized: And, being to make the accustomed Confession, the Liberty of Privacy was then offered Him: But He would not accept of the Offer: No.

(o) Pscudo Clement. Recog. L. III. &. VI.

Į

it

D fic

fu

fuz

ne

MA

dec

on.

the

Di

pal

feft

the

ILS.

Chu

tion.

Confied

the

Dut

difq

⁽x) Hen. Dodwel's Pref. to his two Letters of Advice.

No, faid He, I will make my Confession before all the

It must be consessed indeed, that, as it was usual among the Primitive Christians to imitate the Heathens too far in several Respects referring to their sacred Rites, they particularly distributed their Converts into two Classes according to the Pagan Style: For, as among the Pagans there were Learners and Illuminated Persons; thus we find in the Fathers these two very frequently mentioned: And in them, as the Persons are distinguished, so are their Duties and Privileges: And it must be acknowledged, that the Apostle Paul frequently alludes to these Distinctions, and that the ancient Divines afterwards made an ill Use of those Allu-

But, altho' the Improvements which were made of fuch Distinctions proved in Process of Time not only superfluous, but also very prejudicial to Christianity; nevertheless, that Things may be done agreable to Reason and Prudence, and that all Things may be performed decently and in Order according to Apostolical Direction, the Churches should be careful not at once to admit the Learners among the Illuminated: For there is no Divine Warrant nor any Reason, why such as are not capable of witnessing a good Confession and have not manifested their Faith and the Truth of their Profession by their Works should be favour'd with equal Privileges to those who are capable of these Things.

Wherefore, upon the whole, let the Elders of the Churches be as careful as they please in their Examinations of such as present themselves for Candidates of Communion, and let them endeavour to be fully certified of their Fitness for complete Fellowship; but, at the same Time, let not these Churches be negligent of their Duty, but except against all, whom they think to be disqualished for Communion with them, either by Reason N 2 fions.

⁽z) Augustin. Confession 1, 8, c, 2.

of the pernicious Opinions which they may hold and vent, or by Reason of the vicious and unchristian Lives that they lead: For it is their Duty not to be Partakers in other Men's Sins, but nather to reprove them and keep themselves pure: And how can they comply with this Duty, unless they testify against the destructive Opinions and unhecoming Behaviours of such as offer themselves to the Communion among them? I cannot therefore but conclude this Chapter in the Style of LAURENTIUS: As Negligence, says He, with respect to Dostrine causes Heresies; so Negligence in Discipline produces Consultant and Scandals: Nor can the Church of CHRIST consist without it any more than a Commonwealth or School or any other Society: Wherefore we ought most studiously to exercise it (y).

&&&&&&&&&&&&&&&

Chap. VI.

croise of it amor

allo which

Th

Elde also

thren

Jesu in Kn Way;

Breth Error
use hi Judge
the Confo

ches lation recove and r

The

Churc Paffag

ercise

是这么的点面是在这么么是这么是是是是的。

(y) Sieut Bezlizentia in Doctrina Hareses eausat, ita Begligentia in Discriptiona Consustance & Scandala: Neque magis sine hac Ecclesia CHRISTI—vede regi potest aut consistere, quam vel Respub. vel Occonomia civilis vel Schola vel ulius Conventus. — Qua propier au sudiosi sime hanc exerceri justi in Ecclesiis Dei Apostotus Paulus, Es ipse cam exercuit. Laurent. Exposit. Sept. Epistol. Home. IX. p. 101.

Chapter VI.

The Right of the Brethren in these Churches to deal with their Christian Brethren in private and to judge in publick Scandals opened and confirmed.

THE Churches of JESUS CHRIST in this Land are of Opinion, that, not only the Ministers or Elders or Bishops of the Churches, but all the Christians also which compose them, baye the Care of their Brethren; and that every Christian, by the Authority of JESUS CHRIST, may confirm and establish bis Bretbren in Knowlege and Faith, and exbort them to proceed in the Ways of Religion and Goodness; and that, if any of his Brethren should subside either into fatal Dostrinal Errors or irregular Behaviours, every Christian should use his Endeavour to reduce them from their Errors in Judgment and the Irregularities of their Conduct to the Truth of the Christian Doctrine, and a diligent Conformity to the Divine Precepts: This is the Opinion of these Churches; and the Reformation of Churches by this Discipline, wherein Love without Dissimulation is exercised, we judge to be the only Method of recovering Evangelical Love out of its Languishments and reftoring it to its primitive Vigour and Glory.

The Necessity of such a Discipline as this in particular Churches appears to us very clear from those various Passages in the New Testament which require the exercise of it among Christians.

(195)

Our bleffed SAVIOUR has expresly enjoined, as in Mat. XVIII. 15, If thy Brother shall trespass against Thee, go and tell bim his Fault between Thee and Him alone: If He shall bear Thee, Thou hast gained thy Bro ther. Which Injunction, altho' it speaks concerning the Offence of a Neighbour against his Christian Brother nevertheless, as every true Christian cannot but think that every Offence against GOD is a Trespass against Himself, therefore it may well reach, and indeed ought to reach, to every Sin and Transgression whatsoever: Now, besides the Dignity of the Person who gives this Injunction, the good and inestimable Consequence of it to be confidered by us: For our gracious Lord fays, If He shall bear Thee, Thou hast gained thy Brother, that is, Thou haft brought Him over to Repentance and Reformation, and fo to Salvation and Happiness And it is required by the holy and inspired Apostle, in Gal. VI. 1, Brethren, if a Man be overtaken in a Fault, ye, which are spiritual, restore such an one in the Spirit of Meekness, &c: In which Text, whether we take spiritual to signify Christians in general, or such as were eminent in the Church for spiritual Knowledge and Gifts, as the Word is sometimes used, the Sense is plain and eafy; and the Command is strong to all Christians, especially to such as are advanced in spiritual Knowledge, to take a particular Care of their offending Brethren, and shew all that Tenderness and Lenity towards them which is becoming the Gospel. - And how plain is the Precept to the Thessalonians, in I Thes. V. 14, to warn them that are unruly, to comfort the feeble-minded, to suppart the weak, &c; and in Verse 11th, to exhort and edify one another.

It appears then to be indispensably necessary, that all such as would approve themselves to be true Christians should, from a sacred Regard to the Authority and Precepts of their declared Lord and Master, take the most watchful Care of their Brethren and continually exhaut them to every good Office and use their best Endeavours.

the ove

rec

Brei and then of become the For,

JEST to the meet

T

have lofty PRIA
it, while Nor have cution holy D
the Ch

Discip

quence and Re

(&) H.

Perfecut endum. Solavon

yours, as to keep them from that which is evil, so to recover them likewise out of the Snares in which they may be unhappily entangled.

And, as it is necessary that Christians should thus thew their Care of their Brethren, their Watchfulness over them; it is also equally needful, that fuch as are admonished, corrected and exhorted by their Christian Brethren should acknowlege the Appointment of CHRIST and fubmit to His Discipline, thankfully receiving Brow therly Admonition and Correction as becomes the Disciples of the lowly JESUS, and studiously conforming to the same: Nor in Truth will they demean themselves as becomes serious Christians, if they despise such as from the Word of CHRIST admonish and correct them! For, if they despise such, nor will hearken to their pious Reproofs and Exhortations, they are not the Disciples of JESUS CHRIST: For, whereas it is He that speaketh to them by their faithful Reprovers, they do not fee meet to hear Him.

This is the Discipline, concerning which we cannot have too good an Opinion nor express ourselves in too losty a Strain: For we may say in the Style of Cyprian of this Discipline, that it is wholesome to follow it, whereas Averseness to it and Neglett of it is satal(E): Nor have we any Wonder, that the Bohemians should be urged to be less assaid of Destruction from the Persecution of their Enemies than from the Neglett of such an holy Discipline (a). Wherefore may the great Head of the Church always dispose and enable us to prize this Discipline according to its real Worth and Consequence, and to conform unto it with the greatest Care and Religion!

It

(&) Hane & sectari salubre est & aversari ac negligere lethale. Cyprian, Epift. 28.

Persecutionibus quam a neglecta Disciplina Interitum esse metuendum.

Regenvolse. System, Hist Chronol. Eccles.
Sclavon p. 316.

It has bin observed already, that this Discipline is no be administred by every Christian (e): But, whereas the Method wherein this Discipline should be exercised ought to be particularly known, this therefore is now to follow: Now This, both from the Prescription of our blessed Saviour and from the constant Practice of the Primitive Church, appears to be nothing else but the Application of CHRIST's Institution according to the 39

to

ti

th

De

ful

as niti

pun

mu

Por

post then vate.

it is

rudge

as th tent,

notori

reth a heal .

Churc

tional

(b) I

Particul

Circumstances which occur (*).

Wherefore, that so this Discipline may rightly and properly be administred, there is a twofold Distinction of Offences to be observed: For, while some are secret and private, others are public and open; and some are great, whereas others are comparatively small: According to which Distinctions, the Discipline of Christ is to be privately exercised towards such whose Offences on private; whereas, if the Offences of any be public and to the Scandal of the Church, they are to be publicly admonished and censured.

If the Offence, that is committed by a Christian Brother, be private, provided two or three are observers of it, there should then be three Steps taken by his Christian Brethren in dealing with him: First of all, one of those who has seen the Offence of his Brother, should privately admonish and reprove him for it: And, if the offending Brother despise the Admonition and Reprosegiven him; then, in the next Place, he, that is acquainted with his Brother's Offence and grieved at his slighting his Brotherly Correction, should take one of two more of his Brethren with him, that so by the Mouth of two or three Witnesses the Regularity of the Proceedure may be established: And, in fine, if the offending Brother shall continue to slight the Admonitions which are thus

(e) Communis hac est Doctrino, ut nobis Cura sie Frateum Salus. Calvin in I Thes. V. 14.

⁽x) Pro diversitate Morborum, diversitat addibenda est Medicinæ: Illi corripiendi ne pereant: Isti consolandi sunt, ne 49 ciant. Hieronym. in 1 Thes. V.

thus duely given him; the third and last Step to be taken is, to tell the Church of his Fault and of his Distregard of the Christian Conduct of his Brethren towards him.

But, if the Offence be at first public and manifest unto all, then there is no need of such a regular and gradual Process; but your open and flagitious public Transgressors are at once to be rebuked before all, that others also may fear, as in I Tim. V. 20. And yet even this public Discipline should be exercised according to the Distinction of great Transgressions of comparatively small ones; according to which Distinction, there should be either a public Admonition and Reproof or a Deprivation of the Privileges of their Christian Brethren who walk orderly: For Admonition and Reproof is a fufficient Correction for smaller public Offences : But, as for groffer Sins, and Stubbornness under kind Admonitions even tho' for smaller Faults, these deserve to be punished with denying the further Enjoyment of Communion and Ecclefiaftical Privileges.

So then the Duty of the Brethren is clear, and their Power is great and invaluable: It is their Duty to expostulate with their Brethren, and as such to deal with them, when they are guilty of private Scandals, in a private Way, in a friendly and Christian Manner: And it is their Duty, Power and Privilege also to hear and judge concerning their Brethren in public Scandals; and, as they may forgive and receive such as are truely penitent, they may also reprove, rebuke, exhort and censure notorious Offenders: For, when our Saviour requireth a Christian, that, if he cannot succeed so far as to heal the Offence in private, he should then tell the Church; He certainly means a particular or Congregational Church (b), as the samous Calder wood makes

(b) Die Ecclesia-Hic Locus proprie & primarie de Ecclesias particularibus întelligendus est, non de occumenica sive Essentiali.

evi-

evident. And the worthy BULLINGER has given a good Reason, why it must be so, which is agreeable to that assigned by Calderwood; For, says He, the universal Church can never convene from all Parts of the World, that rebellious Persons may be brought before it and submit unto it: Therefore to particular Churches must the Judgment concerning stubborn Offenders be broth and referred (x).

And this Direction of our bleffed SAVIOUR necessarily implies, that the Church should hear the Case brought before them, make Enquiry into the State of its that so they may see with their own Eyes the Offence which has bin committed, and then judge concerning the yo

un

fac

-9E

pal

An

had

I C

then

Char

put 4

2 Co

penta him.

Time!

Epist

(0)

Senior,

mero Fr

fuerunt

Caufa

appares

Chrift.

Offence as they should find upon Enquiry.

Understandings, that Men could never have perverted the Sense of our Saviour's Words, if they were defined of attending to them and observing them: Nor, if their Love to Truth were equal to their Regard to their Interest, could they so misunderstand our Lord's Direction as by a pretended Regard to it to deviate from the Simplicity of the Gospel.

This is the Discipline, concerning which we heartly subscribe to the Declaration of the learned Zaneur, wherein he says, that no one is exempted from this Discipline, whether be be an Elder, or a Pastor, or a Magistrate, unless they would be exempted from the Number of the Brethren and therefore of the Sons of GOD: Wherefore they were mere Flatterers, who contended that sive Representativa: Nam deferre Offensas ad Ecclesiam Occumenticam Effentialem impossibile est.— CHRISTUS amandat Fideles ad Conventum ordinarium & Remedium paratissimum. Didoctavi Altare Damascen. p. 196.

Terrarum Orbe, ut Et deferentur Rebelles: Perticularibus ergo defertur Judicium de Contumacibus. Bullinger. Decade V. Serm. I. De S. Cathol. Eccles.

the Pope of Rome could not upon any Account have this Discipline exercised upon him (o). which the seas boom To proceed, notice to a Ald origins bell of

That the Church or Brethren bave the Power of Jude ing, as has bin faid, may be argued from feveral Paffages upon facred Record; from which Passages it is abunclantly evident, that they gave their Determination and Judgment in fuch Cases as properly came before chem, the state of the form back and back

Not to mention, that the Brethren of the Circumcifion expostulated with PETER about his Communion with CORNELIUS and his Family, and that He was do far from rejecting their Complaint, as if they had gone beyond their proper Power and Limits, that He readily undertook and endeavour'd to give them fuitable Satiffaction, as has already bin observed.

We find, that the Brethren of the Church of Corinth pass'd their Censure upon the Incestuous Corintbiani And the Apostle PAUL reproved them all, that they had no fooner put bim away from among them, las in 1 Cor. V. 2; and, at Verse 12th, He expressy affareth them, that they had the Power of Judging fuch as are within (x); and, in the next, the last, Verse of that Chapter, the Apostle requires it of them all, that they put away the wicked Person from among them; and, in 2 Cor. H. 7, He advises the Brethren, upon the Repentance of the Offender, to forgive, restore and comfort, him.

The fame Apostle also towards the Close of his Epistle to the Galatians, instructing them in the Disci-

(x) Hujusmodi autem Disciplina pertinere ad Ecclesiam fats apparet Ex toto. Cap. V. Prior. ad Corinth. Grall. Ethics. Chrift. I. IV. Cap. XXXI.

⁽o) Ab bac Diferplina nemo eximitur, quieunque ille fit, five Senior, five Paftor, five Supremus Magifratus, nifi velint e nue mero Fratrum eoque Filiorum Dei eximi. Proinde meri Adulatores fuerunt, qui Pontificem Roman. contenderunt, non posse ulla de Causa excommunicari. Zanch. De Eccles. p. 14540 marris

í

an

of fer

m ha

fof

che

in

tion

con

tho

So

we.

toler

shou

US D

in th an Bu

Favo

Plain For,

found Streng

mours

partici

have i

of our

h feebl

Church

Power

bline of the Church, advises them how to behave with respect to their corrupt Teachers o Laying down the fame Ground and Reason of proceeding against them. as against the Incestuous Corintbian, namely, that a fittle Leaven leaveneth the whole Lump, as in Gal. V. 9; and prefuming that they would be of the fame Mind with him, as in Verfe 10 and 11; he then declares what Censure be wished might be passed upon their conpaper Teachers, as at Verse 12, I would that they were coencut off which trouble you: Which Paffage all the Greek Fathers and some of the Latin oddly interpret Turbiff they were not only circumcifed, but even made tike the Priests of the Mother of the Gods, who was formerly worshipped by you of Galatia (c): But the most plain and natural Construction of it is, I wish they were cut off from your Fellowship and Communion And lest it should be objected, that the Brethren had not Power to do this, therefore the Apostle amexes this Reason, for, Brethren, ye are called unto Liberty. And, becarfe it might be argued, that fuch a Liberty of cutting off their Teachers being allowed would be attended with bad Confequences, therefore the Apostle advises, that they do not use their Liberty as an Occasion to the Flesh, but so as that by Love they might serve one another: Now, if the Brethren have the Power of cenfuning their corrupt Teachers, as appears from thefe Hints, furely they may well have the Privilege of confuring their offending Brethren. found in its Margaret

And it was likewise the Direction of the very same Apostle to the whole Church at Thessalonica, to with draw themselves from every Brother that walketh disorderly, as in 2 Thes. III. 6: And this Direction of withdrawing from such is much the same with that wherein he requires them to warn the unruly, in the Thes. V. 14, or admonish such: Where the Word which we translate unruly is the very same as this which is translated diforderly: For this is a Power belonging to all the Members of the Church, as is manifest from these Directions to them.

⁽e) Usinam non folum circumcidantur, fed etiam abfeindantur.

And it moreover appears, that particular Churches bave fuch a Power; because they are chargeable with Guilt, if any Offences are committed by their Members and yet remain uncensured by them: Thus the Church of Pergamos is reproved as guilty of Offence for fuffering BALAAM and the Nicolaitans among them, as in Rev. II. 14 and 15; and, at Verse 20, CHRIST has a few Things against the Church at Thyatira for fuffering JEZEBEL among them: But, if thefe Chutches had not sufficient Power to turn out the Offenders in them, it would be bard to blame them for the Toleration of them in their Communion. And hence we may conclude, that, what our SAVIOUR wrote to any of those Churches, HIS SPIRIT fays to all the Churches: So that, if we would answer the Divine Expectations, we should beware of Remissiness in Discipline and calmby tolerating the like Offences among ourfelves; and we should also be careful to admonish other Churches about us with Love and Faithfulness for the Offences observable in them. that they do

But, besides the Scriptural Directions and Patterns in Favour of such a Discipline, the Reason of the Thing plainly speaks for such a Power in particular Churchest For, as that animal Body is desective, weak and unsound in its Nature and Constitution, which has not Strength equal to the Expulsion of the malignant Humours which are brought into it; even so those Bodies, particular Churches, would be but in a feeble State, which have not Power to get rid of their vicious, corrupt and offensive People: Nor can we think it for the Honour of our blessed Saviour to leave His Churches in such a feeble State:

But we have Reason to be thankful, that the great Head of the Church has given His Churches such an athletic Constitution that they have Power equal to the Purging themselves of their super-

Auous and vicious Humours: And bleffed be Gon, while fome other Churches are complaining for the Want of a godly Discipline, these Churches enjoy it and will not fuffer such as are known to be prophane and

thi

Ed

Di

any

of

by to

PE

mun

freel

And

KIN

Engl

all,

all (n

172

leges,

BUL

RÆU

TIUS

NAZ

ODO

Should

People.

cipline it ?DA

the Tpe

ing its

(h) 0

(i) Fo.

(k) L (1) In

(m) H (n) R

But

vile Persons to escape it.

Perhaps it will be demanded here, whether the Churches in the Ages immediately succeeding the Apostles Days were in the Possession of such Power and exerted it upon proper Occasions? Now, in Answer to this Enquiry, I would fay, that, supposing they had not not did exercise such a Power, this does not hinder but that it properly belonged unto them, as it appears that it did from the Injunctions and Examples upon sacred Record: So that they might lawfully and honeftly take and evercife this Power.

But the Truth is, we find, that the Churches in the Ages after the Apostles possessed this Power, and on fuitable Occasions used the same. So CLEMENT of Rome Styles the Censures of the Church, the Things commanded by the Multitude (d). And it appears, that all the People of the Diocels, Church or Bishoprick were present at the Censures of the Church from ORIGEN'S Description of the Appearance of an Offender before the whole Church (e). And CYPRIAN writes, that, if any were under Censure, before they could be admitted to Communion, they were to plead their Caufe before all the People of the Church (f): And, when fome had committed fome confiderable Faults, he was fo far from fetting himself up as a sufficient Judge, empowered to manage the Affair, that he expressly declares that they ought to be tried by all the People (g): Nay he openly protests, that from the Beginning of his Ministry be determined to do nothing of his own Head, and with () Lutherfurd

⁽d) Clement, I Epift. ad Corinth.

⁽e) Origen. Comment. in Matth, Tom. XIII. P. 335001 (4)

⁽¹⁾ Aduri Caufam apud Plebem univerfam. Cypriam Epift. 19

⁽g) Cyprian. Epift. 28.

without the Confent of his People (b). Thus we fee what the Discipline of the Primitive Church was : And me thinks, as the Abbot FLEURY in his Difcourfes on Discipline is, it is by so much the more venerable.

And, if the Teltimony of later Worthies may be of any Weight, we have these also to produce in Pavoit of the Discipline for which we have bin pleading. LAMBERT faid, that Excommunication ought to be done by the Congregation affembled together with the Paftors (1). PRTER MARTYR concludes that none can be excommunicated without the Confent of the Church (k). Bucket freely owns, that the Power is in all the Church (P). And Mr. Howe, when he was asked by Dr. Wit-KINS concerning the Discipline of the Church of England, in which the poor People have no Share at all, replied, that in Reality it bad no Discipline of all (m), and therefore he could not be fond of it.

Nay a celebrated Scotch Presbyterian (n) acknowleges, that not only grave BEZA, CALVIN, BUCER, BULLINGER, MELANCTHON, BUCAN, PA-RÆUS, RIVET, SIBRAND, JUNIUS, TRELCA-TIUS; but also CYPRIAN, JEROM, AUGUSTIN. NAZIANZEN, CHRYSOSTOM, AMBROSE, THE ODORET, THEOPHYLACT require, that all Things should be done consentiente Plebe, with the Consent of the People.

But some will be ready to say, If the Power of Difcipline be in the Churches, bow came they to be deprived of it? And the Answer is, that some vile Persons, under the specious Pretence of raising the Church and promoting its Power, called the Clergy only the Church fifft of ⁽h) Cypriano Epift. 6.

⁽i) Fox. 2. p. 1017.

⁽h) Loc Commen. p. 783. (l) In March XVI. 19. (m) Howe's Life. p. 32.

^{(&}quot;) Rutherfurd.

by giving them the Power of Excommunication. Him ille Lachrymæ! Hence the Power of Discipline has bin taken out of the Hands of the People, and infinite Disorders have ensued upon it: For, when a Bishop or a small Number of Ministers have the Supervision or Oversight and Management of Affairs, it is next to impossible but that Pride and Ambition, Faction and Envy, Political Regards and Secular Interests should govern: And indeed this is no more than what is observed by the Historians Socrates and Sozomen, as well as by feveral other Fathers:

I would not be understood, notwithstanding all that has bin faid; entirely to exclude the Elders from the Management of the Discipline of the Church: For the Duty of admonishing Offenders privately and personally belongs to them in common with the rest of the Church; tho'it does not properly belong to the Elders as fuch, but only as Brethren of the same Society: And yet it must be allowed, that Elders, by Virtue of their Office are enabled to do it with more Authority in a moral Sense, tho' they do not strictly and properly exercise the Power of their Office. And it must be acknowledged, that in the Discharge of their Office they may be capacitated to fee and know the Faults of the Brethren fooner than others; but yet, in the Exercise of this Discipline every Member is equally concerned with the Elders, as appears from the Obligations which lie upon them to watch over and exercise special Love towards one another; for their Obligations to this are equal: And indeed this Duty is so incumbent on every Member of the Church, that, if any neglect it, he fins against the Institution of CHRIST and becomes a Partaker in the Sin of the offending Party, and is guilty of his Danger and Ruin. as well as chargeable with all the Inconveniencies and Injuries accruing to the Church by the Continuance of its Members in Sin and Wickedness: So that, upon these Considerations, all the Brethren not only have the

the Important

dor

th

Ober Which dinej

fuch

main

ceffar Churco of the or image by the acts Repent

Bur, Perfors, ing Bro of the C

of the defired

committee

Liberty of admonishing one another, but it is their plain and indispensable Duty so to do: And who soever of them neglects this Duty is chargeable with the Hatred of his Brother.

But, altho' this Duty be personally incumbent on every particular Member of the Church, this however hinders not but that, if several at the same Time know the Sin of an Offender and jointly are offended at it, they may together, if they think it prudent, in the first Instance admonish him: And, if they do so, this is to be considered as the first and private Admonition.

As to the Way and Manner wherein this Duty is to be discharged, I would only observe, that it should be done with Prudence, Tenderness and a due Regard to all Circumstances, from Love to the Person offending, out of Obedience to JESUS CHRIST, agreably to the Rule which is given for our Direction in it and with a Reddinefs to receive Satisfaction.

And now the great and good Ends to be proposed in such a Discipline are, that undissembled Love may be maintained, that the offending Brother may be gained, that he may be preserved from Dishonour by the unnecessary Divulging of his Failings and Errors, that the Churches may not be scandalized by the hasty exposing of the Failings of their Members whether they be real or imaginary; and that the Trouble of a public Hearing may be prevented: And, if these Ends be obtained, by the accused Person's manifesting his Innocence as to the Facts alleged against him or by his Acknowlegement, Repentance and Promises of Reformation, then this Part of the Discipline of Christ's Church has obtained the desired Effect.

But, if these good Ends be not answered, then the Persons, who have encleavoured to reclaim their offending Brother by private Methods, are to inform the Elders of the Church concerning their Proceedure; and by them the Report should be made to the Church, as of the Crime committed, so of the Testimonies given to prove the Truth of it, of the Means used to bring the Offender to Acknowlegement and Repentance, and concerning the Deportment of the Offender under the private Admonitions given him, to wit, his Rejection of them and refusing to render any Satisfaction on the Account of his Offence.

P

to

th

P

R

fli

de

any ver

An

am Re

Inf

and

Link

pro

but alth

Efta

less 1

their Nati

still .

ftill

ancon

(x)

Infall

And, when Things are thus proposed to the Church and the Offender heard, the whole Church, Elders and Brethren, are to confider the Nature of the Offence and to judge concerning the Offence, as well as the Demeanour of the Offender: And, if the Offence be evident and glaring, the Offender is to be admonifhed with the Consent and Concurrence of the Church by the Elders: But, if the Offender despise the Admonition of the Church and continues obstinate and impenitent, then it is the Mind and Will of our bleffed SAVIOUR, that he should be cut off from the Privileges of the Church and cast out of the Society: And this is the last Att of the Discipline of the Church for the Correction of Offenders: So that, by the Constitution of Jesus CHRIST, the Body of the Church or the Multitude of the Brethren are interested in the Administration of the Disciplinary Power in the Church.

This is the Discipline of these Congregational Churches, which we apprehend to be most conformable to Reason and the Holy Scriptures, to the Practice of the Apostles and the Primitive Christians.

As to a Power fastned to the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, a Power of Binding and Loosing, by which Men can excommunicate and deliver up a Person to the Devil in the Name and by the Authority of Jesus Christ, we pretend to no such Power: Nor do we approve of any such Power, to which some make their Pretences, by which Pastors or Synods, in Conjunction and Confederacy with the Civil Magistrate, or by an Ecclesiastical Power distinct from the Magistrate's, but equal to it, are capable of binding and losing, as has bin said: Nay we detest it.

We know, that Excommunication was an Act of Apostolical Authority; but we can see no Reason, why Delivering up to Satan to be buffeted should be made the common Form of Excommunication, and become a Precedent for the constant Practice of the Church.

That this was an Act of miraculous Power visibly todged with the Apostles is plain to us; because, as they could strike Men blind and dead, they bad the Power also of letting evil Spirits loofe to terrify, plague and punish such Persons as were Enemies of Truth and Righteousness, that so a terrible Remedy might be inflicted for a dreadful Evil: We do not therefore wonder, that the Apostles never mention this among the standing Appointments for the Church to observe nor give any Charge or Directions about it: And it appears very strange unto us, that this Method of denouncing Anathemas has obtained so much in Churches, and even among fuch Churches as pretend to elevated Degrees of Reformation; believing, that the abfurd Notion of the Infallibility of the Church has bin carried on by it, and that it has laid the Foundation for endless Animosities and the greatest Uncharitableness.

In fine then; Altho' these Churches may be reproached by many as very desective in their Politicks, inasmuch as they did not erect an infallible Tribunal, but yet expect the good People to submit to their Decisions, altho' they are subject to Error; whereas, in other Establishments, the People are obliged to submit to an uncontroleable infallible Authority (x): It is nevertheless to be hoped, that these Churches will not fall from their Stedfastness notwithstanding any Reproaches of this Nature. May God of His great Goodness enable us still to follow the Illuminations of Reason and Scripture, still to keep ourselves disengag'd from an infallible and incontestible Tribunal, and still to abhor the Thoughts of a mean,

⁽x) Qualibet Ecclesia sibi Verbis arrogat Orthodoxiam, Re Infallibilitatem, Locke in Epist. ad Limborch.

mean, ignominious Subjection to any humane Tyrannical Authority what seever! For the Consciences of Christians are and ought to be the last Refort, wherein our Faith and Worship and all religious Matters should be judged without any further Appeal: And, altho' Christians may be exhorted and have Perfuasions used with them. none ought to be constrained in such Things wherein their Consciences are concerned: The Magistrate may argue, and the Synod may advise and persuade; but who gave them either Right or Power to oblige and force Men in religious Matters? Now particular Churches have just the same Liberty with respect to their Members? And if they pretend to any constraining Power over their Members, they act as the Civil Magistrate, not as an Assembly of Christians and faithful People: So that in short, the' these Churches as such and as sincere Christians think their Members accountable to them and cenfigable by them; nevertheless they pretend to no more Power and Jurisdiction over them, than a Society of diferete and grave Philosophers over such as are admitted into their Society, whom they see meet to admit when they are duely qualified, and they think themselves obliged to censure and exclude from their Society, when they have forfeited the Privileges of it by their exotic Sentiments or indecent Carriages .- 'Tis true, fome of our Congregational Brethren, who verge towards Prefby. terianism, pretend to much more in their Discipline than that for which I have bin pleading: But all fact as are throughly Congregational will be content with this: I must confess, that this is all the Power to which I think the Churches have any rightful Claim; and I conceive, all that they pretended to exercise in the early Times of Christianity (2): And God grant, that

0 3,116.18 15 20 3

L jog J.D

th

42. **

Th 510

100

and thoul casion ture t Carna Friend

Th moting

Benefi

⁽²⁾ Neque vero Excommunicatio aliud tum erat quam Separatio, Non-Communio, Renunciario Communionis; non vero Damnatio Executio per Candelas Extindas, Campanarum Boatum, Mr. Abbot Eleury lays, in his Discourses on Ecclesiostical

Hiftory, Rome, is by bis C tife the them to his Voice

these Churches may never desire any further Power and Liberty than such a rational due as they at present enjoy; nor suffer any, whether Pastors or Synods, to take away their Crown.

edidential also good to be set the state

Chapter VII.

The Liberty of these Churches to set and all in Councils and Synods cleared and vindicated; and the Power of Synods explained.

IT is entirely consistent with Reason and the Revelation of GOD's Mind in His Word, that there should be Councils and Synods called upon requisite Occasions: But it is neither agreable to Nature nor Scripture to turn such occasional Helps into the Form of a Carnal State Polity and erest a Government out of Friendly and Christian Consultations for the Instruction, Benefit and Comfort of our Brethren.

There may be Synods or Meetings of Pastors for promoting Peace and Concord; but there is great Danger,

History, that this Cursing or Excommunication, as practised at Rome, is like a feeble old Man, who, perceiving himself lighted by his Children and not being able to come out of his Bed to chastise them as before, throws what soever he has in his Hands at them to appease his impotent Passian, and then, forcing the Tone of his Voice, uses all the Imprecations ogainst them he can think of.

lest such Meetings should be burtful to the Principles and Liberties of particular Churches and so degenerate from the good Ends which ought to be designed and pursued in them: For, as Sutlivius observes, Nulla in Ecclesia Dei graviora excitata sunt Schismata, nec Hareses exorta sunt ab ullo tetriores quam ab Episcopis, The worst of Schisms and blackest Heresies have bin raised by

G

the

Co

nift

to

they

by their func

avov

Synon

forth

ticula

and e reside

fant:

bours

no Di

we fre

per Oc

of Eng

Sitting

great d

Record

them in indeed,

rity of t

Dr.

Bishops (n).

In the Year 1700, there was publish'd a Book at Amsterdam by one PETER SHEPHERD (0), wherein he endeavours to prove by natural, political and mathematical Arguments that the Kingdoms, Principalities and Republicks, wherein the Romish Religion prevails, are in a fair Way of being destroyed by the Ambition and Avarice of the Popes and of their Clergy: But it is as easy to prove from the fame Arguments, that the Liberties of all free Churches are in Danger of Destruction from the frequent Associations of Ministers: The Resolution of GREGORY NAZIANZEN therefore is not at all to be wonder'd at: For, faid He to Procopius (p), If I must write the Truth itself, I am of the Mind to be absent from every Meeting of Bishops: For I never saw a joyful and bappy End of any Council [of them] non any that did not occasion the Encrease of Evils rather than the Redress or Reformation of them: For pertinacious Contention and the vehement Defire of Lording are such as no Words can express. And indeed there is none, who knows any Thing of Antiquity, but is well acquainted with the great Mischiefs which have arisen from Combinations of domineering Clergymen. One Dioscorus, who was President in the Second Council at Epbesus over Four Hundred Persons, was so moved with Rage and Passion against FLAVIAN, Bishop of Antioch, that he rose up from his Seat and killed him with Blows and Kicks

March He thewa

⁽n) Sutliv. de Pontif. Roman. 1 2. cap to. 10 adt to etts and trampled upon his Body after he was dead.—And it is remarkable, that the Canons, which have the best Doctrine and the truest Morality and Goodness in them, were not made by Assemblies of Glergymen, not by nutmerous Synods and Oecumenical Councils, wherein the Clergy have had the chief Management, but in those Councils and Synods which were private and consisted of a few Persons of the Laity as well as the Clergy: And hence most of the African Councils were the best in all the World: For the African Bishopricks were like our Congregational Churches; nor did the Bishops or Ministers strive who should be greatest in them, according to the Manner of some in other Places.

⁽p) Works of Learned for the Year 170c.

As for particular Churches, we readily concede, that they, as of equal Power, may in some Cases appointed by JESUS CHRIST meet together by themselves or by their Delegates in a Council or Synod and may perform fundry Acts of Ecclefiastical Power; but yet it is our avowed Principle, that the Members of Councils and Synods, with all the Power which they exercise and put forth, are all of them primarily given to the several particular Churches, on whose Account they are gathered and employed, either as the first Subject in whom they reside or the first Object about whom they are converfant: So that, altho' we differ from some of our Neighbours about the Power of Councils and Synods, we have no Difference at all with them about their Being; for we freely acknowlege, that they ought to be, when proper Occasions require.

Dr. Humphrey Hody has published an History of English Councils and Convocations, and of the Clergy's sitting in Parliament, in 1701, in which he has taken a great deal of Pains and Care in turning over ancient Records and collecting Passages out of them; but by them it does not appear, where the Original Right of convening Councils and Synods was lodged: He shews indeed, that Synods were sometimes called by the Authority of the Clergy, and at other Times convened by the

p) Gregor, Nagionalm Doill.

Prince: But this does not determine, where the Right of Convening them is placed.

Councils and Synods should be composed of such Persons as are six and proper, both of the Eldership and the Laity; and both have equal Right to speak their Seniments in them: Tis true a particular Regard may sometimes be had to Pastors and Bishops in sending Delegates to Synods: But, if the Churches should only have such Bishops or Pastors as are either not so well acquainted with their Constitution or are Enemies unto it, it is their Duty to keep them at Home at least.

1

·V

t

771

th

ba fol

an

far

fell

the

wh

Peo

He

VII

the

Dife

batic

A

the 1

For,

Comm

matic

Bifho

motec

Natio

and w

well k

And, when a Number of pious, skilful and prudent Perfors, both Ministers and Brethren, are sent and convened in Council or Synod, they ought to have equal Power and Authority in acting and voting: This is the Right of the Fraternity; and, in order to support and establish this Right of the Fraternity in Councils and Synods, there are a few brief Remarks to be offered, which have considerable Weight and Significance in them.

It is certain, that we have the Authority of the Scriptures and the Practice of the Church in the Apostle's Days for this Power of the Brethren: For we read, that the Apostles and Elders came together to consider of the Matter that was to be laid before them, in Act. XV, 6: And it follows, at Verse 22, then pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to fend chosen Men, &c: From which Passages it plainly appears, that, not only the Apostles and Elders, but the whole Church also, and so the People, were present in this Council and were concerned in the definitive Sentence of it: But now this Council ought to be the Rule and Pattern for all other Councils whether greater or smaller: Since therefore in this Council, not only the Apostles and Elders, but all the People are faid to give their Opinion and unite in the definitive Decree; furely the same Rule ought to be observed in all other Councils or Synods: For, as all other Synods are vaftly inferiour to Assembly this Apostolical one, it may well be expected that the

And, besides this Example upon facred Record to fullify the Right of the Brethren to fit and att in Council, there are several Places of Scripture; which allow all the Faithful in Eccleliastical Conventions to judge in religious Matters! Not to infift upon that Paffage, in 1 Cor. XIV. 24, where it is faid, If all prophefy, and there come that believeth not or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all: It is plain both from the old and new Testament, that Divine Matters Should be publickly confidered by the People and the final Judgment referring to them should be left with the People. So we read, in I King. XVIII. 21 and 39 Verles, that Elijah came to all the People and said, bow long balt ye between two Opinions? If the LORD be GOD, follow HIM; but if Baal; follow him: And the People answered Him not a Word. - And when all the People faw [how the Sacrifice was confumed from above] they fell on their Faces and said, The LORD HE is GOD, the LORD HE is the GOD. And it is written, that, when PHILIP preached to the City of Samaria, the People with one Accord gave Heed to the Things which He spake, and there was great Joy in the City, as in Act. VIII. 6 and 8 Verses. So that it should seem, as if the People, upon hearing and maturely weighing the Discourses of PHILIP, publickly testified their Approbation of what He taught them.

And it is worthy to be observed, that this Right of the Laity has bin afferted and exercised in later Times: For, not to mention it, that the Temporal Lords and Commons, in the two Reigns that brought on the Reformation, were much better Judges of Religion, than the Bishops and the Convocation; and, if they had not promoted the Reformation, tho' poor Laicks, the English Nation to this Day had lain buried in the Ægyptian, and worle than Ægyptian, Darkness of Popery. - It is well known, that, when the Calling of that infameus WAT.

Affembly

Afferibly the Council of Trent was proposed at North berg, in the Year 1522, all the Estates of Germ defired and infifted, that Admittance might be granted unto Laymen as well as Clergymen, to be, not only pettators and Witnesses, but also Judges in the Council: Which being refused, they would not come unto it but published the Reasons of their withdraw; one of which was, because Laymen were not allowed to vote among them. And what learned Englishman is there that can be ignorant, how our learned WHITAKERS our excellent JUEL, our fkilful and industrious Wille LET and other Writers of our Nation, in writing against the Romanists, maintain the Right of Laicks to fit and judge in Ecclesiastical Councils? And, as the most famous Councils and Synods in the Churches of the Reforma tion have admitted fuch Members in them; so, in the primitive Times and the Ages next unto the Apoftles, it is unquestionable that such had not only Seats, but Votes in Councils allowed them: And, even in as late a Council as that of Galcedon, we find feven Earls, to Senators and others, besides Ecclesiasticks.

fo

the

thi

of

of cils

Maj

ther

Offi

nods

the i

men

ackn

By th

whole

Abba

guard

Prefer

GERS and on

be fees

And t thren's pretend chiefly they a

(9) G,

(f) Pa

But, in Truth if there were no Instances or Examples of this, this is very plain and evident, that the Device Spirit sometimes and very frequently bestows such Gifts on the Brotherhood as render them worthy to be heard and make it fit that they should declare their Judgment. So that the Reason of the Thing requires, that their Gifts should not be despised, but that they should have the Liberty of exercising them freely upon requisite Occasions.

And Natural Justice, besides, supplies us with an Argument in Desence of the Brethren's Right to sit and all in Councils: For nothing can be more sit and just and equal, than that the common Cause of all the Churches should be determined by the Votes and Suffrages of the Churches: And, inasmuch as the Holy Spirit with His Instuences is not confined to any particular fort of Men in the Churches, it is sit that every Brother should exercise freely the Gifts which he has freely received: For that which concerneth all ought to be handled in forme good Measure or Degree by all who are qualified. And, as the Baith of Christians, as well as what should be their Practice, is a Matter of universal Concernment; therefore the Brethren, who are qualified as before, should in Councils have their Share in discussing these Things and giving their Determinations upon them.

12.2000

Furthermore , As the Scripture is the Supreme Judge of all Controverses in Religion and the infallible Rule of all Judgment; and as they who fit and act in Course cils and Synods are only to be Interpreters and Explainers of what is contained in the Word of Good therefore the Brethren, as well and as much as their Officers, may give their Judgment in Councils and Sy-And indeed the Opinion of one Layman, which is agreable to the Scriptures, is to be preferred before the folern Judgment of an whole Council of Clergymen which is contradictory to them. So GRATIAN acknowleges, that the Authority of JEROM Supported by the facred Scripture is to be valued before that of an whole general Council (q): So PANORMITAN, tho an Abbot, writes, that the Opinion of even one Idiot, wellguarded with Testimonies from the Scripture is altogether preferable to the Decrees of an whole Council or the Pope (r), which are not confonant with them: And GERSON maintains, that every Man of Learning may and ought to refift or withstand an whole Council, if be fees that they err either thro' Ignorance or Malice (f). And this is a good Argument in Favour of the Brethren's Right to fit and act in Councils: For what is the pretended Reason, why Bisbops and Elders should be chiefly called to Councils? Why truely it is faid, that they are generally more wife and learned than their ⁽⁹⁾ Gratian. Queft. 36. Can, ulr.

⁽f) Panosmitan. Comment. in Chronic.

❷

Neighbook sand therefore they flould especially below employettem Buerac must be confessed, that its is often otherwise And therefore, if there can be found any Laymen more learned than their Ministers on country wife, there can be no good Reafon why they! thould norobe salled to Councils and all and judge in theing in all-Respects equally with their Ministers: 25 bin 10 03 56

2Norwine fine, is primitive Antiquity a Stranger to the Libertyun Clos Fraternity. I could quote numerous Partigerout of the Hittorians Eusebius, Sozowein and ba pongrat, from which it appears, that not ordyntishops on Ministers, but Laymen also, were now only present in Councils, but also spake their Minds and arguedant gave their Determinations. But it is fufficile envelopment prefent Purpole, that, from the Activop queint councils it is very manifest that the Brethren voted and acted in them: In the first Council of Michel nowolly Bishops and Elders sat and judged, bur the Live selfo had equal Liberty with them - And a Lagen mas in the Presence of the whole Council, disputing with a Pagan Philosopher, overcame bim and converted bipostd the Christian Faith (t). Laymen, as wellow Biffings, Elders and Deacons, represented the Churches torimbich they belong'd in the Synod of Antioch, which contiemed Paulus Samose Tanus (v) : And the Faithful in Maccondemned the Montanifts (v): And and a green Synodoheld at Carthage (w), there were prefent Eaghty feven Bishops, Presbyters and Deacors, without great Part of the Laity (x): Nay Cardinal Gusanos acknowleges, that Emperors and their Judges, who were Lasmen were prefent and afted in the eight Councils which are salled general (y): And even Nicholas the Pope

al

In

pa

the tost

fort

93 vehe

Gini Chui

ftanc

Synoa For,

allsthes were concerned the service pole, notwith-

Sor such a Liberty the parents of des of 1.33 at 100 at 10

⁽My Circit. Ann 358.

⁽s) Cyprian Epith 14. (s) de Concordant. Catholic (s) 1 . 2012 fing E . biv (s) and he adds, that the Faith is univerfal and common, been longing not only to the Glergy, but also to the Laity and to to allriebo are Christians (2). A see of borned organ nomen. I

Upon fuch Grounds and Reasons as these, the Church ches in New England have afferted the Right of the People ple to fit and act in Synods in their Platform of Church- s Discipline: And agreable to these Principles, as well as theu concurring Practice of the Primitive Churches I these Churches have always allowed the Brethren their I full Liberry in Councils. And it is worthy to be reas marked, that in the Synod of these Churches, convened in the Year 1679, fome Elders came from fome partito cular Churches to represent them without any Bretbren ; at which the Synod was fo far diffatished, that they o would not suffer those Pastors to sit with them, until they had prevailed with their Churches to fend fome Bretbren along with them: For they were very jealous of allowed ing any Thing, that might look like an Infringement of than Liberty which by Divine Institution belongs to particular Churches, and was appointed angel a driw

But if any shall remain distatisfied upon this Head, after all that has bin offered; I must beg leave to refer them for the more full Display and Confirmation of its to a learned Disquisition concerning Ecclesiastical Councils which was published by my Grandfather Dr. In CREASE? MATHER: wherein there is enow said to satisfy any reasonable Man concerning this Right of the Brethren.

for which I have bin pleading. I will od to vis I rear

0

0

O W

M

101 de la 101 de

These Churches in New-England have never convened in a General Synod but upon the Motion of the Civil Magistrate to consider of Affairs wherein all the Churches were concerned: But they suppose, notwithstanding this, that they have a full Liberty to meet in Synods, without the Direction of the Civil Magistrate: For such a Liberty the primitive Churches had before

⁽²⁾ vid. Epift. ejus. 1. 3. cap. 18, och D . inebronnod eb (7)

Court ANTANE ascended the Imperial Threat And furely no Christian Prince bas any Right to hinder their Churches in the Exercise of this Liberty, when they judge it requisite for the preserving of their Peace and good Order.

And this will more especially appear, if it be considered, that the Synods of these Churches are not like these of other Churches: For they have no Waapens but inhand are spiritual: They neither pretend to nor desire any Power that is juridical: If they can but instruct and persuade, they gain their End: But, when they have done all, the Churches are still free to accept or result sheir Advice: As they have no secular Power to ensore their Canons, they neither ask nor desire its Aid. And, since these Synods are such innocent and inassential street, can reasonably object against their Meeting to gether or forbid them, without a manifest Invasion of the common Liberties of Mankind.

f

te

100

m

ma

We

Pos

Con

the emi

then 747 iom

lowi Turi

Ran

famo

(tv)

I have said, that these Churches, when they meet in Synods, claim to themselves no Juridical Power: For they are of the celebrated Chamier's Opinion, that the Determination of a Council or Synod is persuasiwe, not compulsive; a ministerial Judgment, not bringing along with it any Authority and Necessity; and so a decisive Suffrage not in itself, but as it is taken out of the Series ture ($\overline{G}_{\o

(a) Fest. H. mm. de Authorit. Concilior, Diper. 18. Thef 4

^{(&}amp;) Sententia Concilii per se ipsa Suasionis est, non Goactioniti judicium ministeriale, non Authoritatem per se Negestigatemque de servicio, adecique Suffragium decistoum non per se, sed quatenus ex Scriptura depromitur. Chamier. Tom. V. Panstrat. Cathol. 1. 3. cap o de Conciliis.

Pleasure that they road the free and hortest Confession of Dr. Bunner, that the Determinations of Coulocity robether the greater or less, seem to him to be little different from the Decrees of Senates or Courts, or from the Opinions of learned Men concerning certain Matters proposed for them to consult upon; to which indeed a due Regard ought to be paid: But, he adds, as for any Oblagation that lies upon us to receive any Opinions concerning focred Matters and embrace them as Articles of Faith enery Man's Conscience is to be his Judge in the last Ab peal, GOD being the Witness to his Sincerity. Doctors, or Congregations of Doctors, may err as grossly as any others and build upon a Foundation of Hay or Straw, empty and combustible Matter. This I constantly and firmly believe that, fince the Times of the Apostles, there has bin no the fallible Tribunal here below: Nothing of equal Authority. of equal Certainty with the facred Writings, neither De termination of Council nor oral Tradition; and that Men's Consciences cannot so far be bound by the Opinions of any Persons whatever, but that there remains in private. Persons the Judgment of Discretion, which is to be directed b the Rule of boly Scripture (b), &c. Thus he writes and much more to the same Purpose. And, if we conful many other learned Writers of the Church of England, we shall find Cause to conclude them to be against the Power and Jurisdiction of Councils, and that they are for Concord rather than Regimen or Government, Thus in the Scheme of Church-Government, drawn up by the eminently learned Dr. USHER, Arch-Bishop of Armagb, there is not ascribed to Synodical Conventions any proper Jurisdiction over any Parochial Church. And, whereas some affirm the Diocesan Church to be a single one of the lowest Sort, and that whatever Power, Authority or Jurisdiction belongs to a particular Church of the lowest Rank belongs to the Diocefan Church; now This the famous Dr. BARROW has endeavoured to prove to be Chamber Loga, V. Panfirst, Catthol

H

the same

Cas

in 10 hat

7100 long

De-

es of n obe

De-

with

Plea-

rentes que ad atenus

athol,

icf.4

⁽h) Burnet. de Fide & Officiis Christianor Cap. 9.

independent: So that, if the Bounds of particular Churthe be made Parochial, it must needs follow that what is faid to belong to the Diotefan Church must be feated in the Parish Church. And, if for what will become of the Superiour juridical Power? And the worthy Reforming Bishops CRANMER, TONET A mand others, being required to give their Opinion concerning the Authority of General Councils, freely declared, that this Authority did not flow from the Number of the Bishops, but the Matter of their Decisions : So than by this, they could never by their Authority make an indifferent Thing to become a Duty : But, as GROTAUS expresses it, praeant ipsi Judicio direstivo, they may Thew Men what they apprehend to be Sin and Duty; not, like Parliaments, make any Thing finful or a Duy which was not fo before. But having occasionally mention'd GROTIUS, I would take the Occasion here to mention it, that fin his Book De Imperio Sum. Potestat. p. 168.] he has fully proved that there was never a truely General Council called, excepting that at Jerufatem, that Councils have no governing or legislative Power by Divine Right, and that what was written in Synods for the take of Order are not called Laws, but Canons, and have the Force of Advice only, or oblige by Way of Confent and Agreement. But to return, I would cite a Passage from the learned Mr. RICHERD HOOKER, wherein he delivers, not only his own particular Judgment, but, as he apprehended, the Judgment of the Church of England: The Passage of this zealous Affertor of the Church's Authority to which I refer, is to be feen in his celebrated Book of Ecdefielledl Polity, and is as follows ; I grant, fays he that Proof derived from the Authority of Man's Judgment is not able to work that Affurance, which doth grow by Stronger Proof; and therefore, althor ten thousand General Councils should set down one and the same definition set tence concerning any Point of Religion whatforvers y one demonstrative Reason alledged or one Testimony ened from

7.9

1

1

1

35

· i

M

13

102

H

A Sec

to ap nested

HOM

Whom the Word of GOD Himfelf to the Gertrany sould mot schuse but oversway them all: Inasmuch as for them to be deceived it is not fo impossible, as it is that D Aftraire Reason or Divine Testimony Should deceive And yet, after all, it is of very little Confequence unto us, who are for or against a Juridical Pour Synods or Councils: It is enow for us, that see bave meighty and unto us sufficient and satisfactory Reasons against allowing fuch a Power unto them. And was Realons, which have moved these Churches to give into these Sentiments, are fuch as thefe: We know, that our Lord JESUS CHRIST is the Supreme Teacher feet from GOD, and that His Word is the supreme La Christians, altogether infallible, and that therefore our tast Appeal ought to be to that : We think, that all the Power, which any Servants of CHRIST ought to have in the Churches, is ministerial only, and not Protonian: Our Opinion is, that, if the Embassadors of contbly Princes may not exceed the Instructions of their Mafters, much less may any Ministers, or Emballadors of the Prince of Peace go beyond the Directions of their great LORD and Mafter: It is our Judgment, that, if the Determinations of Councils be founded upon the Opinions of Men, weak and fallible Men, and not upon the Truth of Goo's Word, the bleffed Gon would be contrary to HIMSELF: For how can it be confistent for Him, to define and appoint one Thing in the Scripture, and to determine otherwise in a Council? And, in fine, We are confirmed in these our Sentiments from the Practice of all lawful Councils. For we find in the Apostolical Council, JAMES answered, faying, Men and Brethren, bearken to me : SIMEON bath declared boto GOD at first did visit the Gentiles to take out of them a People for his Name: And to this agree the Words of the Prophets, as in Act. XV 14 and 15. And, agreable to this, has bin the Practice of other approved Councils: For, so says ATHANASIUS, in the Council of Nice, the Faith of the Fashers was delivered

y

re

m.

as

at 270

JUC

by old

RD

ardg-

this

ch l affithat et is by s etal

dom

delivered according to the Scriptures (c) And AMBROSA expresses himself to the same Effect (a): And we find that the Milevitan Council decides the Controversies railed by PELAGIUS only from the facred Scripture And other Councils besides have followed the same Method.

But, if any Councils should swerve from the Scrip tural Directions and Rules, still we should appeal to the Law and to the Testimony and consult the Mind of our Heavenly Father in His unerring Oracles: So BRENTIUS thought; and therefore, when COCHLEUS, in urging the Invocation of Saints, pleaded, that what the Church our Mother had said upon this Matter was to be heard, BRENTIUS made this wife Reply, What, hid He, if my good Father hath commanded me otherwise!

for mor to inlift con-

Some of our Brethren, we are fully sensible, think it not enow for Councils to perfuade and give Advice but want something more for them; nor can they be pleafed, unless they have them clothed with a binding juridical Power: But to these our Brethren it is sufficie ent to fay, that, if they would have this Power of bind ing and giving Law in indifferent Things, they are for exceeding the Bounds of the Commission which was given to the Apostles themselves: And a larger Commission than theirs cannot with any Modesty be challenged by Elders, Synods or Churches. But, if this binding Power be defired and pleaded for only in Essential Matters, then we may proceed and argue thus, that, as Synods may meet to communicate Light and Peace to fuch Persons or Churches as are erronious or contentious. they may also at the same Time bave Power not only to give Light and Counsel, but likewise to require them in the Name of JESUS CHRIST to attend and conform to the same: But, after all, we must suppose that the Level out on bive at Degrees

⁽c) Athanas. in Epist. ad Epides. Episc. Corinth. w. bours.

Decrees and Refults of Councils are formed upon Scriptural Grounds: And, if so, then all the Authority, to which Synods may pretend, is only declarative. And then this Obestion will unavoidably arise, whether the Passages, upon which their Decrees and Results were founded, were well understood and properly applied or no? And, if it shall be honestly conceived, that they had not a good Understanding of the Scriptures, then, according to all the Principles of Reason and of Protestantism, their Decrees can have no such binding Authority: If therefore Insallibility be a pure Cheat, the Pretence of a binding juridical Authority in Councils and Synods must be so too; and such an unnatural Consequence of Ecclesiastical Power in any Hands whatsoever must be entirely unreasonable.

Many, we are aware, are forward to contend, that Many, we are aware, are forward to contend, that Councils and Synods are not so liable to err as particular Churches, and that therefore Appeals should in all Cases be preserved unto them: This is the Reason, which the celebrated Rutherfurd gives for such Appeals? And, if this be the Reason of such Appeals, it will then follow, that the greatest Assemblies should err the seldomest, massnuch as they have most Eyes, and so Appeals should be frequently made in difficult Cases unto them: So that, by this Rule, all Matters of Importance will be brought before General and Occumenical Councils: And what shall we fay to these plausible Arguings ? 215/11 06/13

A ST O TO SE BERTHANK THE SECOND SECO

In Answer to them, I could argue and urge it, that according to this Method and Rule of Proceeding, Causes would be too long depending, and probably would never come to an Issue: Whereas we think; that our blessed Saviour has made a better Provision for His Churches than this: But, instead of pressing this Argument, I would observe, that whole Synods and General Councils are as liable to deceive and be deceived and imposed on as particular Churches.

This is evident from Fact: For not to insist concerning the Members and Managements of that famous Synod, which the good old PAREUS wanted to much to fee 19. Would not maintain here, that the Charmon ches could not well be represented by them in the ainjuch as the Synod conflitted of Sevensen Delegal who were appointed not by the Churches, but by there Orders General of the united Provinces, and of Digaly three Ministers or Elders or Divines of the united Prowet vinces and from foreign Parts. Nor would Dowell upon the Testimony of Dr. BALCANQUAL this be needs Jay the Remonstrants bad no Pavous forom then (g)? Much less would I mention the Declaration of of Episcopius concerning Them before the Syndams that They were brought forth tanquam in public Odie Victimas (b), as Victims of the publicle Hatred These are tender Points: And I therefore let them go. Ven: I cannot ount one Thing determined in this Synod : By This I mean the Decree of the Synod concerning the Question moved by those of Amsterdam about the Baffin of a Child born of Ethnic Parents Now this Decifion conlisted of two Parts . The first concerned Adults, and was this, that such as were of Years and Capacity sould be diligently taught and catesbured, and then of they did defire it, they should be baptized; The Second concerned Infants, and it was, that and the came to Years of Discretion they Thould by no Mound be baptized: Upon which Decree the memorable and just dicious Mr. Hates, who was a Meniber of the Synod, writes to the Right Honourable My Lord Emballador CARL Tow. M Brange Decision, and fuel as of my Memory or Reading fails me not, no Church either ancient or modern ever gave (i). - But not to dwell upon what was amils in this Synod, or in any other in proceed to write concerning the Errors, Miftakes and Milcon Bis a Delign to dou

R 2

ca

bane Synodum conspicari. Parai. Epift, ad Synod in Act. Synod.

(g) Dr. Balcanqual's Letters from the Synod in the Remains of Mr. Hiles.

⁽i) See Hales's Remains. (i) See Hales's Remains. (ii)

duct of Jome of the Conventions, which they call Ger or neral Councils ve boundaries and live John bluo zerla Now it is certain and undoubted, that there was a

b

SM

35

97

31

0

to

d

W

b

93

0 20

である。下江中に

() 国际管理

remarkable Cheat put upon the whole General Counc at Arimmum by VALENS and URSACIUS and Iome few other Eastern Bishops, who in the Decree of the Nationa Council read amoiousios for amoousios (e). And it is also evident from Fact, that some of the erected Councils may use many mean and trickish Arts: Such to be fure were used in the great Council at Basil in the Year 1481, which ended in the Year 1442, in which the Behemians for four Days pleaded four Articlese namely, the Sacraments in both Kinds, correcting public Crimes, Liberty to preach GOD's Word, and concerting the Civil Power of the Clergy; And in this famous Council, after many Petitions and fome fair Promises and hopeful Approaches upon them, the Bobemians could not obtain their Defire in one Infrance; but Tricks were continually devised to elude their Hopes and Expectations, and Inconveniences that would follow upon fuch Concessions powerfully argued. And Father PAUL of Venice, like a wife and honest. Man, has plainly declar'd the many Quirks and Tricks of the accurred Cabal, commonly called the Council of Trentone ald gromames casely demonstrated from undoubted Histories: Thus, the largest Council that ever was known established Arianism. And thus That, which the Papists call the Seventh General Council, was such an one, that the good and excellent Dr. Tillotson remarked concerning its that if a General Council of Atheists had met together with a Design to abuse Religion by talking ridiculously concerning it, they could not have done it more effectually (k) ma Thus in the third Council of the Lateran in hones had no bones as a strain A all at bones and a strain a strain and a strain a strain and a strain a strain and a

⁽e) Jerom. advers. Lucifer.

⁽k) Tillat fon's Rule of Faith. p. 251. 38 2 36 (2)

for jest their Rights, and a full Indulgence was allowed to all their Rights, and a full Indulgence was allowed to all their fought against them. And, in the fourth Council at the lame Place, it was decreed, that the Pope might declare this Forfeiture and absolve their Subjects from their Qath of Allegiance and so transfer their Dominius on unto others. In the first Council at Lyon they joined with the Pope in deposing the Emperor Parable Lie the first by a Sentence against him. And in the Council of Constance, which Lie There judged to be most deserving of Reproach (a), it was decreed, that the Faith [or Promise] of safe Condust was not to be kept with an Eleretic, that should come to the Place of Judge ment relying upon it, &cc.

th

Con

ma

Syı

ver

bine

Soci

mer

their

it w dica

Pou Mir

diet

J

We may fay therefore, and bring the Confession of an English Synod in HERBERT'S History to wouch for our faying it, that there is not, nor can be any Thing in the World more pestilent or pernicious to the Commonwealth of Christendom, or whereby the Truth of GOD's Word bath bin in Times past, or may be sooner defaced or fub verted, or whereof may ensue more Contention or Descord or other Devilift Effests, than when General Councils have his or shall be bereafter assembled, not ebristianly nor charitably, but upon worldly or carnal Confiderations. And we may take leave to add, that the Observation which Dr. WAKE, the late learned Arch Billion of Canterbury has made concerning some Synods will hold good concerning all General Councils allo, namely, that " there is hardly any Thing in Antiquity, which either " more exposed our Christian Profession heretofore, or

[&]quot;may more deserve our serious Consideration at this

[&]quot;Day, than the Violence, the Passion, the Malice, the "Falsaness and the Oppression, which reigned in most of

[&]quot;the Synods held by CONSTANTINE and the following

⁽a) Concilio Constantiensi Consumetra Dignissiment Curan

observed that the Writers of the fourth and fifth Centuries give us difinal Representations of the Councils of those Times. And besides, there is Reason to think that Truth and Right may sometimes be found with the single Person as some as in a Council: So Capatran, in his Seventy first Epistle, allows, that many Things are better revealed to single Persons: Nay we have a Proof of this in the first Council of Nice, which is reputed the best of any; for there had certainly bin issued a Canon for divorcing married Priests, if the old Paphau Tits had not stood up and reasoned against it.

The Church of England has well determined in its mineteenth Article, that the Churches of Jerulalem, Alexandria, Antioch and Rome bave erred in Point of the greatest Consequence: And, in the twenty siefs! Article that General Councils may err.

But yet, supposing that a General Council were infallible, we must then conclude, that the Church has now lost its Infallibility: For, as there has bin no such Council for many Scores of Years, there is also no Likelihood of another: And, if there might be one, the many Villanies in Trent may sufficiently instruct the World that no Good is to be expected from such a Council.

Many trick and be trick'd, and are as liable to err as a Synod or even a particular Church; Mankind must be very stupid indeed to think, that they should bave a binding Power and may force their Decrees upon any Society or Person.

马内氏语言 医石头 一地名 中央 一种

d

100 m

of

de

Bem

But yet, if after all it should be allowed for Argument's sake, that such Councils were infallible and all their Decrees were entirely agreable to the Mind of GOD; it will not nevertheless appear, that they have any juridical Power at all: For, if we grant them a Decirinal Power, by which they could unerringly clear up the Mind of God our Saviour, still the Power of furif-diction, as has bin already explained, would remain in the particular Churches, wherein CHRIST JESUS has placed the same: And indeed this is no more than what that excellent Presbyterian Mr. RUTHERFURD is ready to acknowlede, as I have before quoted him.

In fine; The Way of these Churches has bin, and it is the best Way that can be observed, to enquire where our blessed SAVIOUR has placed the last Censuring and final Determination of Causes: And, having found this, they ought to rest contented: Councils and Synods, when Advice and Assistance is needed, may be used by them; but it is not either their not Erring at all or their Erring more rarely, that is a sufficient Reason for placing any Power of Jurisdiction in them, unless our great Lord and Master has ordered that they shall have such a Power: But, as yet, this does not appear.

495

VA

170

33

. 11

:34

F

ti e

90:00:

1001

1995, 16

injan:

Wherefore it is to be hoped, that the Brethren in these Churches will always maintain their Right to sit and act in Councils and Synods; but yet that they will never think of placing any juridical Power in them, but will always continue to assert the Powers and Privileges of particular Churches, which are sacred Things, by no means to be slighted and undervalued, nor to be left at the Mercy of any Classes or Councils, Synods or General Meetings.

I was going to translate and conclude this Chapter with the Translation of some Passages from LUTHER'S Preface to the four German Epistles of the worthy John Huss; but I believe They will sound better in the plain and blunt Language of the Writer, and therefore I chuse to give them as I find them.

Having mentioned some of the vile and mischievous Consequences of the Council of Constance; He then writes (o), Hi scilicet sunt dulces illi Fructus, quos, Constantiense Concilium tam venerabile, imo execrabile, protulit. Quare merito de Eo Exemplum sumeremus, me deinceps, si quod Concilium sieret, tam perversis & infanis Asinis-

⁽o) Luther, ad Fin. Præfat. Epift. 3. Huft.

Afinis Causam Religionis committeremus Quin inc Imperatoris, Regum, Principum & Episcoparum erit, summa Cura summoque Studio cavere, ne vel similia fint, vel deteriora futuri Concilii Atta. Satis enim, opinor, manifeste DEUS in Concilio illo Constantiensi declaravit, quam non possit ullam ferre Superbiam, quamque sibi iueundum sit dispergere superbos mente Cordes sui, quantumvis etiam illi in boc Mundo Potentia polleant. Qui igitur, boc Exemplo edoctus, non vult fieri cautior, ei cum a me pramonitus sit, liberum esto, ut, facto Pericule, re ipsa Perversitatem illorum experiatur. The plain Sense of which Passages, in short, is, that we ourselves and the Rest of the World shall be much to blame, if, after the Observations which have bin made with regard to the Managements of Synods, or General Councils, we shall be so unadvised as to trust them and commit the Cause of Religion to them.

ut

ng

ly

D

in fit

vill

but eges

no at eral pter

ER's

r in here-

mif-He

quos,

abile.

us, ne nfanis

nis-

The state of the control of the state of the control of the contro and all the Claiming of the all the Committee was the Bank with never think of thecel Consoured with a some the thirt, bu

will account converse I have been aller when a recome of carricular land in which were set to having the means to de landent the world before a tell half or let.

chievens Conference on the control of Conference of the control of the conference of 1849 bulle (1981 Af the Winter Bottling observations andig see I

(o) Luther, ad This Prairie, Spille J. Roll.

**

Chapter VIII.

The Liberty of these Churches to hold Communion with one another afferted and proved.

Hrough the Favour of our bleffed Saviour, His Churches may hold Communion with one another: For, altho' no particular Church is subject to another particular Church of however large an Extent, as the Churches in the united Provinces have bin so free as to declare with us in the first Article of their Ecclesiastical Constitution; yet all the Churches may enjoy mutual and reciprocal Communion among themselves: And there are several Ways, wherein this Communion may be regularly and laudably exercised; some of which have in some Measure bin considered or hinted at before; but yet there will be no great Hurt in making a particular Mention of them here and giving a fair Description and Recommendation of them.

First of all; These Churches may partake with one another at the LORD's Table; and the Members of one Church, coming occasionally to another where the Eucharist is to be administred, may at their Desire be admitted to the Privilege of partaking in that holy Ordinance; provided, that neither they, nor the Churches to which they belong, are chargeable with any scandalous Offence: For we are for receiving the Communion in all the Assemblies of the Faithful, as well as in the particular Churches to which we belong; considering the Lord's Supper as the Seal of our Communion both with Jesus Christ and His faithful People.

Nextly; Encouraged by the Example of the Apostle PAUL, who recommended PHEBE a Member of the Church at Cencbrea to the Church at Rome; thefe Churches may recommend their Brethren to Neighbour Churches, giving a good Testimony concerning them and entreating the Neighbour Churches to receive them to their facred Fellowship and to watch over them in Brotherly Love: And, if any Brother have real Occafion, either on the Account of his Business or for any other just End and Motive, to remove with his Family and take up his Abode in some other Place, and hereupon acquaints the Church to which he belongs of his Purpose and the Grounds of his Removal; the Church may then write more full Letters of Recommendation to the Church to which he removes, refigning bim to their Charge and entreating them to receive bim as a Brother and allow him all the Privileges of the Ecclefiaftical State among them: And, when, according to the Tenour of fuch Letters recommendatory, the recommended Brother is accepted into the Fellowship of the Church, he is to all Intents and Purposes a Member of that Church; fo that he may perform the Duties and enjoy the Privileges of a Member in that Society. -Such Letters of Recommendation the Apostle PAUL speaks of in his Second Epistle to the Corinthians, Chap. III. Verse 1, as needful for others, tho' not for himself.— And besides it is reasonable in itself, that none, without any Recommendations from the Churches to which they belong, should claim or be allowed the Privileges of Societies to which they have no Relation or do not properly appertain.

Thirdly; If any particular Church, that for a confiderable Time has walked in the Fear of GOD and the Comforts of the HOLY SPIRIT, has bin edified and multiplied to such a Degree as to be overcharged with Members; they may fend forth their Members that are qualified for it to enter into an Ecclesiastical State among themselves: And by the same Reason, if a Number of

ne

of

he

be oly

ur-

any

l as

con-omhful

tly;

S 2

Christians

Christians should come from foreign Parts to a Place where the Church may be so full that they cannot conveniently join with it, that Church may warrantably encourage them to enter into an boly Combination among themselves: For such a Propagation of Churches is agreable to Nature and Reason, consonant with the Practice of the Apostles and indeed necessary for the Enlargement of our Saviour's Kingdom in all Nations and Generations to the End of the World.

Fourthly; When particular Churches bave Occasion of spiritual Refreshment or temporal Succour, Neighbour Churches may afford it: They may furnish them with able Members or spare suitable Officers to them; and, if they can conveniently fend fuch to their indigent Neighbours, they ought with Readiness to impart them: For so, when Tidings came to the Ears of the Church at Jenifalem, [concerning the Success of the Gospel] they sent forth BARNABAS that he should go as far as Antioch, as in Act. XI. 22: And it is entirely fit, that fuch Churches as are full of useful Members and Officers should be ready from their Fulness to Supply the Necessities of their Brethren in other Churches. —And, if any of our Brethren should fall into such poor external Circumstances that they cannot support themselves and the Gospel, it is then our Duty to minister to their Necessities as God shall enable us: For fo the Churches of the Gentiles made their liberal Contributions for the poor Saints at Jerufalem, as in Rom. XV. 26 and 27; where also the Reasonableness of their so doing is declared: And to be fure both Reason and Religion challenge it from Churches to do Good and communicate to such Brethren and Churches as are destitute.

Fifthly; These Churches may lawfully consult with one another and ought to do so Occasion requires: For it is very probable, that other Churches may be better acquainted with Persons and Causes than ourselves; and therefore their Judgment and Counsel ought to be required. Thus particularly, when a new Church is to be gathered,

or

i

E

f

th

th

in

the

the

and

Ch

pre

ther

one Thi

form

that low

white use t

I hav Place

tion t

of fu

and to

positi

or Officers are to be chosen and ordained over any Church. or there is some Difference among the Brethren about the Administration of the Censures of the Churches, it is fit and proper to confult with Neighbour Churches; and Neighbour Churches should be ready to send their Elders and other Delegates to help them with their Advice and Counsel. - And, if any Church should want Light in any Case or should be at Variance, they should defire Neighbour Churches to favour them with their Counsel: Whereupon fuch Churches, convening by their Elders and other Messengers, may consider the Points in Doubt or in Controversy; and, having according to their best Understanding and Endeavours fought the Way of Truth and Peace, they may communicate by Letters and Messengers their Sentiments and Advice to the Churches whose Case has bin under their attentive and prayerful Confideration, that so, if they see meet, they may conform to the fame and be at Peace.

n

0

9/1

110 evo

C

23

d.

e r dutin

These are some of the Ways and Manners, wherein Churches are to shew their Care of one another and express their Communion with each other: But to these there is another to be added: And the Sixth Way, wherein Churches are to exercise Communion towards one another, is the Way of Communion by Admonition: This is called the third Way of Communion in our Platform of Church-Discipline, Chap. XVth: And, from that Chapter, it appears, that this Method is to be followed, when any public Offence is to be found in a Church, which they either discern not or are slow in proceeding to use the means for the Removing and Healing of it. I have referved the Consideration of this Way to this Place, that so I might enlarge upon it, for the Instruction of such as are unacquainted with it, for the confirming of such as are wavering in their Apprehensions about it, and that I might help towards removing the Prejudices of fuch as have diftinguished themselves by their Opposition unto it.

is to be taken in Juci If therefore there be any Corruption in any Church whether in Doctrine or Manners; a particular Church in the Neighbourhood, having received a credible Account of it and having upon diligent Enquiry found the Report to be true, they fend Letters or Messengers or both to the Church wherein fuch Corruption is arisen and prevailing, and admonish them with Faithfulness and Speed to amend it: If now the Elder or Elders of the Church should be so remiss as not to communicate their Admonition, or should actually be in Fault themselves, the offended Church should acquaint the Brethren of the Church offending with the Fault and exbort them to call upon their Elders to take heed that they fulfil their Ministry which they have received of the LORD: If the Church shall bear the Admonition and remove the Scandal, the Process stops: But, if the corrupt and peccant Church bear not their Brethren; the Church, which has bin offended and continues to be grieved, then takes the Help of two or three more Churches, that so the Admonition dispensed may by them be jointly enforced: And, if the Church lying under public Offence still persist both in the Neglett of their Duty and their Slight of the good Counsel and Admonition of their Brethren; those Churches may forbear Communion with the offending Church in fuch Exercises as Churches usually maintain towards each other; and they are to make Use of the Help of a Synod or a large Council of Congregational Churches for their Conviction: And, if they bear not this Synod or Council, the Council or Synod boving declared them obstinate and impenitent in Scandal, particular Churches approving and accepting the Judgment of the Synod or Council, are to declare the Sentence of Non-Communion respectively concerning them, and thereupon, out of a religious Care to keep their own Communion pure, they may justly withdraw themselves from Participation with them at the LORD's Table and from fuch other Acts of Fellowship as are otherwise allowed and required by the Communion of Churches: But however due Care

di

fti

Con unc nion Glo plin offe put harc in i amo muck each Chui For

Chris not, i be: I they 1

their]

anoth

Apol

be ho

is to be taken in such a Process, that the Innocent may not suffer with the Offensive: For, while the peccant Party is to be deprived of the Privilege of Communion with these Churches, those particular Members of the offending Church, who do not consent to the Offence of the Church but in due Sort bear their Testimony against it, may be received to wonted Communion in the Churches, and, after due Waiting in the Use of Means for bealing the Offence of the Church, may withdraw from the Communion of their own Church, with the Allowance of the Council of Neighbour Churches, and upon offering themselves to the Communion of another Church, may be lawfully received by that Church, as if they had bin regularly dismiss'd unto them from their own Church continuing still in Offence.

e

II

ne

nd

h,

d, nat

en-

nce ieir

re-

the ally

Use

ega-

bear

wing

parnt of Nonupon, oure,

ation

Care is

This is what is commonly called the third Way of Communion in these Churches, but it would be better understood perhaps, if we called it the Way of Communion by Admonition. It must be acknowledged to the Glory of God our SAVIOUR, that, altho' this Disciplinary Process has bin several Times undertook with offending Churches, these Churches have but rarely bin put to the utmost Extent of their Duty: For there has hardly bin a Church fo daringly wicked as to hold out in maintaining the Corruptions and Offences found among them: But, whenever it does fall out, it is as much the Duty of these Churches thus to be faithful to each other as it is the Duty of Brethren in the same Church or Communion to be faithful to one another: For these Churches enjoy Brotherly Communion with one another, as well as Brethren of the fame Church. The Apostles had the Care of all the Churches: But it is to be hoped, that the public Spirit of Love and Peace and Christian Faithfulness is not dead with them: There is not, it is true, so much of this Spirit as there ought to be: But, wherever it resides or reigns in Churches, they will have a watchful Eye over other Churches for their Benefit, and a tender Care and Concern for their best Interests, and will pursue the same in the Disciplinary Method, which has bin described, as there shall be Occasion for it.

I am very sensible, that many Persons, and especially Clergymen, are averse to a Compliance in the least with this Process of Discipline, and that for this Reason; because they do not know any such Thing as a Consociation of Churches among us: So that, inasmuch as they do not know that there is any express Agreement of the Churches to conform to such a Process, they cannot think that every Church is obliged to regard the Determination of a Synod in fuch a Cafe.

In Answer to which Pretence, I would say, that it is doubtless a Mistake to declare, that there is no such Thing as a Consociation of Churches among us: For our Platform of Church-Discipline is to be deemed a Covenant, by which all our Churches and every Member in them is obliged to conform to the Rules, Directions and Orders laid down in it: And for the Proof of this I would observe, that this Platform was composed by these Churches in a Body Representative: So that the plain Sense and Meaning of the Composers must be, that they engaged to conform to the Rules and Orders of it, and that they would have their Successors, as well as themselves, directed and governed by them. Nor can I help observing, that Approbation (u) of our Platform was voted unanimously by the Elders and Brethren of our Churches; and there was not so much as one appear d.

fu

W

ar

a 2

go

juci

210% fuci

pla

⁽u) This must not be understood, as if they absolutely bound themselves to a perpetual Conformity unto it. For our pious Fathers renounced all Astachment to any mere humans. Systems or Forms, and reserved an entire and perpetual Laberty for particular Christians and particular Churches to fearch the inspired Records and to form both their Principles and Pradict from those Discoveries they should make therein, without imposing them upon others; as you may see by consulting the New England Chronology of the ingenious Mr. PRINCE: I have refer to the Pages in the Appendix to this Apology.

when the Vote was put in the Negative in the Synod on Sept. 10. 1679.

And besides, that this Order of Church-Discipline is to be deemed an holy Past or Covenant, we may argue from those Synods and Councils which have met here by Vertue of it and maintained constant Fellowship in many swderal overt Asts: For, from these seederal overt Acts of Councils and Synods from Time to Time, it is pretty manifest, that these Churches have all along maintained their first Principles of Church-Discipline and so have transmitted the Covenant which they made to succeeding Generations.

Furthermore; It may be remarked, that in the Settlement of new Churches, in the Ordination of Officers in the same Churches, and in giving the Right Hand of Fellowship, of the Fellowship of the Churches, from Time to Time, these Churches have so often plainly, significantly and formally renewed their Original Past or Covenant.

T

m

d

I

ese

ın

at

it,

as can rm

1 0 ben rely

nant earty the Hice ofing And it may, moreover, be mention'd, that even fuch Persons, as have made this Objection, when they can find any Thing in our Platform of Church-Discipline suited to their own Humours and Inclinations and that will be serviceable for a Turn or emergent Occasion, are very ready to cite, improve and conform to it: And this seems to afford some Evidence, as if they themselves look'd upon it as a standing and general Compast, until the Churches shall agree to alter it.

These Hints are sufficient to render it probable, and more than probable, that there is here a Consociation of Churches, and that between these Churches there is still a mutual Consaderation: But, if to please some of our good Brethren it should be allowed, that there is no such Compast between these Churches, nor any Consociation of them; still it may be proved with Ease, that such a Process of Discipline, as has but now bin ex-Plained, ought to be observed in these Churches.

I shall not here cite any Authority for the Proof of this; intending in an Appendix to this Book to reprint something referring to this Matter from Dr. INCREASE MATHER'S, my Grandfather's, Vindication of the Order of the Churches in New-England; but I shall briefly mention a Consideration or two, which will be sufficient to establish this Process of Discipline in the good Opinion of all such as are the true Friends of these Churches.

First of all; This Process is entirely agreable to the Nature and Design of the Gospel, as well as the Reason of Mankind: For what is it for one Church to admonish another on the Account of fomething judg'd to be amils in their Society? It is only for a Neighbour Minister, or Elder, with a few of his Christian Brethren to pay a Visit to the Neighbour Church and humbly advise and exhort them to seek for the Restoration of Peace and to rectify their Errors whether in Judgment or Action. How rational and how Evangelical is this Method? What Affuming, what Domineering is there to be found in this? Truely, notwithstanding the frightful Dress in which this Process is represented, there is nothing more Authoritative in it, than one Brother's admonishing another, according to the Rules of the Gospel as well as of right Reason.

Again; This Method is well calculated for preserving the Reputation and Honour of particular Churches: For, as particular Christians, so particular Churches, are but Men and by Consequence are liable to Errors: But yet, as all Christians make an high Profession and therefore should be careful lest there should be any sur upon it; even so all particular Churches, which are corporate Societies making a splendid Profession of Christianity, ought carefully to maintain their Social Honour: And therefore, as with particular Christian Brethren, so with particular Churches, fallen into Errors and Scandals, it would be wrong and injurious to take at once precipitate and open Measures: Nor indeed would exposing their Character openly at first be either a regular

tin

abo

app

cut

De:

Bou

Method

or a probable Method of effecting their Amendment: Wherefore, in order to preserve the Reputation and Honour of these Churches, it is vastly better, I mean more rational and scriptural, in the first place, to follow this private Method, to which by our Constitution also we are directed, than as the Manner of some is to bring the Affairs of a Church before a Council and to a public Hearing at once.

And, in fine, If this Disciplinary Method be not carefully observed, these Churches have no Remedy at all against Male-Administrations in particular Churches; For I cannot find, that by the Constitution of these Churches the Power of calling Councils belongs to any particular Persons in them, but to the Churches them, selves: So that, according to this Constitution, if there be Male-Administration in any particular Church, the Aggrieved Members of it may not convoke such Assemblies: But they should defire the Advice and Affistance of a Neighbour Church: And, unless one particular Church interpose in this State of Things and enquire into the Case in the Way of Communion by Admonition, particular Churches may remain at eternal Variance within themselves without shewing our Dislike of their Proceedings: For there is no other Process that we know of in the publish'd Order of our Churches, by which we can testify against them, but in this Disciplinary Method.

But, after all, some of our good Brethren will continue displeased with this Process of Discipline from a peaceable Disposition, as should seem from their Discourse about it: For they say, that they cannot by any means approve of this Disciplinary Method; because the Prose, cution of it will occasion great Disturbance and Confusion in Churches.

THE SEA

But, for Answer to these Persons, it may be worth the while to expostulate a little with them: Say then, Dear Brethren, why do you think that this Process should occasion more Trouble and Consusion than the Method of calling a Council by a few particular Perfoh, or even by one Perjon, diffactisfied or aggricued Por is it, because your own Administrations bave bin irregular or unfuitable, that you are therefore difaffected to this Process, from a prevalent Fear of Examination accorde ing to it? However, is not this Disciplinary Method to plainly prescribed in the Constitution of particular Congregational Churches that we must be Brownists or Nothing if we recede from it? And, in fine if it should be so, as you fay, that Churches will be disturbed in the Prosecution of this Method; yet can we suppose, that some Disturbance of the Churches in a sleepy and indolent State would be amis and undesirable, if a more establish'd Order and a more comely Amendment may be occasion'd thro' this Disturbance in the Churches? Pray, dear Brethren, answer these Questions in the Spirit of Meekness, as they are proposed; that so, if our Fathers erred in the Prescription of this Method, the Churches may regularly use their Endeavours to get their Error rectified.

Which I have bin able to make; I am free to declare my Apprehension, and I hope my Brethren will not be offended with me for making this Declaration, that the Neglett and Slight of this Rule of Discipline by the Pastors and Churches in this Government has bin the true Reason, if not the sole Cause, of the Disturbances and Confusions in many of our Churches, and that, as the great Voet observed with respect to the Want of Correspondence among the Churches, I fear it much: Time will shew what will bappen, when the Number of Churches is greatly encreased, and one will not hear another (x). Nay, without the Spirit

7.150

-4/

077.2

Corr quo X. I

2011

⁽x) Nole— Mordicus certare, quamdiu bene fe habent: Non equidem invideo; metuo magis; & Dies docebit quid futurum sir, ut i in ingentem Numerum excreverint & OUDEIS OUDENOS AKOUSH. Voet. Par. III. L. I. Tract. III. Cap. V.

of Prophesy, I may venture to say, that, if this Method be neglected, those Things will fall and perish sooner than we imagine, which we thought and believed to be firm and lasting (z). And I cannot therefore but wish to Gon, that the great Head of the Church might fo influence the Minds and Hearts of these Churches as to bring them to an entire. Approbation of true Congregationalism, and of this Disciplinary Process in particular, by which alone Congregational Churches can be diffinguished from such as are Brownistical. istibe Profes ton of me decided you and thopole,

PER CONTROLL SECTION OF THE SECTION

the Churches bear his the type of the fact to more officialistic I have at a grown or the country stories during that some Delares differ the stand here expenses and indolent store would be appropriate, if a

Air I have the space of particular to declare my Apprehention That I coa and Argebren will my Applended to the collection of the Office of the Collection of reflects to the Late Late Charter the Prans the Chartebesy Licar et med de person de contact will bappen.

h

n, d t of the mos

when sing Number of Control of the secretaged, and (z) Nifi in Ecclesia valeat Admonitio & in quotidiano usu fit Correctio, Citius quam ipfi putemus collabuntur & intereunt ea quoque que firmissima credebantur. Bullinger. Decad V. Serm. A. De initifuis Ecclenæ.

"Similar de la companya d as the Children of Zion, to revisitely and repries of their King and repries of their King and repries of their King and repries of their control of their cont

THE CONCLUSION, in a brief Address to the Churches of NEW-ENGLAND.

King or Canashich some Proce fir

pla

The

tan

we

the ther

per

the leng

Tim

Year

forme

Breti

rable

have

Hift

owin

Priv

HUS I have endeavoured to state and vindicate the more distinguishing Liberties of the Churches in New-England. As these Privileges have bin purchased by the Blood of the LORD JESUS, they ought to be very precious in our Esteem, nor upon any Pretence whatsoever to be slighted and undervalued by the happy

People who enjoy them.

It is worthy to be always remembred by these Churches, that it was not on the Account of any peculian Sentiments in Dostrinal Matters that our wise and good Futners lest their Native Countrey and came into this then howling Wilderness: For they agreed to the Doctrinal Articles of the Church of England as much as the Conformists to that Parliamentary Church, and indeed much more so than most of them: But it was from a pure Respect to Ecclesiastical Discipline and Order and to a more refined Worship, that those excellent Men our Ancestors transported themselves, with their Families, into this Land.

The Church of Rome, as far as in them lies, have divested our great SAVIOUR of His Prophetical, Sacerdotal and Kingly Offices: Other Churches have bin so far overcome by the Light of Reason and Revelation, that they have restored as one may say His Sacerdotal Office to Him and His Prophetical Office also: But our grack ous Predecessors, observing that their Brethren in England were not willing to allow our Lord Jesus Christ to be the King and Ruler of His Church, nobly resolved, as the Children of Zion, to acknowlege and rejoyce in their King: And hence they quitted their ungrateful Countrey, that so they might observe that refind Wor-(hip and Order which their LORD and Sovereign had in His Word appointed to be observed.

It follows therefore, that any Degeneracies from the pure Worship and Scriptural Order in these Churches would be a direct Rejection of the Kingly Authority of CHRIST JESUS, and a Means of setting up another King or Captain to lead us backward, in the Steps we bave taken from Babylon, towards it again : May Good of His rich Grace therefore preserve these Churches from any fuch Degeneracies!

A PARTIE STATE

d

2

to ur

ches in New And and It is evident indeed, that great Pains are taken to draw our People, especially our inconsiderate young People, who are too unmindful of the King and Goo. of their Fathers, from their Love and Attachment to those first Principles of these Churches, which I have bin explaining and enforcing: But, as NABOTH faid to AHAB concerning his Vineyard, in I King. XXI. 3. The LORD forbid it me, that I should give the Inheritance of my Fathers unto Thee; even so it is fit, that we fhould fay to fuch as would entice us to part with the pure Order of these Churches, This was our Father's Inheritance: And God forbid, that any should persuade us to give up our inestimable Rights: For the very Thought of parting with them is shocking.

Dear People, The Liberties, which have bin challeng'd for you, are the same as the Brethren in the Times of primitive Christianity enjoyed for bundreds of Years together: And, whatever specious Pretences some may make to the contrary, the Dispossessing of the Bretbren of these their valuable Liberties was a considerable Instance of the Romish Apostocy: And indeed they have but a flender Acquaintance with Ecclesiastical History who do not know, that the Rife of Popery was owing to the People's tamely giving up their Rights and Privileges, either thro' Ignorance or Imprudence, to the Clergy, who unreasonably engross'd to themselves and grasp'd in their own Clutches all Things in the Churches that were of any Worth and Importance.

There can be no Doubt, that there are many who are sworn and inveterate Enemies to the pure Order in these Churches; and, besides these, we have Reason to think that there are many false Friends to it; by which Sort I mean those that pretend some Regard to the Order of the Gospel in these Churches, but yet at the same Time would gladly subvert it: And it is well, if there are not fundry Ministers in these Churches, who are disaffected to it: For, as LUTHER has somewhere remark'd concerning Religion, Nunquam magis periclitur quam inter Reverendissimos; so it may be said with respect to the Order in these Churches: Probably it may be in most Danger from some of the Reverend Body .-But furely all fuch in these Churches are very unadvised and blameworthy: And, if they are not duely sensible of the Tendency of their Disaffection and Undertakings, it is a Pity but their Brethren should, and carefully guard against them. And truely there cannot any Good be expected from them: For, as they do not produce a better Discipline and purer Order for our Churches in the Room of that, which they unreasonably diflike and would throw away; fo, if they could produce and offer a better Order, which indeed is very unlikely, there is no rational Profpect of its gaining Ground among us, but with that Disturbance and Confusion in our Churches, of which they at other Times are exceedingly fearful. But,

th

11 en

hi

an

tra

Sea

the

These Enemies to our Ecclesiastical Discipline and Order seem as if they knew not what they would have. The Scheme, which they would promote, is very far from Presbyterial: For, if one may judge by their Conduct, they seem to be fond of one Minister's Ruling and Governing his own Church without the Consent of the Brethren or any Elders in Conjunction with him: Whereas the London Ministers, in their Vindication of the Presbyterial Government, say, that for one Minister to assume such Power unto bimself is to make bimself a Congregational Pope.— Dear Brethren, let not chese petty Popes then deprive you of your sult Rights and invaluable Privileges: But, like your worthy Ancestors, continue fond of them: For it will be creditable and praise-worthy not to let them go: And it will, in the Style of Pliny, be a most bonest Thing to follow the Footsteps of our Ancestors, if they have gone before us in a right Path (a).

And, when you observe any, who value themselves upon their Contempt of your establish'd Order and who often speak slightly of your Platform of Church-Discipline which is the Sum of it, Dear Brethren, Set a Mark upon these Persons; remembring, that better and wiser Men than they, even those worthy and famous Presbyterians, who publish'd their Jus Divinum about Eighty Years since, freely declare, that they agree with the Things of the greatest Concernment in it, and that their Debates about some Things of lesser Consequence were not [Contentiones] warm Disputes, but [Collationes]

Friendly Conferences.

e

e re

e-

1-

th ay

d-ely

er-

ind

not do

our na-yuld

rery

ning

Con-

arc

and lave.

y far

their uling

him:

ion of the

And, in fine, Much Honour'd and entirely Belov'd Churches; be pleased to accept of this Attempt of one, the most unworthy of your Sons; who, being set for the Desence of the Order of the Gospel among you, has endeavoured to illustrate and confirm that Order in its primitive Purity for your Advantage, and, from his Faithfulness to your best Interests, has dared to expose himself to many Misrepresentations, if not Reproaches and Abuses: And wherein he has fail'd of giving the true Sense of his and your Fathers, the from a diligent Search of their Meaning in Manuscripts and printed Composures he has endeavoured it, be pleased to impute Praceffeint. Plin. Epitt. 8. 1. 1.

pute it to humane Frailty and undefigned Mistaking:
For into these alone his Failing must be resolved.

Ut desint Vires, tamen est laudanda Voluntas:

Hac Ego [contentum] auguror esse [Deum.]

Ovid. de Pont. L. III. Eleg. 4.

The END of the Apology.

1290 Sale Marches

LIMERMALICIE

Silodia

entrary Dif-HURCHES and Hoarts Profit Churry Underfland-

2 06 58

ENTER MARKETEET

As very Original acetous

Constant Associate

Constant Hue is

Court and truc

Account

The

Bo

The APPENDIX

To the Apology for the Churches in New-England.

Part the first, containing some Evidences and Specimens of the Catholic and Comprehensive Principles of the New-English Churches.

IN the Thirty-fourth Page of the Preliminary Difcourse concerning Congregational Churches I have observed, that, not only our Houses and Hearts, but our Churches also, are open to Baptists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians, when in a Judgment of Charity we have Reason to think them of good Understanding, Piety and Vertue. Now, for the Proof of This, I shall recite some Particular, and then some more General Testimonies to the Truth of it.

Number I.

Have a Letter in my Hands, and the very Original Letter, of the learned and pious and facetious Mr. Charles Morton of Charles-Town in New-England; a Letter to the Right Honourable Hugh Boscawen, Esq; which, as it gives a large and true V 2

Account of the Countrey and Churches in New-England, I had some Thoughts of Printing: But, sinding that it will take up more Room than can well be allow'd, I shall therefore only select a few Paragraphs from it. And, if any upon the Sight of These should want to see the Remainder of the Letter, I would here acquaint them, that I have it in my Library and shall be ready to give them the Sight of it. The Paragraphs are as follow:

Give me Leave, Sir, to acquaint you, that I am now in a Countrey, which has bin a friendly Afrium to me: It gave me a kind Reception, when my Native Land did in a Manner push me out. - It's my humble Petition to your Honour, that you would become a vigorous Patron for the People of God in these remote Lands. - God has a great People here, an able and pious Ministry, and a great many well order'd Chur-Their Church Government is interpendant, as their witty Mr. WARD called it. - I have bin called to some of their Councils and have seen their good Effect in healing the Breaches of diffurbed Churches. Their Ordination to the public Ministry is folemn by the Pastors of Neighbour Churches: And, the their Custom has bin a new Imposition of Hands upon every new Call to the Exercise of the Ministry; yet to us, who came from Europe, Mr. BAYLEY and myfelf, it was abated. And, for ought I can perceive, they mind more the Substance of Religion than the Circumstances of Some Men's private Opinions (x). Their public Worship in Praying, Singing and Preaching is plain, but grave and folemn, and, I hope, fincere. - The Influence of a Religious Profession upon common and outward Conversation is very great: So that lewd Profaneness did never openly appear, till a wretched Crew of Frigateers and Red Coats came among us. - I write not all this, wh

Pa

and

Tim

iom

fom

Spir

muc Tis 1

⁽x) It was principally for the Sake of this Passage in Lialis, that I have transcribed such a Part of this Letter.

to dome or tiper

as if Men were here perfect: For then there were no need of Magistracy, Ministry or Gospel Ordinances for their Edification: But certainly, Sir, if God has a People on the Face of the Earth and any Part of the World may be called Emanuel's Land, New-England may well put in for a notable Share in that Denomination. - If your Honour will afford your Affiftance to these Gentlemen, I hope you will never have Cause to repent it. God has heretofore bleffed the Friends of New-England and blafted all her Adversaries. May the God of Heaven so establish your Affairs, as may raife the Hopes of us your Dependants! May His Wifdom guide your Counfels and His Power be your Protection, that we with you may rejoyce in the LORD. So daily prayeth your Honour's most humble and many Ways obliged Servant, Internal Manual Property

Feb. 3. 1689,-90. CHARLES MORTON.

Effect when the Numb. II. dmuN it was no than .

THe next Testimony shall be from my own Father, who, in a Letter to Mr. FRANCIS DE LA PILLONNIERE, which was printed in The Occasional Paper, but never printed and generally known in New-England, writes in the following Manner.

-The Truth is, the Reformation that came on, when the Romish Antichrist had pass'd thro' his Time, and his Two Times, and was entering into his Half-

Time, was little better than an Half-Reformation.

da id s

The Reforming Churches, flying from Rome, carried, fome of them more, fome of them lefs, all of them fomething, of Rome, with them; especially in that Spirit of Imposition, and Persecution, which has too much cleaved unto them ALL.

The Period haftens for a New Reformation; wherein tis likely that our holy Lord will, in some Degree, Dadination av rejectida World; and form a New People of the good Men in the several Parties, who shall unite in the Articles of their Goodness, and sweetly bear with one another in their lesser Differences; leaving each other to the Divine Illuminations.

PIETY will anon be the only Basis of Union, in the Churches of the revived, refined, reformed Reformation; and pious Men, in several Forms, will come to Love, and live, as Brethren; and the purged Floor of our Saviour will be visited with Tokens of his Presence, that shall be very comfortable.

Sir, if Old England prove too torrid a Climate for you, come over to New-England, where I will do my best, that you shall be treated with more Christian Civilities.

But I hope that our Lord will find greater Employments for you in Europe, than can be expected on the Western Side of the Atlantick. He has qualify'd you for them, and, I hope, what you have seen among some very Desective Protestants will animate you to them.

of .

fon

fet !

his

leng

to k

tion

Anf

Nor

glani

Color

here

Being my felf a Calvinist, I must needs differ pretty much from a Gentleman who professes himself an Arminian. But I consider what those Maxims of Piety are, which engage the Arminian to maintain his diftinguishing Positions. Those Maxims are, That the Holy and Sin-hating Lord must not be reproach'd as the Impeller of the Sin, whereof he is the Revenger: That our Merciful Father must not be blasphemed, as if He dealt after an illusory manner with Men, when He invites them to His Mercy: That none, among the Fallen Race of the First Adam, are to be shut out from the Hopes of Life, in the Death of the Second Adam: That impenitent Unbelievers must not cast on God the Blame of their Unbelief; but the Wicked must lay wholly on themselves the Fault of their own Destruction: And, That Men must work out their own Salvation with as much Industry, and Agony, and Vigilancy, as if all turned upon their own Will and Care, whether they shall be faved, or no. Now, these are Maxims, which every pious Galvinist will also most heartily confent unto. And, if I should repeat the Maxims of Piety, which make me fall in with the Posttions of a Calvinift, as requifite unto the supporting of them. I am confident the pious Mr. de la Pillonniere would most heartily subscribe unto them. And we shall both of us have the Modesty to confess, that we have also to do with Matters which are to us incomprehenfible. Now, if good Men are fo united in the Maxims, which are the END, for the ferving whereof they declare that they pursue their Controversies; why should not this Uniting Piety put an End unto their Controversies? and beat their Swords into Plough-Shares, and their Spears into Pruning-Hooks?

Numb. dill.

S.

yne ou

ng

to tty

Ar-

ety

lif-

the

las er:

nen

ong

out

:0114

on ked

NW

heir

UWD

DINO

The appropriation

BUT, to these more particular Testimonies concerning the Catholic and comprehensive Principles of these Churches from a superior Regard to the Substance of Religion, I would take Leave to subjoin and mention some more General ones.

The famous Dury, whose Heart was very much set upon a Pacification among Protestants, having made his proposed Tour in Europe for promoting it, at length wrote a Letter to his Brethren in New-England to know their Sentiments concerning such a Pacification; which Letter occasioned the following noble Answer to it, that was written by the great Mr. Norton, Pastor of the first Church in Boston, New-England, at the Desire of all the Ministers of this [then] Colony, and afterwards signed by them all. I have here reprinted the English Translation of this Letter, that so it might be of more general Advantage that, for the sake of the Learned, I have inserted in the Margin several of the Emphatical Passages in it from the Original Latin, which, I think, was never published. N. B. If any Person has a Mind to see the Original Latin Letter, with the Names of the Ministers subscribing it in their own Hand-Writing, and will be so good as to repair to me for the Sight of it, I shall readily gratify them with it.

The Letter return'd by the Ministers of New England to Mr. JOHN DURY concerning his Pacification.

To the worthy and eminent Mr. John Dunys lo.

rich one bal a: Salutations. Ad alin whiteness

11

W

ar

N

for an

be

Di

200

the tho

tho

leaf

Our

a lit

goo

tore

Rea

be k

Charaventhees and bear their Swards into Plango Spares, THAT amongst so many horrid Alarms of War, amongst fo many fatal Differences of Opinion raised in Matters of Religion, and that also after so many, and fuch unwearied Labours of famous Interceffors, now fo often in this Caufe undertaken in vain; you should O Dury, the most zealous Friend of Peace, not only be feriously thinking of, but are also unto this Day strongly endeavouring the Espoulals of Truth and Peace between the Professors of the Gospel ; we verily do largely congratulate you in the conceiving to great a Design, with our utmost, and daily Prayers, helping forward (by God's Affiftance) the Birth of this Manchild. Suffer us to speak the very Truth of the Marter, nor is there any need to deny the fame of Even as the Holy Scripture relates how the Olive Branch, brought much Comfort to the Parent of the other World after the Flood, while he was lamenting over the Tremendous Spectacle of the Deluge overflowing all here below; in like Manner did your Letter, breathing a very Spirit of Peace, as another Noal's Dove, fent down from Heaven, wonderfully refresh the exile Brethren, who were almost aftonished to see to many many Nations, that profess the Gospel, making irreconcileable War amongst themselves, together with the many and great Dissentions in the Business of Religion, and that monstrous Flood of Error breaking forth, not out of the Cataracts of the Clouds, but the very Month of the Dragon.

ry

n

fo

7-

1;

ce,

lús

ind ily

eat

an-121-n as

ch,

her

met ing ter,

my

Be it fo, that we are in the utmost Parts of the Earth; we have only changed our Climate, not our Minds: We have altered our Place, that we might retain the Faith without alteration. There are indeed some, that might have been better employed, at least meer Strangers to our Affairs, who do therefore impute unto us the Guilt of Schism, because in the first Place we have endeavoured after the pure Worship of God. But if any see good to enquire into the Reason, why these Churches in the Wilderness left their Country, this it was, viz. That the Ancient Faith, and pure Worship, might be found inseparable Companions in our Practice, and that our Posterity might be undefiled in Religion: Nevertheless, we are never unmindful of the Saying of Austin to the Brethren in the Wilderness, as he styles them; There are two Things considerable, faith he, Conscience and good Name: Conscience as necessary for thy self, good Name for thy Neighbour: He who trusts to his Conscience, and neglects his good Name, is cruel, especially if he be fet in that Place, of which the Apostle writing to his Disciple, saith, In all Things shew thy self an Example of good Works. It may not be unlawful for us, who are in the Wilderness on the further side of the Seas, as well as those, who through Grace are called to the Ministry, though in our felves the greatest of Sinners, and the least of all the Saints, as any others, to Apologize for our felves in the Words of the Tribes beyond Jordan a little changed, for the vindicating or preferving our good Name in a Matter of so great Moment, both before great ones, Fathers, Brethren, and every gentle Reader, The Lord God of Gods, the Lord God of Gods be knows, and Ifrael shall know, if wittingly and willingly in Rebellion, or treacherous dealing against the Lord, or in Schism it be, that we have departed from our Country, fave us not this Day.

But yet notwithstanding, we are not unmindful of that fo known Oracle, [Love the Truth and Peace:] We neither strive for Truth without making Reckoning of Peace, neither do we pursue Peace with the Loss of Truth: The former defaceth, this latter teareth the feamlefs Coat of the Church. It is as necessary to avoid the Rock of Schism on the Right Hand, as the Quicksands of Consusion on the Left. We renounce Samaritanism, that deadly fink of false Doctrine, as much as we fly from Donatism, the fore Enemy of Evangelical Temperament, and Devourer (if we may speak after Tertullian) of Christian Society; but admire and embrace the Concord, and Agreement of the Gospel. We are no whit pleased with Cassanders shaking Hands with Papists at the furthest Distance, erring from the Truth; nor yet with the Romanist renouncing Communion with them that are otherwise minded in leffer Differences: But in special Manner we ought to labour, that we may walk with an even Foot, and not to turn aside an Hair's breadth from the Truth: In the mean Time, it is better to be a Cyprian than a Steven. It is much more grievous to think aright, and be found a Schismatick, than to think amiss in Things not fundamental, and be of a peaceable Spirit. The Spirit of our Lord Jesus Christ is a Spirit of Truth, of Peace and Communion: So defirous of Peace, that it requireth Communion in a true Church, although not pure; and so desirous of Truth, that it forbids impurity in any Church whatfoever. That, that is the Mark at which we aim, and which we endeavour and breath after, in him who is the Way, the Truth and Life.

It is confessed, there are some Apices, or lesser Points in Divinity, which the Church of God hath now for above an hundred Years bewailed, as the obstacles of Peace, concerning which the chief Controversies maintained

tained are about Predeftination, Ubiquity, and the Eucharift. About these Points how many thousand Polemick Writings have been extant all abroad, which the Christian World is scarce able to contain? Alas! that ever there should be a War about the Sacrament! Alas! that ever there should be any contentious Treatifes about the Eucharist, turning the very Badge of Union into an Apple of Contention! Who can refrain from Tears at the uttering of fuch Things? Yet these notwithstanding, that there is Place for the so much defited Coalition between the Evangelicks and the Reformed, fo called, may eafily be made appear, by running thro' the chief Heads of Things:

As namely, Because in the first Article, they who were the greatest Favourers of that eminent Worthy of the former Age, do yet ascribe the Work of Conversion wholly unto God, and do likewife stifly maintain, and accurately defend, Grace to be altogether free; who were also utter Enemies to that pestilent Opinion of the Schoolmen, [That God is bound to him that doth what he can of bimself.] And who likewise do deservedly account it meer Pelagianism, to make any kind of Qualifying Fitness a Moral Motive unto predetermining

Grace.

f

y

e

e

-

g

g

In

to ot

ne

n.

nd

a-

of ce

ui-

e;

ny

ch

in ints

for

of un-

ned

As for the Opinion of the Ubiquity of the Humane Nature, by Virtue of the Hypostatical Union; it cannot be denied, but that Papers have come abroad, written with too much Gall and sharpness. In the mean while it is agreed upon by all, and taken for granted, That the Humane Nature is Personally Om-According to this Rule likewife are other niprefent. Propositions about the Person to be judged of, under this Head.

Laftly, As concerning the Lord's Supper; the Divines of either Part, do reject Transubstantiation, together with worshipping of Bread. But about the Real Presence, viz. Sacramental, of the Body and Blood of Christ, it is agreed between both. These so many and great great Differences, are to be accounted as so many Heartgriess, althor not to be numbred amongst them which by the Apostle are called Unlearned Questions; yet we judge them not to be of that Moment, as to hinder the giving each other the Right Hand of Fellowship, or the Pledges of Ecclesiastical Brotherhood (a), building upon that Apostolical Canon of holy Communion, Nevertheless, in that whereunto we have attained, let us walk by the same Rule, let us mind the same Thing, Phil. 3. 16.

Here also we may call to Mind that common and received Distinction between Fundamentals and NonFundamentals; and, that Brotherly Fellowship is not to be resused with Men peaceable, and otherwise Orthodox, for the sake of Non-Fundamentals.

We account it very unequal to fasten upon any one that holds an Opinion all the Consectaries, which to him that argues according to the exactest Grounds of Reason, seem to follow upon such Premises, especially if those Consequences be disowned by him: In which respect there are no small Errors on both Sides, while those of our Side impeach the other of Eutyches his Opinion, tho' resusing to own it, for the sake of Consubstantiation; and they on the other Side go about to make ours guilty of making God the Author of Sin, altho' we never so much disclaim it, in the Point of Predestination. The Disputes about the Consequences of these, whether rightly inferred or not, from the Premises, belong not to this Place to be examined, year the Matter itself requires rather that we should forbear.

b

b

th

b

an un

fo

fe

as

But this Tragedy is not yet at an End. For, as to Polity, and indifferent Things, they have taken up divers Opinions; who it were to be wished that they would embrace that Concord one with another, which hath hath been to often endeavoured after. But the Differences of this Nature, as they are not fo small, that the Lovers of Truth should be filent about them; so neither are they fo great, that they need be any hindrance to the Seekers of Peace and Quietness in the present Undertaking; as may appear by the unquestioned Example of our Saviour, who refused not to celebrate the Worship of God in the Jewish Church, defaced at that Time with more grievous Corruptions. They who are united to Christ by Heart-converting Grace, are Members of his Mystical Body; and whosoever, but in appearance at least, are joyned to the Head, and have added themselves to the Polity of Israel, are to be received Members of the Political Body. Now Communion follows upon Union. Besides the Nature of Political, as well as Christian Society, doth utterly forbid to deny the Privileges of Fellowship to such Members as are found without Scandal.

⁽a) Tot & talia Dissidia tot fatemur Cordelia; — Tanti autem esse, quo minus dextras daretur jungere Dextris, & mutua audite & reddere Fraternitatis Ecclesiastica Symbola, minime judicamut.

Thus much we thought good to speak briefly about this Point, that Honoured Persons, and Respected Brethren, might understand what Reasons moved us to entertain the same Opinion with themselves. We have been taught, that the Idea, or Pattern of boly Communion ought to be fetched from Divine Writ, and not to be framed after our own Pleasure (b).

139

100

)

)

The Rules of Sacred Society are certain; beyond which, or short of which, it is not in our Power to extend, or withold the Right Hand of Brotherhood. Whoever having attained these shall acknowledge them; and having acknowledged them, shall walk according unto them; so holding Communion with Sinners, as he doth not in the least communicate with their Sins, so as he is wanting neither to the Truth, nor to himself, nor his Brethren, him we deservedly esteem both as a Guide and Pillar of the Church: Whether we will

OI

⁽b) Communionis Sanda Ideam a Divina Pagina petendam, non pro Arbitrio nostro cudendam didicimus.

reat Moment X I G N 3 9 P A hould be 821

or no, we are Brethren; and feeing we are Brethren, let us acknowledge our felves what we are, namely, Brethren in the Lord. A Day would scarce suffice, to rehearfe how many and how great incitements do call for, and require this. To account the weak in Faith for none, is indeed itself a greater Weakness. The Name of Brethren is sweet: It is Matter of great Delight to be fuch indeed. But it is much to be lamented, that those who are so, should not be acknowledged to be so. So to stand for Truth, that by too tenacious insisting upon Doctrine, we make no reckoning of the Rights of Society, is to be carried with the Study of Parties, not of the Truth (c); and to undertake the Patronage of an Opinion, rather because it is our own, than because it is true.

f ir

at ne

of it ;

I

me

COL

of.

this fay

ho

Co

of:

7001

they

him

Ma felf,

Sounder Philosophy determines, that the excellency of Union is to be efteemed according to the Dignity of the Cause. We here pass over in Silence the conspiring together of the Waters and dry Land to make one Globe; as also that of the Frame of the Heavenly and the Earthly Globe, to make one Sphere of the World. There may be found an heap of Miracles in the quiet gathering the living Creatures into the Ark, and there abiding in it, where the most savage of them laid aside their lavageness; being ready to acknowledge Noab for their Lord (not much otherwise than Adam in giving Names unto them) where might be feen the Wolf flanding amongst the Sheep, neither do the Flocks feem afraid of the great Lyons: These are indeed very great Things; but yet if they be compared with the Mystical Union, shining forth in one of the very least of Christ's Members, there would want Words to express how great the Distance is. To proceed therefore, if the Union of a very few Believers be of fo great great Moment, of how great Account should be the Uniting of all Protestants in the Faith? But let us here pause a while, and not think much to weigh this Matter a little more feriously, and we shall find (unless we are much deceived) this very Union about which we are treating, if it be without Hypocrify and Deceit, but as the very Off-spring and Image of the Hypostatical Union, and only next unto it on Earth (as to the Kind) and like unto which there will not be found any in Heaven, no not when Angelical Nature remained in its Perfection. We do believe indeed, and not out of a vain Conceit, That this Agreement is a bright Looking-Glass made of the Blood of the Lamb, wherein Jesus himself, the Prince of so great a Peace, clearly shines forth: In passing through which also, he doth irradiate the World with its brightness, while it stedfastly beholds this clear Looking-Glass, and by irradiating, ingenerates Faith therein. In which respect we need not fear to affirm, That the perpetual Conjunction of all Mankind, established by the Bond of the first Covenant, would be by infinite Degrees exceeded by it; That they all may be one, as thou Father in me, and I in thee, that the World may know that thou hast sent me, Joh. 17. 21.

⁽c) Veritatem item Operam dare, ut Doctrina tenacius inharendo Societatis Jura fufque deque faciamus, eft Partes ogere non veritati ftudere.

10

id

d.

et

re

de ab

Volf

m ry

he

aft

X-

re-

fo

eat

If the possibility of such a Peace should appear, we could not do much in the pursuing the Necessity thereof. Notwithstanding (if we may have Leave) that this Necessity may be fastned in our Minds, as they say, with the strongest Nail, before we leave this exhortatory Part of our Discourse, we think meet, for a Conclusion, to adorn and strengthen it with the Sayings of some famous Men, tending much unto Peace.

At Marpurg, Luther long fince professed, That he would not yield this Praise to the Adverse Party, that they should be more studious of Concord and Peace than himself. From whence arose that samous Concord of Marpurg. We find also Calvin thus expressing himself, that he might compose Minds, and allay so great Commotions, at a Time when Contention was grown much too hot; But I desire you to consider, first, How great a Man Luther is, and in what great Gifts be doth excel, and with how great Courage and Constancy of Mind, with how great Dexterity, with how great Efficacy of Learning, be bath bitherto endeavoured to put to Flight the Kingdom of Antichrist, and propagate the Doctrine of Salvation. I have been often wont to say, That if he should call me Devil a thousand Times, that I would yet give him that Honour, as to acknowledge him the eminent Servant of God. But our Davenant most severest of all; If the Schisms of Churches might be taken away, as without Doubt they may, I would rather have a Mill-Stone banged about my Neck, and be cast into the Sea, than either binder a Work fo acceptable unto God, and fo neceffary to avoid Scandals, or not promote it with my whole Heart, and all my utmost Endeavours.

Epiphanius would not that Christians should have any By-Name. Let the Nick-Name of Zuinglians and Calvinists then cease, the Marks rather of Faction, than of Brotherly Union. What should we have to do with Luther? What should we have to do with Calvin? We profess the Gospel, we believe the Gospel (d). Bellarmine fomewhere hath a Catalogue of a great many Kingdoms that fell off from the Papacy: Whose Defection from the Mystery of Iniquity, if it hath troubled the Cardinals of Rome, how much more would their Uniting together in the Mystery of Piety, be a Terror to the Roman Party? When the truly holy League shall wholly stand for the Lamb; when Humane Endeavours and Diffensions being laid aside, they shall only intend that one Thing, to afford their mutual Help for the promoting of Religion; when they shall una

20

Ti

D an Co of

W

Service Service

⁽d) Noluit Epiphanius, ut Christiani gestarent Epitheton Normen. Facessant Zuinglianorum & Calvinianorum, Cognomenta Factionis, potius quam fraterna Unionis insignia. Quid nobis cum Lutheto? Quid nobis cum Calvino? Evangelici sumus: Credimus Evangelio:

long

Where, as if they were indued with the very Spirit of the Revelation; when they still be called neither English, nor Dutch, nor Swedes, nor Danes, but only Christians.

If Poets Writings any Truth contain,

t

et tt

of

as L-

in ele ve

nd

anith

Ve

ine

igon

the ilt-

to all eanly

elp hall

ına-

No-

obis

Ages fierce Wars shall never more maintain.

But it is not in our Power, most excellent Dury, to add our Counsel, either to the beginning or the preserving this Agreement. You are not ignorant, that we are Exiles, Britains, altogether divided from the rest of Europe; wherefore we are less fit to perform this Task: Neither are we so unsensible of our own Weakness, as not readily to confess our inability for so great a Service; nor is there need, seeing we must thankfully acknowledge and own, that this Office hath been abundantly performed; both by Strangers, as well as by our own Countrymen.

We may here call to Mind, and not without some facred Sympathy, those Blessed Souls, Melanston and Pareus, now amongst the Blessed; the one no less famous amongst the Resormed, than the other amongst the Evangelicks; The first of whom going towards

Haganoa, with fighing utter'd these Words,

In Synods hitherto we lived have,

And now in them return unto the Grave (e).

The other seriously meditating on the Controversy of the Eucharist, brake forth into these Words; I am weary with disputing. Thus, if these Men might be Judges, we ought rather to Pray than Dispute, and study how to Live than to Contend. And perhaps the Divines of either Part, after they have been wearied, and broken in their Spirits with daily and continual Contentions, will more readily accept of the Counsels of Peace, which hitherto have been less acceptable, while the Sense of Anger remained fresh: After by long Use they have been taught, they may prefer the Waters of the Pacifick Sea before those of Meribab Nor need we fay, That those Honoured Persons, and Brediren, will more kindly entertain the Counfels of Peace, feeing there are, we know not how many Say ings, Writings, Deeds of Princes, Churches and Univerfities, openly testifying, That eminent Men of both Orders, and that not of the lowest Rank, have not only received, but taken Counsel together, and engaged their helping Hand, as Need shall require: From which Beginnings it is but meet to hope the best. God is able to make them Workers of Peace, whom he hath given to be Seekers of Peace: If otherwife, fuch eminent Endeavours shall not want their Reward in Heaven, and their Honour in Israel. These are piously Heroick Enterprises, which as they do oblige all good Men, so are they to be admired of them. Their Praises, how great, or how little soever, as the present Age is not altogether filent about them; fo will Posterity declare the rest, and perhaps the unknown Parts of the World.

⁽e) Viximus in Synodis, & jam moriemur in illis.

We give Thanks unto the Father of Lights with all our Hearts, who hath put this Work into the Mind of Dury, favouring of a Spirit more than Humane; and hath added also suitable Courage to the promoting so Pious and Apostolical a Matter: Which Task, whose ever shall effect, if we may be Judges, will deserve a more than ordinary Triumphant Statue; and whose Monument will so far excel the Trophies of Achilles, as if they were not worthy to be mentioned in the same Day. However the Issue of the Matter fall, yet it is a great deal, to have attempted in a great Design. Seek the Peace of Jerusalem, they shall prosper that love thee.

P

de

of us

fo

of

F

T

pe

211

Su

We give Thanks unto the God of Peace, who would not fuffer the Labours of his Servant endeavouring after Peace, to be undertaken altogether without Success. Therefore, most worthy Sir, go on in this your Strength, resting on the Prophecy for the desired Concord, That have obeyed the Roman Harlot, shall hate her, make her naked, and burn her with Fire; for God hath put it into the Hearts of the Kings, that they should fulfil his Will. It doth not become those that have a meet Understanding of Things, to doubt of their Agreement in the Faith, who are to burn to Ashes the Metropolis of the last Head of the Beast, as an Enemy to the Faith. The Discord of the Kings detains the Whore on her Throne, and keeps the Woman in the Wilderness, while they are contending amongst themselves.

And other Trojans to lift up their Voice.

But this their facred Concord, the renowned Sons of Sion cannot but look upon, as a forerunner of the Deferuction of Rome, now at the very Doors; and accordingly with their daily and most ardent Prayers breather after, hope, and long for the fame,

1

d

IF

ıt

of

H

of

be fo

0-ve

ofe

as ne

is eek

0 uld

fter els.

zth,

bat

21

Laftly, We give Thanks to Mr. Dury, into whose Heart it came to remember Joseph, separate from his Brethren at fo great a Distance, both by Sea and Land; and who hath vouchfafed with fo comfortable a Message to visit us poor Wretches, clothed in Sackcloth for our Warfare; yet as we truft, the Sackcloth of the Gofpel: who hath not refused to put New-England, as a part of the Skirt of Aaron's Garment, upon which hath descended some of the precious Oyl, into the Catalogue of the so much famed Agreement: And who hath by his Letter exhorting unto fuch an Agreement, given us an Occasion to bring in this Testimony, such as it is, for our brotherly Communion with the whole Company of Protestants professing the Faith of Christ Jelus. For we must ingenuously confess, that then, when all Things were quiet, and no threatning Signs of War appeared, feeing we could not be permitted by the Bishops at that Time prevailing, to perform the Office of the Ministry in Publick, nor yet to enjoy the boly Ordinances without Subscription, and Conformity, (as they were wont to speak) nor nor without the mixture of Humane Inventions with Dis bine Institutions, we chose rather to depart into the remote and unknown Coasts of the Earth; for the fake of a purer Worship, than to lye down under the Hierarchy in the abundance of all Things, but with the prejudice of Confeience. But that in flying from our Country, we fould renounce Communion with such Churches as profess the Gospel, is a Thing which we confidently and solemnly deny Gertainly, so far as concerns our selves, in whatever Assemblies among it us the whole Company of them that profess the Gospel, the Fundamentals of Doctrine, and Essentials of Order are maintained, altho' in many niceties of controversal Divinity they are at less Agreement with us, we do hereby make it manifest (which yet we would always have understood, so as the least part of Truth, according to the Nature of that Reverence which ought exally to be yielded theneunto, may be preferved) that we do acknowledge them all, and every one for Brethren; and that we shall be ready to give unto them the Right Hands of Fellowship in the Lord, if in other Things they be peaceable, and walk orderly (f)

We humbly befeech the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, in whose Lips is only Power to perswade, that he would enlighten Princes, Divines, and even all who are rightly called Christians from the Name of Christ, with the lively Splendor of such an Agreement, and draw them with a Soul-moving Energy to the divine Love of himself. As for that which concerns your self, the sweetest Follower of Peace, We should

account

⁽f) Certe ad nos quod attinet (quod tamen vel Ungula veritatis pro Ratione Religionis illi ad Amussim adhibenda semper salva distum volumus) quoscunque apud Carus per universum Evangelicorum Chorum Fundamentalia Doctrina & Essentialia Ordinis vigeant, quamvis in plerisque Controversa Theologia Apicibus nobilcum juxta minus Sentiant: Illos tamen ad unum omnes pro Fratribus agnoscimus: Iisque catera Pacificis & ordinate incedentibus Dextram Communionis in Domino portingere paratissimos nos esse bisce palam fecimus:

Fabr

account it an heinous Crime to be wanting unto you in our Prayers to the very God of Peace, That he would fo preserve your Life, your Course, and your Work, that you may bring unto a Conclusion your so eminent Undertaking, with so many Sighs, Labours, Sweatings, Dangers, and with so great Charges hitherto carried on: If otherwise, and that it seem good to the great Determiner of Things, before this come to pass to advance him that hath been a follower of Peace on Earth, to the State of a Blessed Saint in Heaven; that then he would raise up other Duryes; who may bring the Work so happily begun to its desired End.

Your most observant Brethren in Christ, The Ministers of the Churches, and Preachers of the Word, Militant for the Faith of Jesus in New-England:

John Wilson Pafter of Bofton. John Norton Teacher of the same.
John Mayo Paftor of New-Boston. Richard Mather Teacher of Dorchefter. John Allin Paftor of Deaham. To Toloring I and John Elior Teacher of Roxbury. Samuel Danforth Paftor of the same.

William Thomson Paftor of Braintry. Henry Flint Teachet of the fame. Thomas Thatcher Teacher of Weymouth, Peter Hubbard Pastor of Hingbam. John Miller Pastor of Yarmouth.
John Wilson junior Pastor of Medfield.
Zeebariah Symmes Pastor of Charlestown. Thomas Shepard Teacher of the fame. Samuel Stone Teacher of Hartford.

Fonathan Mitchel Pastor of Cambridge. John Sherman Paftor of Watertown.
Edmund Brown Paftor of Sudbury. Edward Bulkly Paftor of Concord. Thomas Carter Paftor of Woborne. Samuel Haugh Pastor of Reding. John Fiske Pattor of Chelmiford. John Reyner Teacher of Dover. Torg sound. Ezekiel Rogers Teacher of Rowly. Samuel Philips Teacher of the fame. Samuel Whiting Paftor of Lyn.

II

t, ne

ld

nt

ta-genis

ci-

07-

770

Numb. IV.

Might fitly subjoin to the Letter foregoing ano ther Letter of the famous Mr. JOHN DAVEN-PORT Batchelor of Divinity, who was Minister of New Haven and afterwards Pastor of the first Church in Boston New-England, to the pious Dury upon the fame Occasion that the foregoing Letter was written; which Letter was figned by the Ministers of Connecticut Colony. This Letter breathes the very fame good and catholic Spirit with the foregoing one. But, left the Appendix should swell too much upon us, I consent to the dropping it. N. B. As I fignified concerning the former Letter; fo I would advertize concerning this, that if any Gentlemen or others defire to fee the Original Copy of it, I have it at their Service. Garbereng of

Chi

imp

Eig

fam

firm

hone

the !

to t enter more

a No

of a

A Synoa cient

of a Poster bruch Am to Patter it

Numb. V.

ND, as a farther Demonstration of the Catholic and Generous Principles of the first Founders of thele these Churches, I would ask Leave of the Reader to refer him to the New-England Chronology of the learned and accurate Mr. PRINCE of Boston; in Pages the Eighty eighth, Eighty ninth, Ninetieth, Ninety first, Ninety second and Ninety third of which Chronology he will find abundant Satisfaction upon this Head.

Maderic Valence Distriction and and a

Part the second, containing the Proofs and Evidences of a Consociation of Churches among these Churches for their mutual Light and Assistance.

In the twenty first Page of The Discourse concerning Congregational Churches I have affirmed, that these churches acknowledge a Consociation of Churches for imparting mutual Light and Assistance: And in the Eighth Chapter of this Book I have maintain'd the same Thing. Now, for the more full Proof and Confirmation of this Point, I shall here reprint from my honoured Grandsather's Book, entitled, The Order of the Churches in New-England vindicated, his Answer to this Question, Is it expedient that Churches should enter into a Consociation, or Agreement, that Matters of more than ordinary Importance, such as the Gathering of a New Church, the Ordination, Deposition, or Translation of a Pastor be done with common Consent?

Answ. This is both Expedient and Necessary. The Synod which Convened at Boston Anno 1662. has sufficiently cleared this Point. And although there was in plads

that

that Synod some dissent as to the Question about the Subject of Baptism then discussed; in the Answer to the other Question relating to the Consociation of Churches, there was an unanimous Concurrence. The Design of which is not (as has been well observed by Dr. (a) Ames and Mr. (b) Parker) to infringe the Liberty of particular Churches, but from the Word of God to direct and strengthen them in the regular Exercise thereof. The Reasons for it are such as these.

1. The Churches of Christ stand in a Sisterly Relation each to other under Christ their Head, having the same Faith, and ought to have the same Order. Eph. 4. 5. Col. 2. 5. Phil. 3. 16. This Union implies a suitable Communion, and that they ought to have a mutual Care each of other, Cant. 8. 8.

2. The Scripture teacheth that in weighty Cases we should ask Counsel. 2 Sam. 20. 18. Prov. 3. 5. and 15. 22. and 24. 6. Which General Rules concern Polities as well as particular Persons, and Churches as well as civil Societies.

Ju

20

J

pr

is fat

For

Ch

the

N

fay

par

Phos

Acc

abor

call

Tea

Eld

Mit

3. There are Scripture Examples to instruct us in our Duty herein. We find, that when the Church in Antioch had a weighty Case before them, they sent to another Church for Counsel, Act. 15. 2. The Apostle Paul sought for the Concurrence, and Right Hand of Fellowship of other Apostles, Gal. 2. 9. Ordinary Elders and Churches have no less need of each other to prevent their running in vain. Gal. 2. 2.

4. Such a Communion of Churches as that which we plead for, is no Innovation, but that which has ever been the Profession and Practice of those that have been called Congregational. There is a Book which bears the Title of, An Answer of the Elders of the several Churches in New-England to Thirty two Questions, Printed in the Year 1643. Of which Book my Father Mather

⁽a) Medul, Theol. L. 1. C. 39. Thef. 27.

⁽b) De pol, ecelef. L, 3, C, 22.

Mather was the fole Author. And he wrote it in the Primitive Times of these Churches, (viz. in the Year 1639.) as himfelf affured me. What he wrote was approved of by other Elders, especially by Mr. Cotton, unto whom he communicated it. Now in Answer to Q. 18, p. 64. are these Words, The Confociation of Churches into Classes and Synods, we hold to be lawful, and in some Cases necessary: As namely, in Things that are not peculiar to one Church, but common to them all. And likewife, when a Church is not able to end any Matter which concerns only themselves, then they are to seek for Counsel and Advice from Neighbour Churches, as the Church at Antioch did fend unto the Church at Jerusatem, Act. 15. 2. The Ground and Use of Classes and Synods with the Limitations therein to be observed, is fummarily laid down by Dr. Ames, unto whom we do wholly consent in this Matter. This was, and is the Judgment of all that adhere to the Order of the Gofpel professed in the Churches of New-England. The World is much miftaken in thinking that Congregational Churches are Independent. The Name has indeed been fastned upon them by their Adversaries; but our Platform of Discipline Chap. 2. Sect. 5. disclaims the Name. And so does our renowned Hooker (c) in his Survey of Church Discipline. Likewise those samous Apologists in the Affembly at Westminster, viz. Dr. Goodwin, Mr. Nye, Mr. Simpson, Mr. Burroughs, and Mr. Bridge, fay, that It is a Maxim to be abborred, that a fingle and particular Society of Men professing the Name of Christ, should arrogate to themselves an Exemption from giving an Account to, or being censurable by Neighbour Churches about them. That Apostle of his Age, (as Dr. Goodwin calls him) Mr. Cotton, the first and forever famous Teacher in this Boston, when he in the Name of the Elders and Messengers of the Churches, gave to Mr. Mitchel the Right Hand of Fellowship, at his Ordina-Z

114 102 142 93 A

⁽c) Part 2. Chap. 3.

tion to the Pastoral Office in the Church of Cambridge, he did in a fingular Manner recommend to him (and that excellent Man was to his dying Day mindful of Mr. Cotton's Advice) Endeavours for the establishment of a Consociation amongst the Churches of Christ throughout this Colony, that wife Man forefeeing that without this, Diforder and Confusion would in Process of Time inevitably happen; as I have more largely declared in (d) another Discourse in which Mr. Cotton's Proposals respecting the Consociation mentioned, are publish'd to the World. Moreover, that the concurring Judgment of those who are Congregational is according hereunto is evident from the Declaration of Faith and Order which was agreed unto by the Messengers of One hundred and Twenty Congregational Churches in England, who met at the Savoy in London, Anno 1658. They thus declare, (e) In case of Difficulties and Differences in Point of Doctrine, wherein either the Churches in general are concerned in their Peace, Union and Edification, or any Member or Members of any Church are injured in, or by any Proceeding in Censures not agreeable to Truth and Order: It is according to the Mind of Christ, that many Churches holding Communion together, do by their Messengers meet in a Synod or Council to consider and give their Advice in, or about the Matter in Difference. But the Testimony of that Blessed Jeremiab Burroughs puts the Thing beyond all Dispute. For his Words are these, (f) Those in the Congregational Way acknowledge,

th

in

to

Ch

fix

rou

but wit

both be t

for bav

Test

as tl

Inde

fomi

will parti

Erro

been the (

it is

Part

of their Ways to Churches about them, or to any other who shall require it. This not in an Arbitrary way, but as a Duty which they owe to God and Man.

2. They acknowledge that Synods of other Ministers and Elders about them are an Ordinance of Jesus Christ for the helping the Church against Errors, Schisms and Scandals.

3. That

⁽d) In my fi ft Principles of N. E. p. 28. &c.

⁽f) In his Irenicum. p. 43, 44,-47.

2. That these Synods may from the Power they have from Christ, admonish Men and Churches in his Name, when they fee Evils continuing in, or growing upon the Church, and their Admonitions carry with them the Authority of Jesus Christ.

4. As there shall be Cause, they may declare Men or Churches to be subverters of the Faith, or otherwise according to the Nature of their Offence, to shame them before all the Churches about them.

5. They may by a solemn Act in the Name of Jesus Christ, refuse any further Communion with them till they repent.

6. They may declare also in the Name of Christ, that those erring People or Churches are not to be received into Fellowship with any of the Churches of Christ, nor to have Communion with any other in the Ordinances of Christ.

If it shall be said, surely they do not come up to these fix Things mentioned. To that I answer, (says Mr. Burroughs) I do not in these deliver only my own Judgment, but by what I know of the Judgment of all those Brethren with whom I have Occasion to converse by Conference both before and fince, I stand charged to make it good to be their Judgment also; yea, it has been theirs and mine for divers Years, even then when we never thought to have enjoyed our own Land again. We fee by these Testimonies that Congregational Men in general, as well as the Churches of New-England in special, are no such Independents, no such Brownists, no such Morellians, as fome have represented them to be.

5. If we admit not a Consociation of Churches, there will be no Remedy against the Male Administrations of particular Churches; nor any Cure of Schifms, or Errors that may happen in our Churches. This has been objected (but injuriously) as a Scandal attending the Congregational Church Discipline, and that therefore it is a Way not practicable. Indeed if we refuse this part of Church Communion, the Objection would be unantwerzible. "And who would be willing to be lass Member of that Church, in which altho he should be never fo much wrong'd, there would be no Relief for him upon Earth? There was once a Church in New w England, which having censured one of their Members. he complained of the supposed Wrong done him. to Neighbour Elders, who thought he had receiv'd hard Measure. The Pastor and major part of the Church were not willing the Case should have a re-hearing before the Elders and Messengers of other Churches. Upon this, great Clamours were raised, and Prejudices taken up against the Congregational Discipline. Mica Cawdrey got this Story by the End, and in his Emilie to the Diffenting Brethren, p. 10. He fays that a Mist natter in N. E. writes over to England, that this injured Person would have no remedy until the Churches in New-England were become Presbyterians, and that if Independency does not break all the Churches in New England excepting a few Semi-Presbyterians, some are deceived. Who the Minister was that wrote thus to England, Mr. Cawdrey tell us not. But it is a great Wrong to the Churches of New-England, and to the way Congregational, to represent them, and all that are of that way, as being of fuch Independent and Unaccountable Principles, which they utterly disclaim. Dr. Owen in his Disciplinary Catechism, and especially in the Additament thereunto, (which was written on Occasion of a harsh and rash Censure in the Independent Church in Cambridge in England) has with great Evidence of Reason, refuted the maintainers of such an Indepen-

6. The Order afferted is (as has been truly observed by the Learned Doctor last mention'd) confirm'd by the Practice of the first Churches after the Apostles: For when the Church in Corinth had by an undue Exercise of Discipline deposed some of their Elders, the Church of Rome taking Cognizance of it, wrote to them, reproving their rashness, and advis'd their Restoration,

dain

(8)

25

of.

the

wl

WI

the

in fett

W

hin

nor bius

the

he]

An

the larl

Ere

in h

His dina

Epil

in E

Nan

that

Emp

tice i

Mini Neig

lowfor

(n)

assit is to be feen in the Epiftle of Glement then Paftor of the Church in Rome, which Clement is thought to be the same whom Paul speaks of, Phil. 4. 3. And when the Church of Antioch was afterwards troubled with the Herelies of their Pastor Samosetanus, the Neighbouring Pastors came unto the Church, and join'd their Concurrence in his Depolition. It is certain that in the next Ages to the Apostles, a Pastor was not fettled in any Church without the Concurrence of others. When the Church had Elected a Pastor, they presented him to the Neighbour Pastors for their Approbation, nor could he be legally confirm'd without it. (g) Eufebius tells us that when Alexander was chosen Pastor of the Church in Jerusalem by the Brethren of that Place. he had the common Consent of the Circumjacent Pastors. And thus (as Cyprian informs us) it was practifed in all the Churches throughout Africa. He speaks particularly concerning Sabinus, who was Elected a Paftor of Eremita in Spain, that Neighbour Ministers concurred in his Ordination, after the Fraternity had Elected him. His Words are, (b) Quod fastum videmus in fabini Ordinatione ut de universæ Fraternitatis suffragio, & de Episcoporum judicio, Episcopatus ei deferetur. We find in Ecclefiastical Story, that in the Primitive Times the Names of Persons to be ordained were publish'd abroad that so if any one had ought to object they might produce it. Which Custom of the Christians in the Election of their Pastors was so highly approv'd of by the Emperor Severus, as that he would have it put in Practice in establishing Governours of Provinces throughout the Empire.

7. Neither do the Reformed Churches ordain a Minister without the concurrence and approbation of Neighbour Ministers. To give the Right Hand of Fellowship to a new ordain'd Minister, was a usual Custom iders, the Church

amongit

⁽⁸⁾ Lib. S. C. 11.

⁽n) Cyprian. Epift. 68.

amongst the Churches in Bobemia, for which they alledged this Scripture, Gal. 2. 9. as is testifyed by (i) Comenius. In the beginning of the Reformation in the Church of Scotland, one Article of their Discipline, is, That when a Minister is ordained the rest of the Ministers shall take the Elected by the Hand in sign of their Consent, as is related in the History of the Resormation (b), which goeth under the Name of Mr. Knox. I find also, that there is the like Practice in the Protestant French Churches, &c.

proce

bers c

know

SAN

us a l True

prefer

Engla

that n

ments

Ordin

That

must

this B Word

Part the third; containing a Vindication of the New-English Churches in sundry Instances, taken from A Letter of Advice to the Churches of the Non-Conformists in the English Nation, endeavouring their Satisfaction in that Point, who are the true Church of England; which Letter was written by Dr. MATHER my honoured Father and publish'd at London in the Year 1700. N. B. The infamous Wesley, in his printed Abuses of Mr. MORTON's Academy, where the Alms of the Dissenters, especially of the

⁽i) Ratio. Disciplin. p. 33.

the renowned Dr. OWEN, had given him his Education, laments the Danger of the Church of England from Three, whom he makes confiderable Adversaries, whereof the Writer of this Letter of Advice is one: But he concludes with comforting himself, that the Intercession of K. CHARLES the Martyr in the Heavens for it will preserve it.

THE Author of this Letter having shewn, that the Dissenters in England are more strict Adherers to the Doctrinal Articles of the Church of England than some who make the greatest Noise in behalf of that Church, then proceeds as follows.

- But the Non-conformists cannot be fincere Members of the Church of England, because they do not acknowledge the Divine Right of the Modern DIOCE-SAN EPISCOPACY. No! I pray, why not? Let us a little enquire into the Judgment of the Old and the True Church of England upon this Matter, and it will presently appear, that you are far more of the Church of England, than those Fanaticks (of late so much increased) that not only advance the Jus Divinum of their Diocesan Episcopacy, but also question the validity of the Sacraments administred by any that have not received their Ordination from it. Albeit the present Form of making and confecrating Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, afferts, That Bishops and Priests are distinct Orders, and they must be published as Excommunicate, who affirm, That this Book does contain any thing in it repugnant to the Word of God: Yet, my Brethren, from the Beginning it

(s) Ratio Dies

this

pul

of On pre

of I

Yor

1101

Ner

Ora

Yea

Par

Epi

tutio

WII

thof

of I

com

Que

Wor

Thin

Relig

great from prud

gove

testai

dedic

(i)

(1)

P 324 (k)

was not for Behold, The Church of England it felf Stands Excommunicate by its own Canons, as much as you. It is notorious, that the Diocesan Episcopacy and the National Church-Government by Bifbops, was never own'd to be Jure Divino until K. James I, came to be King of England. It was be, who upon the Enchant-ments of Bancroft, first yielded unto that, which his Predeceffors would never have endured. (d) Even in King Elfrick's Days, (e) the Church of England plainly denied Bishops and Priests to be distinct Orders. But I will not carry you back to fuch early Days. Days of King Henry the Eighth, Tindal (f) expresly maintain'd, 'That the Apostles following the Rule of Christ, ordained in his Kingdom and Congregation "Two Officers; one called Bishop, which same was cal-Led Priest and Elder; and another called Deacon. All that were called Elders or Priests (he says) were called Bishops also. Thus wrote the Martyr who was own'd by his Enemies themselves, Homo doctus, pius, & bonus. Lambert expresly maintain'd, (g) ' That in the Primitive Church there were no more Officers than Bifhops and Deacons; and Hierom faith, Those we call Priests are all one, and no other but Bishops, and the Bishops none other but Priests. One of the Articles against Barnes, was (b) his holding, That they who in one Place are called Episcopi, or Bishops, you shall find in " many that they be called Presbyteri, or Elders; and that according to Athanasius, every City should have its proper Pastor; and according to Chrysostom, the 'Teachers were not to be distracted with the governing many Churches, but have the Care and Charge of one Church only. And this Persuasion wherein you thus follow your Fathers, the Bleffed Martyrs of the Church

(h) Ibid,

⁽d) See this proved in Mr. Lob's True Diffenter, Chap. 1. (c) Spelman, p. 576. 1. 17.
(f) In his Practice of Popisto Prelates,

⁽g) In Ads and Mon, Vol, 2.

of England, at last prevail'd so far, that Cranmer himself. with others, embraced it. Yea, twas not long before this became a Point establish'd by Authority; and, in The necessary Erudition of a Christian Man, a Book then publish'd by Authority, as the Doctrine of the Church of England, it is expresly affirm'd, That of these two Orders only [Priests and Deacons] Scripture makes express mention. The (i) Declaration about the Institution of Bishops and Priests, then also subscrib'd by the brave Lord Cromwel and the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and other Bishops and Civilians, denied any Superiority of a Bishop above a Priest, to be found in the New Testament, and allow'd unto a Priest the Power of Ordination, and of Excommunication. In the very first Year of Edward the Sixth's Reign, there was an All of Parliament, which (k) as Heylin complains, forced the Episcopal Order from their strong hold of Divine Institution, and make them no other than the King's Mintsters only. Dr. Poinet, the Bishop of Winchester, then writing against Gardiner, shews, That the Reformers in those Days, were willing even to lay aside the Name of Bishop, and say Elder instead of it. And the incomparable Cranmer in his Resolutions to the King's Questions, approv'd by other Bishops, has these express Words, (1) The Bishops and Priests were not two distinct Things, but both one Office in the beginning of Christ's Religion; and he farther makes it manifest, that the great Reformers own'd not Episcopacy as a distinct Order from Presbytery to be of Divine Right, but only as a prudent Constitution of the Magistrates for the better governing of the Church. Beacon also, a famous Protestant Refugee in Q. Mary's Time, in his Catechism, dedicated to both Archbishops, puts the Question, What difference Aa

⁽i) See the Addenda to Dr. Burnet's History of Reformation, p 324.

⁽k) Hiftory of Edward VI, p. 51.

⁽¹⁾ Refol. to 2. 10.

cito ti

3 by

ot

ing

Bish

the

A

209

and tua

pre left

any

Chie

by th

readi

now ;

lame

of the

you a be pu

certai

with the Po

vile D

(9)

difference is there between a Bishop and a Presbyter? And answers, None at all; their Office is the same, their Authority and Power is one. Upon the revival of the Reformation, at Q. Elizabeth's coming to the Crown, the most acknowledg'd and celebrated Writers of the Church of England, still made the very same Concession. Dr. Alley, the Bishop of Exeter, in his Miscellanea, (m) proves, both from the AEts of the Apostles, and from the Epistle to the Philippians, That the Scriptures make no difference between Bishops and Elders; and he says, That before Factions, by the instinct of the Devil, began in Religion, the Churches were govern'd by the Common Council of the Priests, or Elders. Dr. Pilkinton, Bishop of Duresme, in his Confutation of the Addition, affirms, That the Priviledges and Superiorities which Bishops have above other Ministers, be rather granted by Man for maintaining of Quietness in the Commonwealth, than commanded by God in his Word. The rare Dr. Whitaker, (n) making his Remarks on Jerom's Confession, That the Difference between Presbyters and Bifhops, was brought in by Men long after the Apostles, as a Remedy against Schism; affures us, That it is a Remedy worfe than the Malady. And Bishop Morton (o) tells the Papists, That the Power of Order and of Jurisdiction which they ascribe to Bishops, doth De Jure Divino, belong to all other Presbyters. But, that I may Superfede a vast Number of other Quotations to this Purpose, let it suffice, That the excellent Bishop Jewel delivers this not as his private Opinion, but as the fense of the Church of England : (p) 'In Saint Jerom's time, (faith he) there were Metropolitans, Arch-Bishops, and Arch-Deacons, and others; but Christ appointed not these Distinctions of Orders from the Beginning. This handing of the world of the second of the se

⁽m) Alley's Poor Man's Library, Tom. 1. p. 95, 96.
(n) De Eccles. Regim. cont. 4. q. 1. §. 29. p. 540. col. 2.

⁽o) Apol. Cathol. 1. 1. c. 21. p. 55. (p) Apol. Part 2. ch. 3. Div. 5.

is the Thing which we defend. St. Jerom faith, Let Bishops understand, that they are in Authority over Priests, more by Custom than by Order of God's Truth. Erasmus speaking of the Times of Ferom, faith, Id temporis idem erat Episcopus, Sacerdos & Presbyter; these three Names, Bishops, Priest, and Presbyter at that Time were all one; and unto this Testimony of Ferom, the Bishop adds that of St. Austin, That the Office of a Bishop is above the Office of a Priest, not by Authority of the Scripture, but after the Names of Honour, which the Custom of the Church hath now obtain'd. Yea, Archbishop Whitgift himself, speaking of the Government of the Church of England by Bishops, in his Time, (q) says, 'It is well known, that the Manner and Form of Government used in the Apostles Time, and express'd in the Scripture, is not now observ'd; but hath of Necessity been alter'd; and that any one kind of external Government perpetually to be observ'd, is no where in the Scripture prefcrib'd unto the Church, but the Charge thereof is left unto the Magistrate. Neither do I know (faith he) any Learned Man of a contrary Judgment.

You see, Sirs, that Cranmer and Jewel, and the Chief of the Reformers, are as good as Excommunicated by the New Church of England; but you will, I know, readily receive them into your Communion, and may now in this Point value your felves, as being of the same Church of England with them. Indeed very few of the Bishops themselves afferted any other than what you affert about this Matter, until all Things were to be put into the Hands of a Party, that in pursuance of certain secret Articles, were to effect an Accommodation with Rome; and then by the Jus Divinum of Prelacy, the Power of Opposition must be taken out of the Hands of the Inferiour Clergy, who generally abhorred that vile Design. But it hath ever since been growing upon the Aa2

⁽⁹⁾ Tract, 17, ch. 2. Dio. 29.

the Nation ? (*) Tho' I am informed the prefent Learned Bishop of Salisbury hath learnedly and couragioutly appear'd on your Side against it. (+) We will then pass to another Article, viz. That of your DIS-CIPLINE, which is too fevere a Thing to be allowed by fome that would be offended, if you should not allow them to be the only Church of England. It will doubtless be as great a Satisfaction as Vindication, for you to find the True Church of England approving and applauding that very Discipline which is in your Church ches practifed: Now we all know what the Liturgy of the Church of England requires of all its Communicants: * Examine your Lives and Conversations by the Rule of God's Commandment, [These are the express Words in the Order for the Administration of the Lord's Supper:] ' And whereinsoever ye shall perceive your I selves to have offended, either by Will, Word, or Deed, bewail your own Sinfulness, and confess your * felves to Almighty God, with full purpose of amendment of Life. And if ye shall perceive your Offences to be fuch as are not only against God, but also Tagainst your Neighbours, then ye shall reconcile your se selves unto them. If any of you be a Blasphemer of God, an Hinderer, or Slanderer of his Word, an Adulterer, or be in Malice, or Envy, or any other grievous Crime, repent you of your Sins, or elfe come not unto that Holy Table, lest after the taking of that Holy Sacrament, the Devil enter into you as he entred into Judas, and bring you to Destruction both of Body and Soul.

Now, my Brethren, all the strictness used in your Churches about the Terms and Ways of admission to the Lord's Table with you, is nothing more nor less but a Trial of your Communicants, whether they have those Qualifications which the Liturgy of the Church of Engranue angland

gh

ch

A

pr

thi

in

An

his

SI " Ca

fer.

· be

"to

· a

· E

· wa

" the

" the

ches

as ex

ters,

Lear

poun

Godly

fcand

is this

the C

the fi

that I

'there

'conv

" nanc ' may is the

'Gene

tent .

^(*) See Def. of Mr. Henry of Schifm, p. 35.

⁽¹⁾ Vind. of the Church of Scotland, P. 306. makene (1)

gland hath prescrib'd. Indeed, in some of your Churches the Candidates of the Communion have not their Admission, without certain Publick Circumstances of expressing their Consent unto the Covenant of Grace. But this is no more than what I find the more pious Divines in the Church of England wishing and writing for. And one of them not Seven Years ago, hath publish'd his Mind in these Terms: (r) Would it not very much conduce to the Honour of God, and the Edification of the People, in their most holy Faith, if every Person baptized into the Christian Faith, should be oblig'd, when he comes to Years of Discretion, to appear in the Publick Congregation, there to make a Confession of his Faith, to recognize his Primitive Engagement, to avow that in his own Person which was done for him by Proxy; and that the Minister of the Congregation should recommend the Person to the Grace of God. I durst fay, that the strict Churches of New-England it felf, which wifely chuse to be as explicite as may be, in managing their Church-matters, do not ask for any thing more than what this Learned Son of the Church of England has thus propounded. And whereas you are for maintaining a Godly Discipline in your Churches towards those who fcandaloufly break the Laws of our Lord Jesus Christ, is this any more than the very Common-Prayer-Book of the Church of England has encourag'd? You know that the first Words of the Commination against Sinners in that Book are these: 'Brethren, in the Primitive Church 'there was a Godly Discipline, that such Persons as stood convicted of notorious Sin, were put unto open Pe-'nance; --- instead whereof, until the said Discipline 'may be restored again, which is much to be wished, it 'is thought good that at this Time should be read the 'General Sentences of God's Curfing against impenitent Sinners. Now, I hope, you will not be denied

⁽¹⁾ Snoden's Plea for Abatement, p. 41.

64

·I

. (

Pa

ma

tis thai

alfo

'an

is cbi

of I

they,

an A

tifm,

are]

Hear

ons of

wise 1

fuch '

cufe y

lish'd especi

one, v

as nov

be an

with a

of Goo

on Ear

Dr. Si

'Signifi

the C are of you, fin

tormabl

(t) Ar

your being a part of the Church of England, meerly because you have actually Restored that which the Church of England advises us, It were much to be wished that it might be restored. I believe the Churches of New-England it felf, in their Platform of Church Difcipline, hath not a more severe Passage than that in the Homilies of the Church of England: (s) 'According to the Example of our Saviour Christ, and the Primitive Church, which was most holy and godly, and in the which due Discipline with severity was against the wicked, open Offenders were not admitted unto the sufe of the Holy Sacrament with other true Christians. until they had done open Penance before the whole 'Church: And this was practifed not only upon mean Perfons, but also upon the Rich, Noble, and Mighty. Behold, Sirs, your Discipline is by the Church of England it felf, called, A due Discipline. The Church of England having thus allow'd your Discipline, I hope now a few CEREMONIES, which by its own Confession were never Instituted by the Lord Jesus Christ, will never be counted so Essential to it, that for the want thereof you must be cast out of Doors. Believe it, Sirs, an House built meerly upon Ceremonies, or Parts and Means of Worship, not Instituted in the Sayings of our Lord Jesus Christ, will doubtless one Day suffer a Storm wherein it will Fall, and great will be the Fall of it. But that for your aversion to the Uninstituted Ceremonies, you may have as clear a Direction from the Church of England as may be, I defire to be inform'd, Whether the Confession of Faith in an hundred Articles on the Creed, composed by Dr. Hooper, the excellent Bishop of Glocester, were not then agreeable to the sense of the Church? Now in the Eighty-fifth of these Articles there is this remarkable Paffage: 'They are not only Idolaters which worship and serve Idols, and strange Gods, 'as the Ethnicks, and fuch like, but also all those that worship and serve the true God of Heaven, after their own Fantasie, or after the Traditions of Men, without Faith, without the Word of God, and otherwise than · God bath commanded them. This is indeed a terrible Passage; and it is the Terrour of what is in it, that hath made you to be what you are: But it is none of you, 'tis a very Reverend Bishop of the Church of England that hath written it; and in the same Confession hath he also written, 'That upon pain of deadly Sin, to forbid and command Things that indeed are but Indifferent, is the only Note and Mark by which to know Antichrist. Our more conformable Friends in the Church of England hear not you calling them Idolaters, and yet they, as well as you, will own, That the Surplice made an Appurtenance of Divine Worship, the Cross in Baptism, and Kneeling before the Eucharist, and the like, are Things introduced in the Service of the true God of Heaven, after their own Fantasie, and after the Traditions of Men, and without the Word of God, and otherwife than God bath commanded. If therefore you decline fuch Things, the Church of England will certainly excuse you, while you have the Confession of Faith publish'd by its own Bishops, thus charming you so to do; especially since there are of the Bishops Dr. Taylor for one, who acknowledg'd, That the Sign of the Cross, as now retain'd, is a Part of external Worship, tho' it be an Uninstituted Ceremony. The Church of England, with all Protestants, will grant you, That all Worship of God; not appointed, is unlawful; and that no Power on Earth can add any Thing to the Worship of God. Dr. Sherlock (t) himself will grant you, 'That such 'significant Ceremonies as are meerly for Signification in 'the Christian Religion, do only obscure and debase, and 'are only fit for the Entertainment of Children. And you, finding that the Ceremonies now used by the Conformable in the Church of England, are used and urged

⁽s) The Second Part of the Homily of The Right use of the Courch.

10

-

4

. 4

· b

the

tife

No

the

that as v

Chu

Org

Crof

upor

requ

Body

Shall

a Tai

matio

where yet ir

it No

East-

cordin

is cont

Thi

rage

Briefly

gland,

let the

Conforn

give no

as direct Expressions of the reverence of the Heart unto God, cannot look on them as any other than Parts of external Worship, the Invention whereof is forbidden in the Second Commandment. Now, if you are deliver'd from the Yoke of these unhappy Ceremonies, I know not why you should thereby come to be by the Church of England worse look'd upon than the most famous Divines of that Church, who in their best Writings are still groaning for a Deliverance. Will the Church of England renounce Bishop Bilson for saying, 'That the Reformed Churches are so far from admitting the full Dose of the Heresies of the Papists, that by no Means they can digest a Dram of their Geremonies? Will they renounce Dr. Humpbrey, for faying, 'That we ought to refuse to conform unto the Enemies of God in any of their Ceremonies, and that he wished and hoped for the utter abolishing of all the Monuments of Popish Superstition which yet remain in our Church? Will they renounce Dr. More, for faying, That, 'It is an Antichristian use of Church-Government, to direct it unto the upholding of Scandalous Ceremonies, and the enfnaring Inventions of Men? A thousand more such Passages occur in the Writings of the Divines, who have all along been reputed the Fathers of the Church of England. (u) Will the Church now renounce these Divines? Let them! And you, my Brethren, I am confident, will be glad of their Company. But I suppose there is another Thing that a little stumbles you; and that is this: If Conformity to the Ceremonies be necessary to render one a Church of England Man, why should not Non-conformity exclude one as well as another from that Character? Supraconformity is no less Non-conformity than Subter-conformity. Multitudes in England continually Go beyond the Rule of Conformity; why should not these be Non-conformists as well as they that fall short of it? It is Enac-

⁽u) See a Collection in Delaun's Plea for the Non-conformills.

ted. That no Form or Order of Common-Prayer, Administration of Sacraments, Rites, Ceremonies, fhall be openly used in any Church, Chapel, or other publick Place, of or in any Colledge or Hall, in either of the Universities, the Colledges of Westminfter, Winchester, or Eaton, or any of them, other than what is prescribed and appointed to be used in and by the Book of Common-Prayer. Now in that Book, there are no where found feveral Ceremonies now practifed, nor Orders used in many of the publick Churches. Non-conformity being indeed nothing but a varying from the Rule establish'd; the Addition made by some to that Rule, one would think should be Non-conformity, as well as the Substraction made by others: And the Churches that perform the Worship of Christ with Organs be Non-conformists as well as they that omit the Cross, and some other Superfluities. I'll only touch upon this One Instance instead of many; the Rubrick requires, That the Communion-Table shall stand in the Body of the Church, or in the Chancel, and the Priest shall stand at the North-side of the Table; so making it a Table according to the other Churches of the Reformation; (which accordingly they observe in the Temple, where the Law is best understood and practised;) and yet in opposition to Authority in most Places, they fet it North and South, clapping it unto the Wall at the East-end of the Church, with Rails before it, as if (according to the Church of Rome) it were an Altar. This is contrary to the Law; and I have read, 'This one 'Thing may well be thought for to have given Encou-'ragement unto the Non-conformists in some other Cases. Briefly, If you must be no Part of the Church of England, because you don't kneel at the Communion, I pray let the Priest who does not stand where by the Law of Conformity he ought to stand at the Communion, be difcarded alfo! Tho' furious Bigots for Conformity will give no Answer but Railing to all of this Reason; yet you, my Brethren, will calinly afford a reasonable At-B b fention cention to it. But you must by the way be prevailed withal to cease wondring at such Comradictions. If they feem wonderful to you, you'll find continual Matter of Wonderment: For Inftance, The Scripture commands us, Be not forgetful to entertain Strangers; but the Apocrypha contradicts it, Ecclef. 11. 34. diffuading us from Receiving a Stranger into our House. The Scripture commands us, Love your Enemies, do good to them that hate you; be like your heavenly Father, who makes the Sun to rife upon the evil and the good; but the Apocrypha contradicts it, Ecclef. 12. 4, 7. Give to the godly Man, and belp not a Sinner; and again, Give to the Good, and help not the Sinner. No Argument could prevail with our Unreformables to expunge these Lesfons; but in the Month of October these Lessons of the Apocrypha must be read as the Dostrines of the Church of England: And then you must subscribe, That nothing is ordain'd to be read, but the very pure Words of God, or that which is agreeable to them. An abundance of fuch Contradictions will accost you, in that which with a Contradiction equal to the rest, would be call'd, The only Church of England.

If it be now objected against you, That the Dislike of the COMMON-PRAYER is a Thing that will utterly debar you from any Part in the Church of England; it will be no Defence for you to plead, That Old King James himself, a great Patron to the Church of England, called the Common-Prayer, An ill-said Mass in English; for he was yet with the Kirk of Scotland when he so called it. But you may defend your selves by this, That several Bishops in the Church of England, namely, Williams, Prideaux, Brownrig, Hacket, with Arch-Bishop Usher in the Head of them, disliked the Common-Prayer so much, as to present unto the English Parliament no less than Thirty-sive Exceptions against several Things in it, calling for a Reformation. It their Exceptions did not forseit their Claim to be of the Church, why should yours?

oning and Fast (Per-

tl

m an

de

use

the

the

our

Th

For

Lui

ever tred

ever

ever

Infa

terin

ferve

filen

will

House

Gay :

prefer

itow?

to the Peril

of Ch

deckin

more

among

Englan

(W) I

The

Perhaps they'll complain of you, That you do not use the LORD's PRAYER as a Form. If they do, you may stop the Complaint, by citing to them not only an Army of the Ancients, but one who has been a great Oracle to the Church of England, even Grotius himself. declaring, That our Lord bound not bis Disciples to the use of those Words and Syllables. If he did, why does the Church of England it self presume to alter them? In the Common-Prayer-Book the Form still is, Forgive us our Trespasses as we forgive them that Trespass against us. The Church of England herein varies from the Words of our Lord Jefus Christ: In Matthew his Words are, Forgive us our Debts as we forgive our Debtors: In Luke his Words are, Forgive us our Sins, for we forgive every one that is indebted unto us. Why must you be tied unto a Form of Words? The Church of England, even when most pretending to a Form, will not be tied. even to That for which there is the most pretence. The Infatuation discover'd by the Common-Prayer thus altering the Form and Phrase of the Lord's Prayer, deferves to be confider'd! It may be, when you have filenced some of those froward Children in Christianity. from infifting on all their other Impertinencies, they will still refuse to visit your Assemblies, because the Houses wherein you hold them, are not so Fine and Gay as many of their publick Churches. But you may presently shew them, That the Gawdy Trimmings bestow'd on some of their Churches are directly contrary to the Church of England. For the Homily against the Peril of Idolatry, exprelly declares against the Abuses of Churches and Temples, by too costly and sumptuous decking and adorning of them. (w)

These and such Points might be improved much more largely, to demonstrate, That you are indeed among the TRUEST SONS of the True Church of England: But what needs any more, since 'tis a Maxim, B b 2 (and ⁽w) The Third Part of the Homily sgainft the Peril of Idolairy.

(and there is no need of quoting Avicen for the Maxim)

Quicquid sufficientie additur, superfluitati ascribitur? All that you will now demand of me, is to describe clearly and fairly to you, What is that NEW CHURCH of England whereto you do not belong, and I suppose, are not very willing to belong? Tis very certain, there is a Party in the English Nation usurping the Name of the Church of England, whereto it will be as little your Honour as 'tis your Desire to be United; and which (as one says) differs as much from the OLD CHURCH of England, as Nebuchadnezzar grazing among Beasts in the Field, from Nebuchadnezzar sitting on his glittering Throne Shows to the the think the transfer of Know then, my Brethren, That by a prevailing Faction in England, the Canon-Law which pretends to Form the Church of England, hath been more than once alter'd, fince the Family of the Stewarts came to fit on the Throne of Great Britain; and the Alteration hath now made a New Church in England of quite another kind, than what was before. There is now establish'd by Law a National Church, which the Canons do (tho' Arch-Bishop Whitgift a little before durst not) affirm to be a True and Apostolical Church. The Bishops, which before then, durst as well have eaten Fire as have pretended to be as Diocesan Bishops, any other than the King's Officers, do by the Canons now lay Claim to a Divine Right. But because it puzzles them to make the King, who is not a Person in Orders, the Head of the Church, having these Officers under him, and yet for to make the Arch-Bishop of Canterbury the Head of the Church, is Treason; here they are in Confusion: And I suppose, you my Bretbren, will not ask to be of this Church till you fee them extricated out of this Confusion. To proceed, In the National Church thus establish'd, there are Twenty-fix Diocesses, which the Canons make particular Churches of the lowest Rank; and tho' there be such vast Numbers of Parishes in these Diocesses, the Canons have utterly divested them connon.

OD tha Pa Pr Po tho unt loo ni/b You Good the the " the "me " wa "hav 'hin and

· but

Dioce

the I partic

full S

the we

II. th

Mode

Comm

they t

in the

Deacon

very O

not Ep

be forn ferred i

at the nations

Act of 1

the

them of the Character of particular Churches, which once they had fomething of, and they make no more than Twenty-fix Churches, and no more than Twenty-fix Pastors in the whole Kingdom of England. The Parish. Presbyters are by the Canons altogether strip'd of all Power to Ordain, or to Confirm, or to Excommunicate; tho' once there was a Power of Jurisdiction conceded unto them, which then made the Old Non-conformifts tolook on the Parish-Ministers as Pastors, and the Parifles as retaining the Substantials of particular Churches. You, my Brethren, have been ready to fay with Dr. Goodwin, 'In some of the Parishes of the Kingdom, there are many godly Men that constantly give up 'themselves unto the Worship of God in publick, and 'meet together in one Place, to that end, in a constant way, under a godly Ministry whom they themselves have chosen to cleave unto, (tho' they did not chuse 'him at first;) these, notwithstanding their mixture and want of Discipline, I never thought, for my part, but they were true Churches of Christ. But now the Diocesan Church-Government being by Canon establish'd, the Parishes are no more allow'd any of them to be particular Churches. Arch-Bishop Laud labouring for a full Settlement of this New Church-State, perist'd in the way: But upon the Restauration of King Charles II. the Labours of the New Set, for to obtain Laud's Model, found more Success. In those places of the Common-Prayer, where they found the Word [Paftor] they blotted it out, and put in Priest, or Curate. And in the New Book of Ordering Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, not only the Execution of the Office, but the very Office of a Priest is taken away from all that have not Episcopal Ordination. The Epistles and Gospels to be formerly read at the Ordination of Priests, which referred unto the Pastoral Office, are now to be read only at the Consecration of a Bishop. All Presbyterian Ordinations were declar'd null and void by the memorable Ast of Uniformity, and they that had no more were pronounc'd long

GL

hear

told

CH

not

CH

the l

alty)

Conf

be p thefe

priz'

decla

the (

Science

of the

That

by L

ful A may n or ful facto

them.

affirm

and co

any T

let the

for'd

Error

are di

eviden

tures,

Now !

an Act Kingdo

That t

and Pr

nounc'd as naturally Dead. This Diocesan Church of England, according to Canon, receives to Baptism the Children of all Parents, (be they Jewish or Pagan) that are brought unto the Minister. And every Baptized Inhabitant within the Diocess, if he be not Excommunicated, or doth fay, That he heartily defires the Lord's Supper, is admitted unto that Sacrament also, if he will take it according to the Form in the Liturgy, fby the common Custom of the Church) altho' he be never fo ungodly. Whatever Admonitions the Rubric or Canons do give against admitting the Wicked unto the Sacraments, itis yet abundantly provided in them. That the Administrator shall be uncapable of excluding the wickedest alive. But at the same Time, (x) all those who refuse to Kneel at the reception of the Sacrament, or who refuse to be present at Publick Prayers, according to the Order of the Church of England; which Orders be, (v) Reverently to Kneel, when the General Confession, Litany, and other Prayers are read, and Stand up at the saying of the Belief, and Bow at the Name of Jefus, and Say in their due place, and audibly with the Minister, the Confession, the Lord's Prayer, and the Creed, and make such other Answers to the Publick Prayers as are appointed in the Book of Common-Prayer; all such as refuse to do any of these Things, are to be denied the Communion; and what Minister soever shall wittingly admit them, be is liable to Suspension. Yea, whosoever affirms, That the Church of England, as by Law thus establist'd, is not form'd according to Divine Institution, (or Apostolical) is ipso facto to be look'd upon as Excommunicated. (z) This is the Roaring of the Ecclefiaftical Canons, and the Clergy by their Oath of Canonical Obedience, are sworn to observe these as well as the rest of the Canons. My Bretbren, while you beand Lear to anyone of a might be device allong at (x) See Can. 27. I the bear be a le rifuel minerarde and s ⁽y) See Can. 18. (z) See Can. 3, 4, 6, 7.

long to the CHRISTIAN CHURCH OF EN-GLAND, you have all the Reason imaginable to hear it, and bear it, and own it patiently, if you be told that you do not belong unto this DIOCESAN CHURCH OF ENGLAND. For, First, If I be not mistaken, this presumptuous CANONICAL CHURCH OF ENGLAND has Excommunicated the best of Princes, (notwithstanding its pretended Loyalty) if they do but offer to contest any Part of its Constitution; and it will be no Dishonour unto you to be partakers with such illustrious Heads, in suffering these Contradictions of Sinners. Perhaps you'll be furpriz'd at this; but if any Princes or Parliaments, who declare, That they who cannot use the Geremonies of the Church of England, may be Men of very good Conscience, escape an Excommunication by the Sixth Canon of the Church, which is, Whosoever shall bereafter affirm, That the Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England by Law establish'd, are such as being commanded by lawful Authority, Men who are zealoufly and godlily affected, may not with any good Conscience approve them, use them, or subscribe unto them, let him be Excommunicated ipfo facto: I doubt the Eighth Canon bears too hard upon them. According to that, Whosoever shall bereafter affirm or teach, That the Form and Manner of making and consecrating Bishops, Priests, or Deacons, containeth any Thing in it that is repugnant unto the Word of God, let them be Excommunicated ipso facto, and not be restor'd until be repent, and publickly revoke such his wicked Error. That Form does affert, That Bishops and Priests are distinct Orders in Christ's Church; and that it is evident unto all Men diligently reading the Holy Scriptures, that from the Apostles Time they have been so. Now suppose any Princes give the Royal Assent unto an Act for the extirpation of Bishops in one of the Three Kingdoms; have they not very emphatically taught us, That this Affertion in the Form of confecrating Bishops and Priests, is not according to the Word of God? Have they may have fore,

Prie

Re-on any and v niftry

are el

Chrif

the C fo mu

own l

Thirt

That.

Praye

of the

Custon

is cor

Praye

them

from knowl

their v

Confor

their o

have]

For yo

the Of Thing

thority

ever th

the Pa

viding,

Hands thority

Bishop,

the Pa

they not very fufficiently affirm'd, That the Word of God obliges us not for to acknowledge Bishops of an Order distinct from other Ministers in the Church of Christ? We'll suppose they have somewhere or other in express Terms, (a) abolish'd Prelacy and Superiority in any Office in the Church above Presbyters; and declar'd and ordain'd the (b) Government of the Church there, by Presbyters without Bishops, to be the only true and proper Government thereof. I am certain, this is to proclaim it with a witness, That the Superiority of Bishops, as an Order above Presbyters, is not Instituted in the Word of God. And at the same Time it is to maintain, That the Doctrine of the Form of making Bishops and Priests, which asserts that Superiority of Order to be of Divine Right, is repugnant unto the Word of God. These Princes it seems, (which indeed I abhor to mention) stand excommunicated ipso facto, by the Eighth Canon of the Church of England, until they repent and publickly revoke the wicked Errors committed in abolishing that Prelacy.

This CANONICAL CHURCH continuing to offer such Affronts unto Majesty, you may well decline to be any Part of it, until they repent and publickly revoke their wicked Canons. But that which may confirm you in this aversion to that Church, is the Wrong which those Canons do to all the Ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ in the World. For according to them, none of the Scotch, or Dutch, or French Ministers, nor any of your own, are true Ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ, while they want Episcopal Ordination. Albeit, the samous Mr. Selden has out of Eutychius prov'd, That not only Bishops, but Patriarchs themselves, were in the Primitive Times Ordain'd by Presbyters; yet now, sorsooth, according to our New Church, none may

(1) They are the express Words of the Att abolishing Prelacy, July 5, 1689.

(4b) The All sestoring Presbytery, July 25, 1689

may be own'd for so much as Presbyters, but such as have been Ordain'd by Diocesan Bishops. And therefore, altho' this Canonical Church will admit a Popish Priest upon his Abjuration, to be a Minister without Re-ordination, it will not without Re-ordination, admit any of these who are the best of Protestants. and when this Church has admitted any unto its Mimftry, it presently strips them of their Rights that are effential to all true Ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ. And here I will not infift on this, That by the Canons of this Church, its own Ministers have not fo much as Liberty for one Occasional Prayer of their own left unto them. All the Conformists are by the Thirty-fixth Canon to subscribe ex animo, a Covenant, That they will use the Form in the Book of Common-Prayer, prescrib'd in Publick Prayer and Administration of the Sacraments, and NONE OTHER. Indeed a Custom for Ministers to pray without Book in the Pulpit, is conniv'd at; but in as much as they are Publick Prayers, I know others besides Mr. Baxter, who doubt them to be a Breach of the Canon-Covenant. I pass from this, to fay, I suppose you are desirous to acknowledge all the Parish-Presbyters faithfully feeding their willing Flocks in the Realm, notwithstanding their Conformity to be True Ministers of the Gospel; but their own Canons, even those to which they themselves have fworn, do all they can to forbid your doing fo. For you, and they too, must readily own, That unto the Office of a Minister of the Gospel, here are two Things Essential, namely, Obligation to Teach, and Authority to Rule the Flock. Whereas the Canons, whatever they require in some Clauses, do evidently release the Parish-Minister from Obligation to Teach, by providing, That the Sacraments are not to be refused at the Hands of Unpreaching Ministers. And the whole Authority to Rule, is by the Canons referv'd unto the Bishop, to be executed by his Lay-Chancellor; so that the Parish-Minister cannot exclude the veriest Insidel in the chi

· ma

" co

· Go

Nov

godl

them

Exco

cated

CHI

I hop not th

munic

being

them,

Wh

Real

Planta

New-

have I

Ecclest

Bishop

blies,

'than allow

the N

Excon

Bifboy

'fuch

you are and alle

affure n

of that gregation

1000

(d) S

the World from the Sacraments, if a certain Lay-Chancellor do order his Reception. Briefly, No Ordain'd Priest may take upon him, to Expound any Scripture, or Matter, or Doctrine, (or do any more than read) so much as to his own Family, till he have a License from his Ordinary. And he then too has no more Power than any Lay-man to censure an Offender, or to judge who are worthy to be censur'd. Tho' the Rubric and Canon do feem sometimes to favour the Significancy of the Curates, yet elsewhere it the more inexcufably renders them utterly Infignificant. Doubtless you will wonder how that the Clergy themselves can with Patience endure to be so nullified, as they are by this their Canonical Church, or to fee themselves more honour'd by you that are Non-conformists than they are by their own Canons! But you are fenfible what Force it is that obliges them unto their Patience. To fee the Ministers of the Gospel so Degraded as they are by the Canons, gives Offence unto you, if not unto them; and methinks it should be no Offence unto them, that you take this Offence on their behalf.

A Third Prejudice that you'll easily take up against this CANONICAL CHURCH, is the Number and Figure of those many other good Men, (besides Princes and Parliaments) whom they have Excommunicated. This Laodicean Church may admire her own Charity, (that is to say, the Easiness of her Discipline as well as the Openness of her Communion towards the worst of Men) but she has the most Excommunicating and most Anathematizing Charity that ever was in the World. For by the Canons of that Church, Whoever shall affirm, (c) That the Church of England by Law established is not an Anathematical Church or that the World.

blish'd, is not an Apostolical Church, or that its Worship is Corrupt, or that any of the 39 Articles are in any part Erroneous, or that the Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England may not be used with a good

⁽c) See Can, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

und age (0)

good Conscience, or that the Government of the Church by Arch-Bishops, Bishops, &c. is repugnant to the Word of God, or that the Form or Manner of making or consecrating of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, containeth any thing in it repugnant to the Word of God, all these are to be Excommunicated ipso facto. Now, Sirs, you'll find perhaps the bigger Part of the godly People in England, even among the Conformists themselves, to be by one or other of these Clauses Excommunicated: That is to fay, they are Excommunicated out of the CANONICAL CHURCH into the CHRISTIAN CHURCH OF ENGLAND: And I hope they will be content with their Condition, and not thrust themselves upon the Party that has Excommunicated them. However, that you may be fure of being driven both out of, and into the fame Church with them, hark how these Canons do further Thunder! (d) Whofoever shall maintain, That there are within the Realm fand Note by the way, That all the English Plantations, particularly Barbadoes, Jamaica, Bermudas, New-England, New-York, Virginia, Carolina, all which have Non-conformist Meetings in them, do belong to the Ecclesiastical Realm of England, as being Part of the Bishop of London's Dioces; other Meetings, Affemblies, or Congregations of the King's-born Subjects, 'than fuch as by the Law of the Land are held and 'allow'd, which may rightly challenge to themselves 'the Name of true and lawful Churches, let them be 'Excommunicated, and not restored but by the Arch-Bishop, after Repentance and Publick Revocation of fuch their wicked Errors. You fee, Sirs, that either you are that Church of England which the Law bolds and allows, or elfe you ftand Excommunicated But I affure my felf, you are not ambitious to be reckon'd of that Party which has Excommunicated all the Congregations of the Non-conformists. Nor will it bring Cc 2 you

⁽d) See Can, 11,

101

1076

11.10

1

C

1

t

f fe

h

C

W

bi

of

on

the rok

OI

abl

Fa

Ch.

ver

you under the Brand of Schifmaticks, if being thus Excommunicated ipfo fasto, you fettle your felves in the Communion of Churches that will receive you. And this the rather, left you should be found in the TREA-SONABLE PLOT, whereof the famous Mr. Baxter among others, has convicted that Party, namely, That of attempting a Revolt unto a Foreign Jurisdiction. Albeit the Canons of the Church, (and the Articles also) whereto these Men are sworn, do most expresty renounce all fuch Foreign Jurisdiction; yet such is the Confusion whereinto the perfidious Builders of Babel run themselves, that according to the New Church of England, (e) 'The Colledge of Bishops through all the bas World, are the Supream, Universal, Visible Sovereign of the Catholick Church, having Power of Unioversal Government; That they are to exercise it in General Councils, where every Bishop is by Office the Representative of his Diocesan Church; That these Bishops are to have Metropolitans and Patriarchs, and the Pope of Rome is to be their Uniting Head, and ex officio the President of the Councils; That in the Intervals of these Councils, they are per literas formatas, to exercise their Power over all the World; That all that will not unite with the Church of Rome, (which is to be diffinguish'd from the Court of Rome) on these Terms, are Schismaticks; but they that will, are no Papists; none being Papists but they that are for the Pope's absolute Power above Canons or Councils; That the Church of Rome is a true Church, and if it will not impose the Innovations of the last Four Hundred Years, it may be united with; but the Protestant * Churches, which are destitute of Diocesan Bishops, are ono true Churches, nor their Pastors true Ministers, nor have they any true Sacraments, nor Covenant-Promife of Salvation.

⁽e) See Mr. Baxter's true History of Councils defended. p.
19. A. d his whole Book, Against Revolt unto a Foreign Jurisdiction, dedicated unto the late A. B. of Canterbury.

Of fuch a Church as this, methinks I hear you, and the bigger and better Part of your Brethren, yet groaning under the Shackles of Conformity, resolve, Come not into their Secret, O my Soul! unto their Affembly, my Tongue, be not thou united! The most flourishing and glorious Island in the World, will be in perpetual Danger of becoming a French Province, except the Nonconformists be counted better Parts of the Chunch of England, than the Men of fuch dangerous Principles; and except the Sacramental TEST be therefore taken off. But there is the True CHRISTIAN CHURCH of England, which would have the Reformation of Religion carried on according to the Direction of the Sacred Scriptures, and the Intention of the first Reformers, and counts not Christianity to lye in vain Ceremony; which looks on Diocesan Bishops as made such by the King and the National Church-Government, as an human, tho' fome fay useful Policy; which owns the rest of the found Protestants in the World for Bretbren, and would have the Qualifications for the Pastoral Office, and for Communion in special Ordinances, to be no other than what the Lord Jesus Christ hath instituted; which, in fine, is against bringing a Yoke of Slavery upon the brave English Nation in Spirituals or Temporals. And of this Church ye are. God, and the King, and the Parliament, and all fober Men, will reckon you a valuable Part of this Church; while a certain Heltoring fort of People in the World, that would be thought the only Church of England, deserve to be counted rather the Wens, than any Parts of it, and indeed know not what it is. I befeech you, Sirs, let not the CHURCH OF ENGLAND become a Name of fuch a Treasonable Importance, that it must belong to none but that Faction, whose Religion lyes in Sainting their Martyr Charles I. whose Reign was spent in an unnatural Manner, plotting and contriving to undermine and subvert the Religion, Laws, and Liberties of the English

Nation; (b) and who notwithstanding the Sham of the Leon Basilike, it's sear'd would have been another John Basilovitz, if he had prospered in his unnatural War against the Parliament.

from your own REFORMED CONGREGATIONS into the more CEREMONIOUS ASSEMBLIES in the Church of England, you are furnish'd with an Answer: Let your Answer be, That you are of the Church of England, and that you cannot better express your being so, than by keeping with your own REFORMED CONGREGATIONS. If the Bishop of London should be offended at the Governours of Barbadoes, or Bermudas, or Carolina, for worshipping of God in the Meetings of the Non-conformists there, the Gentlemen may truly say in their Defence, That they worshipped God with the truest Part of the Church of England in those Parts of America.

Be advised, my Bretbren, to carry it with all possible Moderation and Civility towards those that can conform unto Geremonies farther than you; Be gentle unto all Men. But yet continue stedfast in your present Nonconformity. The Day is at Hand that will justify your Stedfastness. Even at this Day, the most Conformable themselves confess, That the Rites whereto you are Non-conformists, are indifferent Things, and the Worship of the Lord Jesus Christ is as well without them as with them. Why should you then add those Rites, which in your Consciences are not so indifferent as the Confession of the Conformable would render them, and which will defile your Worship? Even Bishop Sanderson himself expresly says, If any Man shall use them with an Opinion, as if God's Service could not be rightly perform'd without them, doubtless the Use of such Ceremonies by Reason of such his Opinion, would be superstitious unto unto him. Thus by the Confession of the Conformable, you are well as you are. Know when you are well. More Conformity won't make you better. And if the Rites are so Indifferent, why should those that urge them for the sake thereof, make a Difference? Let them return unto you; there is no Cause why you should go aver unto them. Reason and Justice will one Day take place: The Day foretold by the Bishop of Worcester before he was a Bishop, 'God will one Day convince 'Men, That the Unity of the Church lyes more in the 'Unity of Faith and Affection, than in the Uniformity of doubtful Rites and Ceremonies (i). You will then be own'd in the Church of England; yea, the Partition Wall between you and all the other sincere Protestants in the English Nation, will be taken down.

⁽h) [The Words of the Earl of Bellemont, in a Speech to a General Affembly]

Be addied and Lie Call action of the addied

Part

which will denie voir towarum the alternative description for the company of the

(t) [The Word of rule Bon and Paulice of Speech to a)

General Affections of coording to Stratury and there of the Lord Jeffer Comments of the Control of the Winds of which them the Winds of the Control o

(i) Stillingfleet's Iren. p. 121.

Correction Contractions

Part the fourth and last, containing fome faithful Testimonies to the Cause and Work of GOD in the New-English Churches.

Number I.

The Great END and INTEREST of NEW-ENGLAND, Stated by the Memorable Mr. JONATHAN MITCHEL, Extracted from an Inftrument of His, which bears Date, Decemb. 31. 1662.

THE CAUSE of the People of GOD in New-ENGLAND, is, RELIGION; That is, the Profession and Practice of the Truths and Rules of the Word of GOD.

As, I King. VIII. 58, 59. That He may incline our Hearts unto Him, to walk in ALL HIS WAYS, and to keep His Commandments, and His Statutes, and His Judgments, which He commanded our Fathers, — The CAUSE of His People Israel at all Times.

More particularly, REFORMATION of RELI-GION. There was Religion in the Places whence we came. But New-England's Design in this vast Undertaking was REFORMATION; that is, The avoiding of some special Corruptions, and the vigorous and more Exact Profession and Practice of the contrary Truths and Rules, according to Scripture-Pattern.

Hence,

to te

is its thir

who

TU

fully

Com

Ear

Com

T

and.

the I

Onto

29269

Hence, Our Cause is not Separation from any thing Good in other Churches; whether Truth of Church-State, or any Doctrine rightly professed, or Ordinance rightly administred in them.

But it is REFORMATION, only of what was Amis or Defective in the Churches we came from.

Yet more Specially; if it be ask'd, what REFOR-MATION? Or, what Particular we are here to feek and fet up REFORMATION in? I fully close with Mr. Hooker's Discourse, in his Preface before, Survey of Church-Discipline; That as the Prophetical and Priestly Office of CHRIST, was compleatly Vindicated in the First Times of Reformation, so now the Great CAUSE and WORK of GOD's Reforming People, is, to Clear the Rights of CHRIST's Kingly Office, and in their Practice to fet up His Kingdom.

The KINGDOM of CHRIST, tho' it be now diftasted as a Fanatic Notion - by the Prophaneness of Mens Hearts, which is ready to catch at any Occasion, to blemish it, and to rise up in Rage against the Interest thereof: [Psal. II. 1, 3, 6.] Yet the True KINGDOM of CHRIST, (as the Scripture states it) is Glorious, and Divine, and that for which GOD will Overturn, Overturn, Overturn, until it be Erected in its Glory; and (fay Men what they will) I will fill Pray, Thy Kingdom Come.

The KINGDOM of CHRIST is, in general, nothing else but The Flourishing of RELIGION, Or that whereby the WORD of CHRIST in the SCRIP-TURE, (which is called the Word of the Kingdom,) is fully submitted to. In a Word, Then His Kingdom Comes in its Glory, when the Will of GOD is done on Earth as it is in Heaven: And so far that Kingdom Comes, as this Will is done.

The KINGDOM of CHRIST, or the Reception and Erecting thereof, is more Inward and Personal, in the Hearts and particular Conversations of Men; more Outward and Publick in Societies.

The Former is, when any Persons are Converted, and help'd to Walk in New-Obedience; tho' they be never so Few and Obscure. Thus CHRIST has always had a KINGDOM on Earth. And when this reaches unto Many, it cannot but become Visible, in one Degree or other, and so Inseparable from the Latter. Hence the General Conversion of Jews and Gentiles, will be the Inset of the Greatest Glory of CHRIST's Kingdom on Earth. Hence also, CHRIST has always had a Kingdom in some Degree Visible in some Societies of Men; tho' sometimes very Thin, Low and Obscure, and kept under by Corruptions and Persecutions.

The Latter Erecting of CHRIST's Kingdom in whole Societies, (whereby CHRIST is feen Ruling all in a Conspicuous and open, in a prevailing and peaceable manner,) was OUR DESIGN and is OUR INTEREST in this Country: tho' with Respect to the Inward and Invisible KINGDOM, as the Scope thereof. The Public setting up of CHRIST's Kingdom, and Enjoyment of those Ordinances and Ways of His, which can only be enjoy'd in whole Societies, and that with Purity and Liberty, was OUR END in coming hither. And this also is CHRIST's Design in these Latter Days; To set up His Kingdom, in a Public and Openly prevailing manner, in all the Parts and

In the Church, CHRIST's Kingdom is clearly and gloriously set up, when ONLY and ALL His Institutions, both in Worship and Discipline are attended and observed in their Purity and Power, according to Scripture Pattern. [Mat. XXVIII. 18, 23.] THIS is the Great CAUSE and Interest of GOD's People in this Country, and was the Great END of their Undertaking, and hath been the great Matter of this TESTIMONY, in their Synodical Asts, and other Writings

R

th

X

P

to

Published unto the World.

Ways thereof.

Hence our Great DUTY is to keep and feek all the Commandments of GOD, [1 Chron. XXVIII. 8.] in that that respect; that is, all the Institutions and Ordinances of His House; To bold fast what we have attained, that is according to Scripture-Pattern therein, and to come up unto what we yet want or are desective in.

Hence also those among us, that desire to set up in this Country, any of the Ways of Men's Invention (as, Prelacy, stinted Liturgies, Humane Ceremonies in Worship,) they will bid Desiance to the CAUSE and Interest of Christ and of His People, in these Ends of the Earth; and will (I perswade my self) but lay themselves as Potters Vessels under the Iron Rod. For, CHRIST, who has taken this possession of these uttermost parts of the Earth, will not Endure it. Let us Go forward to any of those Things of CHRIST, that we are wanting in. But to Go backward unto those Things which we know, and have openly Testified [Platform, c. 1. and c. 7. Sect. 6.] to be not of GOD, and which we departed from, will be such a Wickedness as the Lord's Jealousy will not bear withal.

Our Work is not only to depart from Mens Inventions, but to fet up All [ALL] GOD's Institutions in their Beauty and Power; that we may Exhibit a clear and complete Copy thereof before the World; and that we and ours may have that full Enjoyment of GOD, in all His Ordinances, that we came hither for.

In the Common Wealth CHRIST's Kingdom is set up, when all Things therein are so ordered, (Laws and all Civil Administrations) as doth most fitly and effectually tend to advance, promote, and maintain Religion and Reformation.

Let us faithfully cleave to the Whole Interest and Kingdom of Christ, and He can make us a Burdensome Stone to all Opposers, as He has done hitherto, [Zech. XII. 3, 5. Dan. II. 44, 45. Matth. XXI. 44. Isa. LIV. 17.] and make Good to us, His Promise to Philadelphia; To keep our Door open, and to preserve us in the Hour of Temptation that is upon all the World.

Number II.

The CAUSE of GOD, and His People in New-England; Stated in a SER-MON of the Memorable Mr. JOHN HIGGINSON, unto the General Court of the Massachusetts=Co=10ny, May 27. 1663.

[On 1 King. VIII. 57, 58, 59.]

HE CAUSE of GOD and His People among 'us, is, The Cause of RELIGION. — That every Thing in Doctrine, Worship, and Discipline, be Conformed to and Regulated by, the Rule of the WORD.

WORD. When the Lord stirred up the Spirits of so many of His People to come over into this Wilderness, it was not for Worldly Wealth, or a better Livelihood for the Outward Man. The Generality of the People ' that came over, profess'd the contrary; Nor had we 'any Rational Grounds to expect fuch a Thing in fuch 'a Wilderness. Tho' GOD hath blessed His poor People here, and there are that have increased here, 'from small Beginnings to great Estates; That the Lord may call this whole Generation to witness, -O Generation see! Look upon your Towns and Fields, Look upon your Habitations and Shops, and Ships, and behold your Numerous Posterity, and Great Increase in the Bleffings of the Land and Sea; · Have I been a Wilderness unto you? We must needs ' answer, No, Lord, Thou hast been a Gracious GOD, and Exceeding Good unto thy Servants, even in these Earthly Blessings; we live in a more Plentiful and

. Com-

. 1

· p fa

ale

· H

'H

· On

6 be

and

go

atta

of a

Wc

drei

* Comfortable manner than ever we did expect. But these are but Additions; they are but Additional Mercies; It was Another and Better Thing, that we followed the Lord into the Wilderness for. This is never to be forgotten, That New-England is Originally a Plantation of Religion. And it any Man amongst us, make

Religion as Twelve, and the World as Thirteen, Let fuch an One know, he hath neither the Spirit of a True New-England Man, nor yet of a Sincere Chriftian.

'And the Cause is not Separation from any thing Good in other Churches. The End of our Coming hither was a Reformation only of what was Amiss or Defective in the Churches we came from. We distinguish between the Corruptions and Disorders of Churches, and the Churches themselves. So much for the Negative.

Now for the Affirmative. 'If my weakness was able to shew, what the Cause of GOD and His People in New-England is, according to its Divine Original and Native Beauty, it would dazzle the Eyes of Angels, daunt the Hearts of Devils, ravish and chain fast the Affections of all the Saints.

'First, This was and is our CAUSE, that CHRIST alone might be acknowledged by us, as the only Head, Lord, and Lawgiver in His Church; That His Written Word might be acknowledged as the Only Rule; That Only and All His Institutions might be observed, and Enjoyed by us, and that with Purity and Liberty, with Peace and Power.

'Secondly, I conceive our CAUSE is not barely a Reformation, but a PROGRESS in Reformation; To go on unto Perfection. A conceit of having already attain'd a Perfect Reformation, should be far from us.

— Our Fathers fled into this Wilderness from the face of a Lording Episcopacy, and Humane Injunctions in the Worship of GOD. Now, if any of us their Children should yield unto, or be Instrumental to set up in

in this Country, any of the Ways of Men's Invention, fuch as Prelacy, imposed Liturgies, Humane Cere-

"monies in the Worship of GOD, or to admit Ignorant and Scandalous Persons to the Lord's Table; This would be a Backsliding indeed! It would be a Backfliding to the Things which we and our Fathers have departed from, and have openly testified against, to be not of GOD.

'Thirdly, The Union of Reformers belongs unto this 'CAUSE; For there is not any one Duty more press'd by our Saviour CHRIST and His Apostles, than this of an holy and close Union among those that profess His Name. The best of Men may err; and there being divers Measures of Light and Grace, there cannot but be Different Apprehensions in some

* Things: And therefore, where there is not fo full an Agreement as is to be defired, it is our Duty to forbear one another in Love, Endeavouring to keep the

'Unity of the Spirit in the Bond of Peace.

'This is the Chief Interest of New-England; the Matter of greatest Importance in itself, and of greatest Concernment unto us. Whatever may be ' said of our Interest in other respects, yet we may be

' fure of This, that here lies our prædominant Interest and CAUSE; and the Great END for which we

the esteroid and L. level by an authority with product

SASSING FOR THE CONTROL OF THE SASSING AND ASSISTANCE OF THE SASSING ASSISTANC

secondary and COUNTY Assets on the control of the County o

* and Library, with Peace and Powers.

came into this Wilderness, and continue in it.

Mar events that all His and Could the

THE AMERICAN A STATE OF STATE AND A STATE OF THE PARTY OF

NUM-

·N

· tic

· L and unit

Number III.

NEW-ENGLAND's True Interest; further Declared, in the Words of the Honourable WILLIAM STOUGHTON, Esq; in a SERMON preach'd by Him, (in the Audience of the General Court, April 1668.) when He was a Preacher of the Gospel at Dorchester:

From which he was call'd Successively to many Stations of the highest Figure in the Civil Government; and when he died was Commander in Chief of the PROVINCE.

The Discourse is Entituled, NEW-ENGLAND's True Interest, From those Words, Isa. 63. 8. He said surely they are my People, Children that will not lie: So He was their Saviour.

THIS we must know, that the Lord expects great 'Things of NEW-ENGLAND, above any Nation or People in the World. And His Expectations herein are just and righteous. For

'As for special Relation to GOD; whom hath the Lord more fignally exalted than His People in this Wilderness?

- As for Extraction and Descent; O what Parents and Predecessors may we the most of us look back unto? Thro' whose Loins the Lord hath stretch'd forth the Line of his Covenant to take us in. - As for Restipulations and Engagements back again to GOD; What Awful Publick Transactions of this kind have there been among us? — As to our Advantages and Priviledges in a Covenant State, here Time and Strength would fail me, to reckon up what we have enjoy'd of this kind. — And then, As to New-

England's FIRST WAYS; What Glorious Things

might be spoken to the praise of Free Grace.

But, O! what a fad Metamorphosis hath there of later Years past upon these Churches and Plantations?

— It must be spoken in the Name of the Lord, O New-England, Thy God expects better Things from thee and thy Children; not Worldlyness; — not an itching after new Things and Ways—; not a drawing · loose in the Yoke of God?

Alas! How is New-England, in Danger of being loft even in New-England? How fadly may we lament it, that All are not Israel that are now in Israel? The First Generation have been ripen'd Time after Time, and the most of them gather'd in as Shocks of Corn in their Season; But we that rise up to tread out the Footsteps of them that are gone before us, Alas! what are we? It is a sad Name, to be stilled Children that are Corrupters. [Isa. 1. 4.] But are we not indeed many of us Corrupted, and that which is far worse, Corrupters? How is our Wine mixed with Water? Many, (as we may justly fear) would but too soon and too easily entertain a Lie in the Worship of God, and return to the Onions and Garlick of Egypt again.

The common Interest of the People of God, and of Us the Lord's People in special, is, the Interest of prastical Piety and Holiness; — the Interest of Unmixed Spiritual Gospel Worship; — the Interest of Unity and Peace in the Ways of Reformation: The Interest of these Things, and of just and righteous Liberties in order thereunto; The Times are coming and hastening more and more, wherein Faithfulness to God in all

thefe

0

to

G

.

.

. 1

· i

· fi

· h e n

· d

· d

· be

· b)

" fin

e in

· th

1540t.

these Things, will be the most glorious Crown that can be worn upon Earth; A Grown upon which it hall be graven, Here is the Faith and Patience of the Saints. This then is the Word of the Lord to His

' New-England Churches, Let no Man take this your Crown from you.

BEHLA

This Eminent Person goes on, and earnestly Advises the risen and rising Generation of this Land, to make Conscience, not only of being rightly informed in that Cause of GOD which we are here wrapt up in, and in adhering to those Things wherein the Lord hath hitherto preferved and bleffed His Churches and People, but alfo of getting a Sight and View of the Divine Beauty and Glory thereof. 'And truly, fays He, As to this Cause and Interest of GOD, there can be no other Foundations laid than those which have been laid. New-England's true and main Interest, the Cause of Christ in 'His Churches here, It is a fixed and unalterable "Thing: It is not now to be found out by any new Light, Let us take heed of inquiring of, or liftening, in this Matter, unto, the Determinations and Glosses of fuch as have had no Standing in the Ways of God here, but have been grafted in upon By-Accounts, or move in the Eccentrick Orb of some private Interest, diffinct from that of the whole. And let us also lay down this as a Rule, That what sever it is that bath been unanimously Rejected and Condemned in its Claims by the acknowledged most eminent Reformers in each Age, fince the Apostacy of Antichrist prevailed, this can never in these our Days, justify its Title to that Cause of Christ, that is to be maintained and contended for.

Core Tours will be the grove closion Crounding

The TESTIMONY Finished,

By Dr. INCREASE MATHER.

Cole was a not only of being Now these be the Last Words -

TAVING reviewed the Harmonious TESTIMO-NY of those Three Worthies in our Ifrael, our Memorable MITCHEL, our Venerable HIGGIN-SON, and our Honourable STOUGHTON, unto the CAUSE of GOD in the Churches of NEW-EN-GLAND, and the Great END of these Plantations, I do now with my DYING HAND Sign my Concurrence thereunto. I am now in the Eighty Fourth Year of my Age, and under a Feebleness in the Valley of the shadow of Death, wherein the LORD is yet a Light unto me, and makes it but a Shadow of Death; and I am every Hour waiting and longing for my Dismission to a Better World. In these very singular Circumstances, I am willing to add my TESTIMONY concurrent with the foregoing, and I do Declare, That the Principal DESIGN upon which these Colonies were at first Planted, was to Profess, and Practice and Enjoy, with undiffurb'd Liberty, the Holy RELIGION of GOD our SAVIOUR, Exhibited in the SACRED SCRIPTURES, and Reformed and Rescued from the Inventions and Abuses, which the Man of Sin has introduced; And, more particularly, To set up CHUR-CHES [Even of the Aboriginal Natives, as well as of English Christians] for our Lord JESUS CHRIST, that shall keep themselves Loyal to Him, their Glorious KING, in His Word, giving Law unto them; and faithfaithful to the Religion of the SECOND COM-MANDMENT; and free from those Offensive Things from which our UNITED BRETHREN, of the Presbyterian and Congregational Denomination in the English Nation have withdrawn themselves; and which our Honoured and Beloved BRETHREN, in the Renowned Church of SCOTLAND, have abolished and abandon'd.

It was equally defign'd by those Followers of the Lord into the Wilderness, when it was a Land not sown. That the pure and undefiled Religion deliver'd unto us in the Sacred Scriptures, (and Exhibited afterwards in our Confession of Faith,) should be continually Preach'd, and our Dostrines of Grace particularly afferted, by MINISTERS of Good Abilities; and Exemplary Godliness and Watchfulness, freely and fairly choien by the Churches whereof they are to be the Pastors. And it also belongs unto the Glory of these Churches, to be so Constituted, as Livelily to Exhibit the Kingdom of Heaven to the World; Both Debarring from their Communion fuch Ignorant and Scandalous Persons (who can't or won't Examine themselves) as are to be shut out from the City of GOD; And Admitting of all those (tho' in different Perswasions about lesser Points) of whom it may be Judged, That CHRIST has received them to the Glory of GOD. Our Foundation is in thefe Holy Mountains.

It is now accordingly the DYING WISH, of One that has been about Threescore and Six Years, after a poor manner, but I hope, with some Sincerity, serving the best of Masters, in the blessed Work of the Gospel; That the CHURCHES may Stand fast in the Faith and Order of the Gospel, and bold fast what they have received, and Let no Man take away their Crown. And, that the PASTORS would more Distinctly from Time to Time, and with proper Inculcations, acquaint the Churches with their True Interest; and those Things which will be their Beauty and their E e 2

2 0077

1

Safety. And confidering the Relation which I have here-tofore sustain'd as a President for Twenty Years, it is highly proper for me to leave it as also my more particular Desire, that the Tutors in our COLLEGES, from whence the Churches expect their Supplies, would see to have the Students well informed in the Points, which they must know and Serve, that so the WORK of GOD among us may not be marr'd by falling into Unskilful and Unfaithful Hands.

Indeed, I cannot but go away Rejoicing in it, That the Means, which are indefatigably used, for the drawing of unwary People into the Things that will not profit them, have had so little Success; and that the Body of the Sober People throughout the Country, (so far as I understand) generally continue to discover such a conspicuous Aversion to the Things, from the Face whereof their Fathers fled into the Wilderness: the at the same time, a too general Decay of that Real and Vital Godliness, which is to be the main Intention of all, is greatly to be bewailed. But there may be Danger of Another Generation arising, which will not know the Lord, nor the Works done by Him, and for Him, among His People here.

And therefore from the Suburbs of that Glorious World, into which I am now Entring, I earnestly Testify unto the Rising Generation, That if they sinfully Forsake the GOD, and the Hope, and the Religious Ways of their pious Ancestors, the Glorious LORD will severely punish their Apostacy, and be Terrible from His Holy Places unto them.

Now, The Lord our GOD be with you, as He was with your Fathers; Let Him not leave you, nor forsake you. LORD, Let thy Work appear unto thy Servants, and thy Glory unto their Children!

Novemb. 10. 1722. 2 00 58

The END of the Appendix.

The CONTENTS.

The General Discourse of CONGRE-GATIONAL CHURCHES.

	The state of the state of Ongregational Church what. Page	ेंग्र.
Congregational Churches inftituted.	2.
Principles on which they are founded.	JES.
These prefer'd to National Churches.	7.
Sentiments leading to the Congregational Way	8.
How the Tyranny of the Clergy forfaken in it;	ahen
	g.
Primitive Churches Congregational.
Reasonableness of Congregational Way.
Arguments against it answer'd.	12.
Congregational Churches the first Subject of	30013
	25.
The Reformation best desended from This.
How particular Churches came to be depriv'd 27.
Natural Light and Christian Prudence to be	90
used by the Churches in some Circumstances.	28 29.
Call to the Churches to observe the Rules of Rea	3
fon and Revelation and take Care of their	ban
Liberties.	Dag
Reasons of writing the Apology.	33.
Charity of the New-English Churches towards them that are not of their Way.	34-
The Diffinguishing I iberties of the New English	ann
The Diftinguishing Liberties of the New-English Churches maintain'd.
	35.
Chapter I. Their Right to chuse their Officers.	36.
Scriptural Proofs for it.	37.
Reasons for it.	39.
Objections answered.	42.
HT	roofs

CONTENTS.

₿

Proofs from ancient Writers.	44
Whence Churches deprived of this Right,	49
Protestant Writers for it.	49
Call upon Churches to abide by it.	50,
Chapter II. Their Right to ordain their Min	ifters.
Churches before their Officers; and no unit
rupted Succession and Ordination.	5T. 52.
Ordination by a Bishop or an Eldership.	53
Epiftles to Timothy and Titus neither Epifco	pal
nor Presbyterian.
People may ordain their Minister.	2
Antiquity no Stranger to This,	E100 x - W
Officers of Neighbour Churches may be c	or-
rupt or wicked.	59.
If not, they have absolutely no Right to ord	lain
Ministers over Neighbour Churches.
Elders of particular Churches may ordain,	£ 60.
So may Elders meeting in Council or Synod
	3 61.
Our Fathers' Thought of it.	3
Arguments and Authorities for it. Testimonies of the Ancients.	62.
The state of the s	71.
Chapter III. Their Right to fend forth Dele and call them to an Account.	The same of the sa
Scriptural and other Proofs of it.	73.
No Substitutions of Delegates.	74.
Passages from ancient Authors.	76.
The Churches exhorted to Watchfulness.	77.
Chapter IV. Their Right to depose and to	- draw from their Elders.
The Sentiments of our Fathers.	79.
The Reason of it.	80.
Antiquity for it.
They may certainly withdraw from Elders.	non la
The Scriptural Warrant for it.
F 4:	84.
Exhortation to maintain the Right.	noi 85.
	Chap-
	-

CONTENTS

Chapter V. Their Right to except against Approach of the Disqualified to Commun. The Sentiments and Expectations of these Churches, What reasonable for Candidates of Commun. Reason for the Right we claim, Scriptural Authority & primitive Antiquity. Churches exhorted to perform their Duty.	88.
Chap. VI. The Brethren's Right to deal with Brethren in Private and to judge in Publi The Opinion of these Churches. The Divine Warrant. How Discipline adminished. Sacred Proofs of the Church's Power. Reason of the Thing for it. Testimonies from Ancients. Testimonies from Moderns. How Churches and Brethren depriv'd of their Right. Elders not excluded from their Right. Manner and Circumstances of Discipline And Ends of it. When the Ends not answer'd, what then? Excommunication what. Against claiming infallible Authority and using Force.	93. 94. 96. 99. 101. 102. 103. 104. 105. 106. 107.
Persons composing Councils and Synods.	109. 110. 111. 112. Ibid.

CONTENTS.

8

The Scripture the Rule & Judge of Controvers	es.IIE.
Antiquity no Stranger to Brethren's Right.
Our Churches for this Right: They have it an ought to have it.	117.
They have not, nor want any Juridical Power.
Testimonies against such a Power.
Reasons against it.	121.
. Synods and General Councils may deceive and be deceived.
Proofs and Instances of it.	123-
Testimonies against Synods & General Council
If General Councils infallible, they have no J	The state of the s
ridical Power.	127.
Luther's Advice and Caution applied to the	fe.
Churches swo I whoreh O et a door I to to	128.
Chapter VIII. The Right of these Churches to hold	Communion with one another.
They may partake with one another.	130.
They may recommend their Brethren.	131.
They may propagate Churches.	Ibid.
They may communicate temporal and spiritual Relievand Support unto them.	132.
They may lawfully confult with one another.	Ibid.
They may admonish one another.	#33.
The Method of admonishing.	134.
There is a Confociation of these Churches.	136.
There ought to be such a Consociation.	138.
No great Confusion to be fear'd from it. Our Apprehension of this Method and its Neglect.	139.
The Conclusion, in a brief Address to the Churches.	140.
The state of the s	P. 142.
Part I. Specimens of the Catholic Principles of the Ne	A RIFOLS
English Churches. 2 00 58	147.
One Evidence of them	148.
Another particular Testimony to them.	149-
More General Testimonies to them.	151.
Part II. Proofs and Evidences of a Confociation of the	DOLLOW YORK STREET, N. P.
Churches.	167-
Part III. Containing a Vindication of the New-English Churches in Tundry particular Instances.	174
Part IV. Some Testimonies to the Cause and Work of GOD in the Churches of New-England	200
PINIS	NESCUS

